BLAINE RALLIED

The Remarkable Vitality of the ex-Secretary Has Once More-Rescued Him From Apparent Death.

His Physicians State That He Has Now Recovered From the Serious Relapse of Yesterday.

Mr. Blaine Passed a Peaceful Night, Which Was Very Like That of a Well Man.

Reports Late This Afternoon Say That He Is Resting Easily and is Very Much Better.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The remarkable vitality possessed by Mr. Blaine was shown in the rally he made yesterday afternoon and last night. At noon or shortly before it was the general belief shared by members of the family that the distinguished invalid could not recover, but the physicians, hoping against hope, relaxed none of their efforts to prolong his life, and he responded to the treatment and remedies in such a satisfactory manner that towards midnight Dr. Hyatt felt justified in returning to his home, where he remained throughout the night. His departure was overlooked by the watchers on the outside and until this morning it was supposed that the two physicians were in the house.

All night long the faithful patient vigil of the press representatives was maintained, but there was no incident to reward their watchfulness not to break the monotony of the long hours until shortly before 5 o'clock. Then the light in the chamber of the sick man was suddenly turned on full and in two or three minutes it was again lowered to the point at which it had burned ever since the night the family had retired. "What was the meaning of the brief illumination?" the watchers anxiously inquired of each other. Various speculations were indulged in, but none of them were correct, as subsequent events proved. In a minute or two Dr. Johnston appeared and was intercepted by a reporter. He said: "Mr. Blaine has passed a peaceful night. It was very like that of a well man. He has been awake only when it was necessary to give him medicine or nourishment."

"How soon will you return, doctor?" "As soon as I can get breakfast and have a bath."

"Will Dr. Hyatt remain at the house until you come back?" "Dr. Hyatt has not been in the house since about midnight," said Dr. Johnston. "Mr. Blaine's condition did not demand the presence of both of us, and he went home."

Shortly after this hour, 6 a. m., the front of the house was opened, and through the windows the interior exhibited signs of activity betokening the beginning of another day's work. The morning opened dark and murky; the air was chill with premonitions of more snow and the few early visitors hurried by the house without stopping to inquire of Mr. Blaine's condition. The fact that he was yet alive seemed to satisfy them.

Dr. Johnston, after remaining in the Blaine house all night, left for his home shortly after 6 o'clock. To a reporter the doctor stated that Mr. Blaine had enjoyed a peaceful sleep during most of the night and was only awakened at such times as it was necessary to give him nourishment or medicine. The doctor put a much more hopeful aspect to the case this morning but will not go into details further than to say the night has been a satisfactory one.

Up to 8:30 Dr. Johnston had not returned to the Blaine house and the only person who had visited the residence was the postman. An inquiry of the footman at the door met the response: "Mr. Blaine is about the same."

One of the closest friends of the stricken statesman and who was admitted to the sick chamber last night, passed the house shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and saluted the watchers said: "I do not think you will have to keep the vigil much longer. The light of the life of Mr. Blaine is going out and I do not think he will survive the next twenty-four hours. His present condition is a struggle between existence and the end which is likely to terminate at any moment."

At 11 o'clock Dr. Johnston, who had then been with his patient half an hour, stated to a reporter: "Mr. Blaine is very much better. He is as well as he was four days ago and has entirely recovered from the relapse of Saturday night and yesterday morning. He is quite cheerful this morning and I feel very much encouraged respecting him."

The answers to inquiries at the Blaine mansion during the afternoon ranged from "He is resting easily" to "He is very much better." There were few callers and none of note. Nearly every person who passed the house looked up at the curtained windows, and a few braved the appearance of the big mastiff lying at the main doorway and made bold to ask the servant at the entrance how the sick man was progressing.

Rev. Dr. T. S. Hamlin, pastor of the church of the Covenant, called at 1 o'clock. He came out in a few minutes. "Mr. Blaine is much better, they say," was his reply to a question.

Wanted to Be Messenger.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—The nine Republican candidates for Minnesota will meet in the governor's office at noon today. Nine votes will be cast for Benjamin Harrison, and the only question at issue is who shall be chosen as messenger to carry the returns to Washington. Nearly every one of the electors is a candidate for that position.

SUCCESS IS NOW ASSURED

Even Southern Governors are Appointing Delegates to the Great Deep Waterway Convention This Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—[Special to The Herald.]—Secretary Thompson and Maj. Baldwin said to The Herald correspondent today that the prospects for a large attendance of delegates to the deep waterway convention this week were far even greater than had been anticipated in any quarter. Mr. Thompson is continually receiving letters and reports from various states announcing the appointment of delegates, and added that those appointed will be on hand to take part in the proceedings.

Mr. Thompson says these reports do not come from states that are directly interested in the deep waterway improvement, but from such states as South Carolina and others in the South that it was not supposed would take part in the proceedings. The governor of South Carolina notified Mr. Thompson today that he had appointed delegates to attend the convention, and that he was very much interested in deep waterway movements.

BARTO AS COMMISSIONER.

The Sauk Center Statesman Said to Be Slated for the Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—[Special to The Herald.]—The shrewdest guess yet made here is that A. Barto, of Sauk Center, will succeed Judge Williams on the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. Steenerson and Gilman are prominently mentioned but the latter's attitude in the congressional fight is brought up against him. There is a determined effort to keep it away from the Twin Cities or Duluth. The farmers are afraid of appointments from the cities.

THE GREAT PANAMA CASE.

Thirty-One Witnesses Summoned for the Trial Tomorrow.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The new procurer general, M. Tanon, has summoned thirty-one witnesses for the great Panama trial which begins tomorrow. The parties to be put on trial tomorrow are M. Charles De Lesseps, the director of the Panama Canal company; M. Marius Fontane, secretary-general of the company; M. M. Cottu, of the firm of Reinach, Kohn & Co., and M. Gustave Eiffel, the distinguished engineer.

M. Charles De Lesseps has caused the English directors of the Suez canal company to be summoned as witnesses in his behalf. The indictment against the accused charges M. Charles De Lesseps, Fontane and Cottu with having employed fraudulent means to persuade people to believe in the existence of fallacious enterprises and imaginary influences or credit, thus causing divers persons to remit subscriptions that would not otherwise have been given.

The second of the indictments relates to the Panama canal loan of Dec. 8, 1889. The accused are charged with having tried to obtain subscriptions to this loan on false policies, their attempted swindling being only frustrated by circumstances independent of their intentions. Thirdly, it is alleged that the accused had misappropriated, or expended with a view to prejudice the interests of the bondholders, money given into their charge as trust deposits for specific purposes.

M. Gustave Eiffel is indicted as an accomplice in the alleged swindling operations and is accused of having received a share of the sums of money unlawfully procured from the public. M. Eiffel is also accused of having appropriated funds entrusted to him for the mandatory purpose of defraying legitimate expenses.

The Vote in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 9.—The ten Weaver and Field presidential electors were elected in Kansas by a plurality of 371 over the Harrison electors. The popular vote for Weaver and Field was 163,111, for Harrison and Reid 152,237, for the prohibition candidate 4530. There were no Cleveland and Stevenson electors nominated, the Democrats voting for Weaver and Field.

Earthquakes in Chile.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Herald's cable from Valparaiso says: Reports have been received by the director of the observatory at Santiago, from both the northern and southern provinces, of earthquake shocks Wednesday of greater severity than have been felt for many years. The shocks lasted from thirty to fifty seconds. Little damage was done.

A Conductor Killed.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 9.—Conductor W. R. Burnie, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago road, while in charge of the third section of train 78, east-bound last night, fell from his train about half way between Elida and Lima, O., and was instantly killed.

Failure at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 9.—The large boot and shoe firm of Dewey Rogers & Co. went into the hands of a receiver this morning and the failure has caused a tremendous sensation in business and banking circles here. The liabilities are $300,000 and the assets about $350,000.

A Station Burned.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

A word or two about Our Shoe Department may interest you. Owing to the unscrupulous buying of our late buyer, James H. Ratty, we find our Shoe stock with $20,000 Worth of more shoes than we had this time last year. He misrepresented us to manufacturers stating we were jobbers and bought in a great many instances ten, fifteen and twenty cases of one make of shoes. In one instance he purchased forty cases—of course, he being duly appointed our authorized buyer, we were compelled to accept the goods. The goods are paid for, but there is entirely too much money invested in that one department, and for this reason we will begin the Greatest Shoe Sale ever seen in the Northwest. We own the goods as cheap as any jobber in the Northwest, and will sell them at Jobbers Wholesale Prices. MONDAY MORNING this Sale on Ladies' Men's and Children's Shoes will begin.

GREAT IRON PRODUCER

The Past Year Was the Most Important to the Minnesota Iron District in Its History.

Discovery of the Mesaba Caused Greater Advancement Than Eight Years' Work on the Vermilion.

Great Activity on the Minnesota—The Zenith in Good Shape—Pioneer and Chandler Booming.

The year 1892 just closed has been the most important to the Minnesota iron district since the first shipment was made from the Vermilion range in '84, says the Vermilion Iron Journal. It will go down in mining history as having witnessed the discovery and development of the greatest iron range in the world—the Mesaba—practically unknown a year ago.

If the developments of the Mesaba range are as rapid and productive in '93 as during the past year, and there appears no good reason why they will not be, then the Mesaba range will take its place as the greatest producer of the entire Lake Superior country. Its advancement will eclipse that of the Gogebic, which was phenomenally rapid. Its record as a field of investment will excel anything in the history of iron mining, fewer wild-cat corporations being in existence and the richest capitalists having become interested.

With no idea of decaying the Vermilion range, the discovery of the Mesaba range has resulted in greater advancement of the iron industry of Minnesota than has the eight years of advancement on the Vermilion. An iron district that can in a single year show up such resources as will command the capital to build two railroads, with a prospective third one in sight, must possess the greatest known wealth, coupled with all the commercial advantages known to the manufacturing world. The discovery of the Mesaba range makes it absolutely certain that in few short years a second Chicago will spring up at the head of Lake Superior. Chicago never possessed the natural advantages that attach to Duluth and the Superior. While the Mesaba range will be forging to the front, unlike the other Lake Superior ranges, the Vermilion will advance with it. The location of furnaces at Duluth will contribute to the beneficial influences of the Vermilion range, and insure its prosperity with the balance of the iron district of the state.

The coming year promises to see the Vermilion with four and possibly five large shipping mines, for while the Pioneer and Zenith have made outputs they have been small. Developments at both these properties have now reached such stages as will enable the operating companies to make records of 300,000 tons each, thereby giving the range four of the six largest mines in the Lake Superior country.

We have experienced the reverses of the new country; we have encountered the difficulties of securing recognition among the capitalists. But now that all this has been overcome, thanks largely to the perseverance and enterprise of Duluth men, we may expect to see the country make such rapid strides as will astonish the mining and manufacturing world.

A BIG WINTER MONTH.

There Was Great Activity at the Minnesota Mine During December.

The most indifferent observer visiting the Minnesota mine would not fail to notice that there was a great air of activity at this, the greatest hard ore mine in the world. Particularly considering that this is the winter season when mining is usually carried on with less activity, one is surprised and somewhat assured by the manifest indications that the Minnesota company is pushing operations with an energy portending an increased season's work for 1893.

The soft ores of the Mesaba range are evidently not worrying the Minnesota people, and while they have a finger in the Mesaba pie, it is noticeable that they have not lost faith in hard hematite, having recently leased the "26" on the Eastern Vermilion.

In the month of December the Minnesota mined between 57,000 and 58,000 tons, an unusually large output for a winter month.

"We are employing more men this winter than last," ventured a journal representative to Assistant Manager Wallace last Tuesday.

"No," replied Capt. Wallace, "but we are mining more ore to the man. This is due to the fact that we have now completed all changes in the mine, incidental to the changing from the old to the new style of mining, which alterations have been going on for the past two years. The back stopping system is now in use in all parts of the mine, and ore that we were unable to mine before are now taking out without so great expense as it would have been under the old method. The mine throughout is in splendid shape for heavy work."

"The ore crusher which has now been in operation several days may be said to be entirely satisfactory. One or two slight changes will be made, heavier size pieces being one of them. When these changes are made we can crush 200 tons a day, which will be all the large chunks that will come from any one shaft. A system of screening will be used which will eliminate the smaller chunks and hence leave only the larger ones to go through the crusher, thereby lessening considerably the work of the machine. Yes, when we have the arrangement perfected, duplicate crushers will be put in at all the main shafts of the mine. Nos. 1, 3, 7 and 8 will be shafts worked with the greatest energy for the coming year."

"Our new hoisting plant will be ready for work early in February and will handle one cage in No. 7, two in No. 8 and one in No. 9. Philip Wagner, representing the manufacturers, Webster, Camp & Lane, of Akron, Ohio, arrived Monday and is superintending the final work of setting the plant."

The Minnesota has already in stock over 100,000 tons of ore.

WILL WORK THREE LEVELS.

The Zenith in Shape For a Large Output This Year.

Capt. N. Cowling, superintendent of the Zenith mine at Fly, gave some interesting information concerning the development of this promising shipper.

The main shaft is now down 360 feet and will be sunk to a depth of 425 feet before sinking is discontinued. At this depth the mine will have three levels for operation and be in splendid shape for an output next year of from 80,000 to 100,000 tons of ore. During the past season about ninety men have been employed, and about fifteen more are to be added within a week or two.

The Zenith made an output of a ton less than 15,000 tons in 1892, which was its first year of shipment. The Bradleys have had considerable to contend with, but have at last succeeded in placing the property on a solid basis and will be well rewarded for their work, as the product of the mine is a high grade hematite.

Capt. Cowling has been in charge of the mine's developments for the past three years and evidences of his industry and ability as a miner are evident in all that has been accomplished.

PIONEER AND CHANDLER.

Both These Properties Are Being Rapidly Developed.

The Chandler now has 100,000 tons of ore in stock and is hoisting at the rate of 300 tons per day. The shipment from the mine for the season of 1892 will not exceed the shipment of 1891 but will fully come up to it.

The new Pioneer shaft is down 210 feet in the foot wall. A new shaft house has been erected and two new additions to the engine house have been built, one for the boilers and the other for the compressor. The air receiver was shipped about a month ago from Chicago, for which the company is still waiting. Nevertheless the machine drills will be put in operation by Jan. 3.

AT THE CANTON MINE.

Active Mining Will Begin in About Six Weeks.

The Minnesota machine and blacksmith shops are busy at present on work for the Canton, the Minnesota company's Mesaba range property. Ten tram cars and two skips are a portion of the equipment being prepared for the Canton. A portion of the hoisting apparatus in No. 6 engine house will be sent to the Canton as soon as the new four-drum plant is in operation at the Minnesota.

Capt. G. W. Wallace visited the Canton Saturday and Sunday, and of which is now down seventy-eight and the other thirty feet. Shaft sinking has been delayed by water, but the shaft under new and larger boilers are now lighted and the pumps will now be able to keep the mine dry. They will commence to mine ore at Canton in about six weeks, and it is likely the property will make at least a 100,000 ton output in 1893.

Armstrong, recently while the Cleveland and later the Minnesota, is superintendent at the Canton.

WEST DULUTH'S FUTURE.

Is Now Entering Upon the Era of Her Greatest Progress.

A ruddy glow reflects from the cheeks of every West Duluthian as he turns his face to the future awaiting his adopted city; for at no time in her marvelous career has the immediate future been so full of promise as at the present, says the West Duluth Sun. It would but lessen well-based confidence to indulge in prophecy, be the vision ever so clear, when in the bright sunlight of facts may be seen the richest fruits of energy and well-directed enterprise now accumulating in the treasure store of West Duluth. The magnificent record of the past is gratifying beyond expression, but those who have watched the progress of events realize that she is just entering the era of her greatest progress and prosperity. We hear it, we feel it in the very atmosphere and on every hand are given the evidences. The brain and the brawn that has built up a peerless city here in a few years will surprise the world by their achievements in the next twelve months.

The work that has been so well done is but the beginning and these city builders will not rest until they have molded here on the shores of St. Louis bay a city of sufficient power and majesty to wrest from all others the crowning title of "Queen of the Inland Ocean." Call it the picture of fancy if you please. Is not "Duluth in the Future" as artistically produced by Proctor Knott in 1871, excellently the Duluth in reality of 1893?

And on the strength of past and present events Duluth's offspring, inheriting the elements that have made her great, may reasonably hope to add to the greatness of her name. With great enterprises—railroad terminals, ore docks, manufacturing industries—and harbor improvements being added to her already substantial industries and great natural advantages, it is not surprising that universally satisfied expressions on the faces of the New Pittsburgh bespeak bright hopes for the future.

An Opening Social.

The opening social of the First Methodist church will be given by the ladies of that congregation in the basement portion of the handsome new building next Friday. The ladies are making a united effort to have the affair a social success and Mrs. A. W. Bradley has charge of the reception committee and Mrs. Alice Edwards looks after the refreshment committee. An informal concert is being arranged and the following soloists will take part: Mrs. J. L. Thwing, Signor Sala, Sydney Brown and others. Mrs. Kate Long is the head of the concert committee. A celluloid souvenir of the church will be distributed during the evening while the guests are at supper.

Cars For the Missabe.

The Schoen pressed steel brake beam to be used on 600 cars now building for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. These cars will also have Schoen pressed steel center plates.

THEY ARE NOT OVERWORKED.

So Says Superintendent Denfeld of Duluth's School Teachers.

This morning the winter term of the public schools opened in this city and this evening the night schools also start again and will continue a couple of months longer. The report has been going the rounds that fourteen teachers have resigned during the holidays for the reason that so many duties and so much school work are crowded upon them that they cannot stand it without breaking down physically.

Superintendent Denfeld says that the report is false in every respect. Only four have resigned all this year and of those one has done so to go West with a brother, another will marry, a third goes to Minneapolis because she can get greater opportunities for carrying on private work in painting. The fourth, Miss Murdoch, is the only one who has resigned because of ill health. As to the teachers being overworked the superintendent says that each year the duties have been decreased until now they are materially lighter than eight years ago, when the schools were much smaller and each teacher had a wider and more varied line of work. When any teacher has found her duties onerous, the facts in the case invariably show that the condition of things is the result of insufficient preparation and knowledge of school work and methods of teaching, which can not be laid to the system nor the amount of work required.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.

Some Figures Showing the Business for the Year 1892.

The land office report for 1892 shows a great increase in business over 1891. Some of the figures are as follows:

No.	Acres.
Sales of public lands	414 29,619.29
Homestead entries	1,940 241,115.56
Preemption claims	15 2,520.00
Soldiers' and sailors' claims	18 2,167.00
Final homestead entries	42 2,340.00
Mineral claims	6 800.00
Agri-cultural college scrip	1 100.00
Timber and stone claims	223 62,760.00
Totals	2,660 31,241.84

In 1891 there were 1,226 filings covering 166,371 acres. The homestead entries of 1891 exceeded those of last year, there being 537 covering 80,085 acres.

HE IS AFTER IMITATORS.

Capt. McDougall Makes Some Significant Remarks On Patent Tresspassers.

Capt. Alex. McDougall comes to the front with a correction of the announcement recently that "the first camera built in the United Kingdom after the whaleback model originated by Capt. McDougall was launched recently from the yard of W. Duxford & Son, Sunderland, Eng., for Peterson, Tate & Co., of Newcastle-on-Tyne."

He says the craft was not launched by the company in which he is interested but by another concern, and then indulges in some significant threats against tresspassers upon the domain of which he claims to be the sole possessor. He says: "One of these days somebody will put their foot into it very badly. The vessel that was launched came rather close in some of its features to our patents, and we will endeavor to teach the owners a lesson. If the vessel ever comes to this country the owners won't know what struck them, and perhaps they won't anyway. We think that our inventions are pretty well covered by patents and we give it the most thorough attention. The West Duluth people had better go slow in making anything that approximates to the whaleback model. I think our company is well prepared to make a vigorous fight on any infringement."

Change of Business.

The Potomac company has changed hands. The Duluth house at 208 West Michigan street has been purchased by R. D. Arundell, W. B. Warren and D. E. Case, and the firm will be known as Arundell, Warren & Co. Mr. Arundell was formerly manager of the Minneapolis house. The latter has been sold to George M. and Frank Lucas.

Shrewd Settlers—Big Profits.

A large number of new settlers on the lands of the North Galveston association are farmers from the northern latitudes who have previously eked out a bare existence on poor lands, with the additional adverse condition of rigorous climates. What was considered a fair profit to them is as nothing compared to the profits derived from the cultivation of the various fruits and vegetables which are grown so profusely in Galveston county. It is not at all unusual for farmers in this county to make from $25 to $1000 a year per acre, in the raising of pears, plums, strawberries, etc., with about half the labor and inconvenience that attended their former efforts. The North Galveston association, through their local agent D. W. Scott, are offering splendid inducements at present, and by taking advantage of them the investor or settler in Galveston county cannot fail to reap abundant reward. The address of the General office is box 963, Minneapolis, Minn.

An Important Change.

The South Shore road has increased its passenger service from Duluth by putting on an additional passenger train, leaving here at 11 a. m. By taking this train passengers for the Gogebic range arrive at Huley at 4:15 p. m., a considerably shorter trip than by other routes.

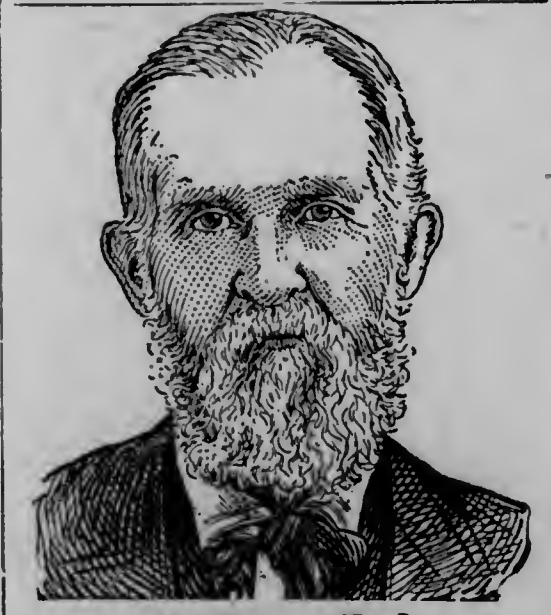

This train also makes direct connection with the Michigan Central for Saginaw, Detroit and all lower Michigan and Canadian points, and in the Union depot with the North Shore line limited for Buffalo, Rochester, New York and Boston.

The "Detroit Passenger" arrives at Mackinaw City twice in the morning, following its departure from Duluth, making close connection with the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad for Grand Rapids and all points South adjacent to that line.

The Boston express will leave Duluth daily at 7:30 p. m., as heretofore with Wagner buffet sleeping car attached, running through to Sault Ste. Marie and connecting there with Canadian Pacific train which has a sleeping car running through to Boston.

The Boston express make a close connection with the Milwaukee & Northern city line at Chicago, and with the Chicago & Northwestern at Neenah for Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Marinette and Green Bay.

Travelers between Duluth and the above points appreciate that this is the quickest and most comfortable route.

WAITING FOR OFFICE

There is Much Speculation As To What Appointments Will Be Made By Governor Nelson.

Strong Influences At Work to Oust Kiehle From the Office of Superintendent of Schools.

Maj. Libby Booked For Adjutant Generalship—Why Should the Surveyors Get All the Fees?

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—[Special to The Herald.]—The matter of appointments seems now to cut the biggest figure in the public eye of anything which is occurring during the short vacation of the legislature until this afternoon. Governor Nelson is not saying much. One of the most responsible positions to be filled is dairy commissioner. The Stillwater surveyor of logs and lumber has a sincere and the candidates are proceeding to make things lively in order to secure the job.

In fact, the present plan of collecting fees upon lumber surveyed constitutes more or less of a steal from the state. A salary of $5000 a year is regarded as ample for the surveyor general of logs and lumber at either Stillwater or Minneapolis, yet they collect in fees from $55,000 to $70,000 a year. If they were paid $5000 salary and the rest went into the state treasury it is the general opinion here that the tax payers would be much better satisfied. Candidates for these two positions are consequently not as active as they might be because they fear that some enterprising Alliance man or farmer may introduce a bill cutting off these financial perquisites.

The appointment of a superintendent of public instruction has caused the guessers more trouble than any other public office to be filled, because Kiehle has always been more or less of a close friend of Nelson's. Yet very strong influences are at work against him. Among the men who oppose him is said to be Congressman-elect McCleary, of the Second district, whom your correspondent has found very attentive to affairs around the capitol for some time. It is not believed that any change will be made in the head of the state grain inspection department, because it takes a man for the position who has had experience and who is a practical grain man. Both of these requisites are possessed by the present head of the department according to the feeling among the politicians. The appointment of adjutant general is also creating a good deal of interest in military circles. Maj. Libby seems to be the probable selection.

There will be one vacancy in the state prison board and also in the state board of corrections and charities. The term of Gen. Norrish, of Hastings, expires in the former and of Mr. McIntyre, of Red Wing, in the latter. Gen. Norrish has been twenty years on the board and his knowledge is invaluable. It is not probable that he will be dropped. The same may be said of Mr. McIntyre, and he will also probably be retained. Governor Nelson states that he is going to take plenty of time when changes are to be made to make his appointments and it is probable that no changes will be made without due consideration. On Saturday he reappointed Moses D. Kenyon as public examiner and L. G. Powers as commissioner of labor statistics.

The matter of special legislation which has been abolished by an amendment to the constitution, is already making people mad. In a rapidly growing state like Minnesota with a large territory that has not yet been surveyed, it seems to be the opinion of leading politicians that it was unwise to shut off legislation. The city attorneys who have been engaged in drawing up a general act to apply to government of municipal corporations have found it almost impossible to draw a bill which will apply to all cities with an equal degree of smoothness.

The capitol building is fast becoming superannuated in the matter of room for the respective departments and in the conveniences which should be perfect. The house is now uncomfortably crowded and the senate has not any too much room for senators' desks.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

A Six-Story Building Destroyed With Loss of a Quarter of a Million.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—This morning fire was discovered in the six-story building, Nos. 45 to 47 Elizabeth street, occupied on the first three floors by Frederick Dollace, furniture dealer, and by Berliner Strauss and Altman Summer & Co., neckwear manufacturers.

The structure was completely destroyed and a loss of $250,000 sustained. The fire was discovered by the elevator man in the third floor of the building, and he quickly gave the alarm to the 300 employees who had just started the work for the day.

Many of these were girls employed by the two neckwear factories and there was considerable excitement among them for a time, but all were gotten from the building in safety.

TWO CONDUCTORS REMOVED.

A General Shaking-Up on the Burlington Is Expected.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 9.—The Keokuk division of the Burlington system has discharged two of its oldest passenger conductors and has a third under suspension. The men discharged have been in the service of the company over fifteen years.

No reason is given for their dismissal, but it is feared a general shaking-up is about to be inaugurated. The order of railway conductors held a meeting here yesterday, and the cases of the three men were touched upon, but what action was taken is kept a secret.

Opened to Foreigners.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Herald's cable from Panama this morning says Colombia has opened the port of Nombre de Dios to foreign commerce. An important mine of manganese worked by American capitalists is located here.

NO CHARGES PREFERRED.

The Plot Connected Against Archbishops Satolli and Ireland.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—The announcement that Archbishop Ireland had preferred charges at Rome against Archbishop Corrigan, created excitement here in the home of the former. The archbishop declined to make a statement, but directed Rev. John Conway, editor of the Northwestern Chronicle, who stands nearer to Archbishop Ireland than any other Catholic in this vicinity, to make one. Rev. Conway said:

"The news from Chicago regarding a conspiracy against Archbishops Satolli and Ireland has been received in St. Paul with much surprise. Many will doubtless be astonished at it. The people at large heard rumbling noises, but they never dreamt such a plot was concocted. The libelous pamphlet written by Archbishop Corrigan's Italian secretary, the effusion of Miss Eades, a garrulous old maid, who is the Rome correspondent of the New York Catholic News; the dispatches purporting to have come from Boston and other cities outside of New York, yet all having the same purpose, the plethora of anonymous letters published pointed clearly to the existence of a conspiracy against the representative of the holy father.

"As to the statement that Archbishop Ireland has preferred charges in Rome, there is no necessity for his doing so, for Rome's representative is here, in the person of Archbishop Satolli. Moreover, he has just learned the clear evidence from the Post upon which charges could be based."

Further than this statement from Dr. Conway, nothing can be had now, but there is good reason for believing that no such charges have been formally preferred.

PUMMELED BY THE COURT.

The Dignity of the Court Fully Vindicated by an Illinois Justice.

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 9.—There was a sensational scene in the office of Justice J. B. Provost Saturday evening. In the presence of several witnesses Justice Provost assaulted Constable Dillehunt, knocking him down three times and finally forcing him to pay $2.

Dillehunt had just taken a receipt for $20 which the squire did not count. The constable said that he had been told after Dillehunt had disappeared. The money was $2 short. Dillehunt was called back and his attention called to the error in the count.

The constable called the justice a liar and the fight took place under rough and tumble rules. Dillehunt, after the dignity of the court had been vindicated, paid the justice the $2.

FIVE PERSONS INJURED.

Collision Between a Street Car and a Locomotive in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Five persons were injured at a late hour last night in a collision between a street car and a New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio locomotive at the Union street crossing.

A Newburg belt line electric motor going towards the city was approaching the crossing at a high rate of speed. The approach to the track on Union street at that point is down grade. The motor man lost control of his car on account of the slippery condition of the rails and it dashed into a freight engine which was crossing Union street.

The motor car was badly wrecked and the following named persons were injured: J. Peacock, bruised on the head; Arthur Tasler, cut in face with glass; William L. Luddell, cut in face and head; Mrs. Mary Welch, bruised about the head; William Carter, badly injured in back and arms by ised.

STORM MOVED EASTWARD.

Cold Weather in New York and New England For Tonight.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A severe storm has moved southeastward from the Saskatchewan valley and is central this morning over Georgian bay. This storm has been attended by westerly gales and snow over the lake regions. A moderate cold wave has visited the South Atlantic and the east Gulf states.

A cold wave has appeared in the Northwest with a fall in temperature of twenty to thirty degrees, and minimum temperature ten to sixteen degrees below zero in the valley of the Red river of the North. In the Mississippi and Ohio valleys there has been a decided rise in temperature.

Much colder weather and heavy snow is indicated for the lower lake region, New York and New England tonight Tuesday. A moderate cold wave will overspread the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys by tonight and will reach the middle Atlantic coast Tuesday.

A DOCTOR SHOT DEAD.

Did Not Attend a Drunken Finn Whose Skull Was Fractured.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 9.—Dr. Melosh, physician at the Portage Entry stone quarries, was mortally wounded Saturday night by Erick Kangas, who shot him for refusing to attend promptly to a drunken Finn, whose head was cut and skull fractured by Emil Hinden. The ball entered the doctor's right side between the ninth and tenth ribs and penetrated to the liver. The doctor died yesterday.

Miss Fair is living with her sister, Mrs. Oelrichs. She is not quite 19. She has $2500 a year income, and in six years, when she will be 25 years, she will inherit $1,500,000. ## Ordway Not In It.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 9.—A dispatch from Washington announces that ex-Governor Ordway has concluded not to come here to make a fight for the senatorship. One of his friends in the legislature made a canvass of the members on Friday and Saturday and discovered that he could not secure more than six votes, and that a trip to Bismarck would be wholly useless.

A LIVELY MOOSE HUNT.

Dr. Camp Has an Exciting Experience in the Rainy Lake Region.

The moose hunt and chase is the subject of many wild and wooly stories, but none of them, however glossed over with the hints of fiction, can much exceed in interest a story the Minneapolis Tribune has heard of the experiences last fall of two well known Minnesota sportsmen in the woods of the far north of this state.

The sportsmen were Dr. Wheaton, of St. Paul, and Dr. J. L. Camp, of Brainerd. In the party also was the well known Northerner, W. E. Seelye, of Brainerd, who is as well posted regarding the northern wilderness as any man in the state. The party organized at St. Paul to make the exploration of the great upper lakes of the state, Leech and Winnebago, and to go from there through the boundary line, at the Rainy river, and thence cross the Lake of the Woods, coming out by the Canadian Pacific, Winnipeg, all of which they succeeded in doing, without the loss of "a man or a dollar."

Dr. Camp had quite an exciting experience on the Big Fork to the Rainy. He and an Indian hunter determined to go moose hunting in the night without the others' knowledge.

Slipping away from the rest of the party, and taking the cook with them—making three in the canoe—they started off down stream. Scarcely had they left the camp fire that the moose came into the swampy edge and began to follow along the bank of the bank of the river. They snorted and bellowed, and made a very far from comfortable noise as the plumed along the bank, keeping pace with the canoe, but so keeping under cover of the overhanging banks as to avoid shots. Dr. Camp was only with a shotgun, though loaded with buckshot, and as it happened, the only other gun along was the cook's gun.

Finally, at a bend of the stream, the canoe rounded up, as the noise of the snorting and cracking of the brush indicated, right toward one of the animals. Calling on the Indian paddler to swing into shore, Dr. Camp, thrusting his gun, as it seemed to him, right in the face of the fellows, whose enormous outlines he could just make out in the gloom, fired both barrels.

At the moment the canoe struck the shore, and the doctor, having thrown two more shells into his gun, saw that the animal was lunging forward toward him, while at the same time the "blowing" told him that his adversary was reinforced by plenty of others. He "whaled" away at the one nearest and could not make out that the moose was trying to clamber up the bank of the river. He threw in the last shells he had, and fired into the air.

The animal floundered up the bank, scarcely a gun's length away, and evidently intending to flee. Dropping his empty gun, the doctor drew his hunting knife, and followed up the bank. The animal was attempting to walk or run with his hind parts. His immense horns slashed around in a way that rendered approach dangerous. The cook, by this time having landed, put an end to the kicking by a ball from his gun.

The doctor found that he had, in the shot when the animal swung broadside to him in the close range, blown sixteen buckshot through his back and all his ribs, and the animal would doubtless have been upon him in short order.

At the camp, Dr. Wheaton and companion, here at the waters and set out in the darkness. They made calls, but were too far away to be heard until the fusillade of Dr. Camp began. They then took make out and made all haste, and arrived in time to help to bring in some of the moose meat for an evening's lunch. The large moose, what they estimated to be 1500 pounds.

BOGUS SPIRIT PICTURES.

An Indianapolis Man Has a Wraith Photographer Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Foster, the spirit photographer, who was arrested Friday night upon a warrant charging her with receiving money under false pretenses from W. T. Hancock, was arraigned in the squire's court Saturday morning.

Her offense was making and selling bogus spirit pictures. Her case was continued, however, until today and the witnesses sent immediately before the grand jury, where an investigation was held. It developed that Mr. Hancock was not the only person who had been paying Mrs. Foster for her so-called "spirit photographs" and seances.

A number of well-to-do people of the city have hence her art. Hancock's rival in the city and it is said that she has taken in considerable money by her mysterious practices.

The arrest was prompted by the discovery of pictures already printed upon the photographer's plates, which was afterwards easily developed and showed the imposture. Hancock says he has paid her many hundreds of dollars and that she never succeeded in getting a good picture of his dead child.

Not the Right Man.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 9.—President Leach, of the City National bank of this city, and Detective Daily reached Baldwin yesterday but failed to identify the prisoner held as the absconding bank teller William Pope. The man proves to be a tramp, who wanted to get a free ride as far north as Louisville. He bore a most remarkable resemblance to Pope and any one not knowing Pope intimately, as did President Leach, would have made the mistake made by Sheriff Johns.

Senator Kenna Improving. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Senator Kenna continues to improve and is slowly but surely regaining his strength. An inquiry at the residence of the senator at 9 o'clock this morning elicited the response that he had had another good night and was resting very comfortably.

The Land of Flowers.

Three hundred and eighty-one years ago, the romantic Ponce de Leon, searching for the fabled fountain of youth, set foot on a land so adorned with blossoms of every kind and hue that he named it Florida—land of flowers. To most Northerners, Florida suggests only a refuge for invalids and consumptives, or a place whence come oranges and other semi-tropical fruits. The state, however, has something of a history. Where Ponce de Leon landed was founded St. Augustine, the oldest settled town in the United States, and now a famous winter resort. In 1763 Florida was ceded by Spain to Great Britain, in exchange for as a ransom for Cuba, on which the British had laid its paw. In 1783, at the close of our Revolutionary war, England ceded the territory back to Spain, not desiring a possession surrounded by the rebellious colonies. In 1810 Spain ceded Florida to the United States, and she was admitted to the Union in 1845. Since the war of the Rebellion, material development has been rapid in Florida—railroads have been built, much Northern capital invested, and great improvement manifested. If intending to make a trip to Florida—and now is the time—be sure that your railroad ticket is via the Burlington, which affords choice of routes by either Chicago or St. Louis. Apply to any coupon ticket agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, St. Paul, Minn.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure sick headache.

A Weak Digestion strange as it may seem, is caused from a lack of that which is never exactly digested—fat. The greatest fact in connection with Scott's Emulsion appears at this point—it is partly digested fat—and the most weakened digestion is quickly strengthened by it.

The only possible help in Consumption is the arrest of waste and renewal of new, healthy tissue. Scott's Emulsion has done wonders in Consumption just this way.

Charles Prince, a Gay Barber, Had His Throat Cut With One of His Own Razors.

His Outraged Wife, Smarting Under the Burden of Her Wrongs, Tried to Take His Life.

She Tells a Harrowing Story of Unfaithfulness and Neglect—Prince Will Recover.

Residents in the vicinity of Twentieth avenue west were greatly excited shortly after midnight last night by the hurried rushing of the patrol wagon about the streets and a rumor soon spread about that the wife of Charles Prince, a well known barber about town, had been attacked by his wife and had his throat cut. A daylight investigation revealed the truth of the report with the following additional details:

Prince is a good barber, but a poor husband, and instead of giving his earnings or a greater portion of them to his wife for the support of her and the two little children, he has been spending a great portion of his cash on a sister of his wife's, named Amelia Schamper, a widow, who is employed at the Merchants' hotel.

On Saturday evening, another barber named Penny, who is a hard working steady man, upbraided Prince for his actions in a pretty severe manner and Prince went to his home at 117 Twentieth avenue west where they have rented the second story from G. Anderson for the last three or four months. A quarrel of some description arose there but Prince had evidently retired to bed when his wife cut his throat in two places with a razor, and ran from the house taking the oldest child in her arms. She was clad only in her night dress and went to Mr. Anderson's house at a quarter to 1 o'clock and gained admittance. Her night dress was drenched in blood and she was in a highly excited state. It was some time before the Andersons could find out what had happened and then she said that she had cut her husband's throat.

In the meantime Prince had got up and the neighbors had flocked in, and the wounded man was taken to Dr. Wilson's office, where Drs. Wilson and Bakke attended to the wounds. One cut was directly across the trachea and the other alongside the neck, about five inches long, reaching from the side of the neck to the throat. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the patrol wagon, where he is resting easily and will recover.

morning by a Herald reporter, to whom she told the following story: "I was married to Prince at Chicago in November, 1888. He drank considerably at times and on several occasions abused me in various ways. Finally he and another barber, in a row, broke several ribs of a man named Cole and to escape prosecution, we fled to Duluth. In 1891 the husband of my sister, Mrs. Amelia Schamper, died and we took her and her four children into our home. Those children were in the woman's home and during the past two years not only has my husband kept up an improper intimacy with my sister right under our own roof and right before my eyes but has repeatedly twitted me of the fact that I was in a delicate condition before he married me, told me that Amelia was the only one he cared for, that they would get rid of me and then they could love each other unmolested. I also understand that he told certain parties that he would poison me to get rid of me. He has beaten me and at one time pounded the baby boy until he was black and blue."

"He came home late Saturday night. I felt certain that he had been up to see my sister and when he was asleep in our other room, in my sister's bed, I cut him across the throat with an old razor he had left about the house."

It also appears that Mrs. Prince had consulted with the city attorney with a view to prosecuting the guilty couple but he told her that the law was defective in the act, the law afforded no relief. It was then planned to conceal a detective on the premises, but Mrs. Prince cut matters short by her execution early this morning. She is a nice appearing woman, apparently of German extraction and bears an excellent reputation among her neighbors. There is much sympathy around the city hall and efforts were instituted just before noon to get the woman out of the city jail.

A visit to the house showed a trail of blood leading from a back bedroom on the second floor across the parlor carpet and down the stairs onto the avenue. The wall of the stairway was spattered and the bed clothes were liberally sprinkled with blood. There was no disarrangement of the furniture but a quantity of clothing was scattered about the room.

Mrs. Prince was released at noon today owing to a defect in the complaint, but will probably be rearrested.

MAJOR O'BRIEN DEAD.
He Succumbed to the Ravages of Acute Bright's Disease.

Although not unexpected the announcement of the death of Major Moses O'Brien, which occurred at his apartments at the Brighton yesterday morning, will bring genuine grief to the hearts of many Duluthians.

The major settled in Duluth in 1871, and has been a very successful business man. He leaves a wife, but no children. He succumbed to the ravages of acute Bright's disease. He was a rather remarkable man in many ways, and though rather quick to resent any imposition he was of a gentle, christian disposition which clearly swayed his public and private career. He was 54 years old at the time of his death.

Very many of the early settlers in Duluth have good cause to remember the major's kindly acts to them in times of urgent need. Until within the past five years he maintained an active business life and was particularly prominent in all measures for the real advancement of his chosen home.

A little over four years ago he retired from business but kept up an active part in the social world of which he and his wife were prominent members.

The interment will be at the Catholic cemetery and the funeral services will be from the pro-cathedral tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

There were appointed in the United States district court at St. Paul on Jan. 4 three commissioners to appraise certain lands on Minnesota Point which the government will condemn. The purpose for which the land is wanted is expressed in the following clause from the condemnation notice: "Which said land is necessary to enable the secretary of war to erect and maintain a station for the preservation of a primary base line for the United States lake survey, the same being the fixed points upon which all the lake surveys in that vicinity depend."

ON THE GRAIN RATES

The Railroads Are Not Likely to Grant a Preferential to Minneapolis Without a Struggle.

Northern Pacific Cannot Consistently Charge Less Rates to Minneapolis Than it Does to Duluth.

If Courts Sustain the Order, the Great Northern's New Air Line Will be a Certainty.

An attempt was made in St. Paul on Saturday to secure expression of opinion from the various railroads interested concerning the interstate commission's decision on the grain rate question, but there was a very general disinclination to talk. Whether an effort will be made to contest the decision or not could not be ascertained. It was conceded, however, that the wheat-carrying business of the Dakotas, or at least of a considerable portion of them, is too valuable to relinquish without a struggle.

One railroad man expressed the opinion that $1,000,000 annually would not approach the total benefit which the Northern Pacific will derive from the decision if no efforts were made to counteract it. Should the decision be sustained by the courts there seems to be no question but that a direct line will be built by the Great Northern from Duluth to tap its Dakota territory.

The following opinion on the legal aspects of the case was obtained from S. L. Perrin, assistant counsel of the Omaha: "The effect of that decision will depend in great measure upon the action of the Northern Pacific. The situation of the other lines is peculiar. It is about an equal distance from most of the Northern Pacific stations in the wheat belt of the Dakotas to Minneapolis or to Duluth. With the other roads it is different, as they lack the direct Duluth connection from this territory. The Northern Pacific has always insisted, and it seems to me with considerable force, that the difference in the outshipments from Minneapolis as compared with those from Duluth on that road is not of itself sufficient to justify the making of any considerable differential in favor of Minneapolis over Duluth on wheat. On its face it would seem that that company cannot consistently charge less to Minneapolis than it does to Duluth from the major portion of its territory. If it is obliged to meet competition by shorter lines to Minneapolis from its junction stations it must charge more to Duluth than it does to Minneapolis or it must reduce its Duluth rate, which will make the situation after the reduction practically what it is now."

Referring especially to the effect of the decision upon the Omaha, Mr. Perrin thought it may tend to bring into force a system of rates which would divert grain shipped from their territory from Minneapolis to Chicago. If the rates from that territory to Chicago are made less than or even equal to the Northern Pacific rates from the adjacent territory to Duluth, grain shippers would probably prefer Chicago as their objective point.

At neither the Northern Pacific nor the Great Northern offices could any expression of opinion be obtained. At the Milwaukee offices there was a manifest disposition to await the issue of events.

DULUTH'S ADVANTAGES.
They Are Enough to Secure a Flourishing Grain and Flour Business.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The reduction in flour rates referred to is not granted, and, despite assertions to the contrary, there is no reason to think that it ever will be. The commission did not consider that the question was properly before it at all. If the flour rate from Minneapolis to Duluth alone is in question, what is traffic wholly within the boundaries of the state of Minnesota, and the interstate commerce commission has no jurisdiction. If the through rate is considered, then it must be objected to as a whole, and all the parties engaged in making it must be heard.

The commission, as the whole tenor of its remarks on flour rates, will show, is disinclined to interfere in any particular that will help to give one city any advantage over the other. Minneapolis has the advantages of its situation, among them nearness to the wheat region and a connection with the Chicago lines of transportation.

Duluth has its advantages, among them the foremost being its place at the head of the Lake Superior route. The interstate commission will not attempt to increase or lessen what nature has done for them relatively. It has corrected what it believes calculated to injure one and benefit the other. It is hardly probable that it will go further.

At the same time, no harm and no injustice to Duluth will follow. That city is destined to greatness by the force of its natural advantages. These are great enough to secure to it a high place and a flourishing business of its own, without detracting from what belongs to another. And Duluth needs no artificial or unfair advantage in the race. * * * These cities have good reason to be satisfied, and Duluth is so well equipped for her own work and her own future that she requires no unfair advantage and has no need to complain.

"A VICTORY FOR MILWAUKEE."
The Grain Rate Decision From a Cream City Standpoint.

President Bacon, of the Milwaukee chamber of commerce, stated on Saturday that the decision on the Duluth flour rate was a victory for Milwaukee in that it gives this city the same advantages as Minneapolis, while a contrary decision would have worked great injustice and hardship to the milling interests of Milwaukee.

"The Milwaukee chamber simply intervened in the case, and opposed the reduction of flour rates from Minneapolis to Duluth," said Mr. Bacon. "We took no part in the case so far as the question of rates from points in the interior to Minneapolis and Duluth were concerned, as this city had no direct interest in it. We felt, however, that Minneapolis had good ground for claiming a difference in its favor in rates from a large portion of the territory, in view of the difference in the distance, the difference being from thirty to seventy miles in favor of Minneapolis. The commission grants that part of the application. In my judgment it is just. The decision grants to Minneapolis, in reference to its competition with Duluth, the application of the principle in making rates which Milwaukee has also been contending for for several years, in reference to Chicago, which points have been practically conceded by the railroad people, only, however, in reference to points within a distance of about 100 miles of Milwaukee."

ALL ON AN EQUAL FOOTING.
A Move That Concerns the Whole Head of the Lakes.

Superior Leader: It is now clear that the transfer, sorting and switching business of all the railroads centering at Superior will soon be concentrated at points outside of the city. The Omaha has purchased lands east of the Nemadji river and the Northern Pacific is looking up a location just south of the Pokegama where it may join hands, if thought proper, with the Great Northern and the Duluth & Winnipeg.

This new move must necessarily have a widespread effect on the entire head of the lake. When the scheme shall have come to perfection it will place West Duluth, Duluth, East Superior, More East end, South Superior, the West end and all other points at the head of the lake practically on an equal footing as to terminal facilities and charges. Heretofore some localities have had sharp advantages over others. The new arrangement will wipe out those advantages and place all on an equal footing.

If there is to be a great community at the head of the lake it must be laid out in every respect on a great plan and the most necessary features of that plan are vast and liberal terminal facilities which shall serve everybody equally well for equal charges.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.
Various Matters of Routine Business Transacted Saturday Evening.

The consideration of accounts was the principal business that came before the board of education Saturday night. President Richardson was absent, whereupon F. W. Paine presided. The monthly bills amounted to $1,561.88 and $4,507.70 interest on bonds allowed to January 1. Including estimates on Fairmont and Jefferson schools, the bills aggregated $25,000.

Resignations were received from Winifred Everhard, Elizabeth Craig, Mary Kobe and Ada Hogan, teachers. All were accepted and the first three were made to take effect at once and Miss Hogan's on Feb. 3. Miss Mary McConnell was chosen to work in the seventh and eighth grades in the Edison school while Miss Jennie McConnell will do primary work in the same school.

N. C. Harvey & Co. were awarded the contract for placing gas fixtures in the Edison school and the Edison school & Steele caught the contract for supplying sixty dozen folding chairs at $7.50 per dozen.

THE ONEOTA DRE DOCKS.
A Channel to the Docks to be Dredged by the Mississippi Road.

Alfred Merritt was interviewed regarding an article in Saturday's News Tribune respecting the Oneota docks and said:

"Some of it is true but most of it is not true. As regards the claim that the dock will be only 1,000 feet from the channel, it is 2,420 feet. This distance we will have to dredge ourselves as the channel will be for private use. The main or government channel, as understood by the first five miles from the dock to the top of the hill. Gulbrai Brothers of West Duluth, have a three and a half mile contract on top of the hill and eight miles of grading further west is let out to parties as station work. This work is to be done by May 1st. The superstructure of the dock will be done by day work and George J. Anderson will supervise the work."

IS THERE MORE FRAUD?
More Cutting of Timber On an Indian Reservation.

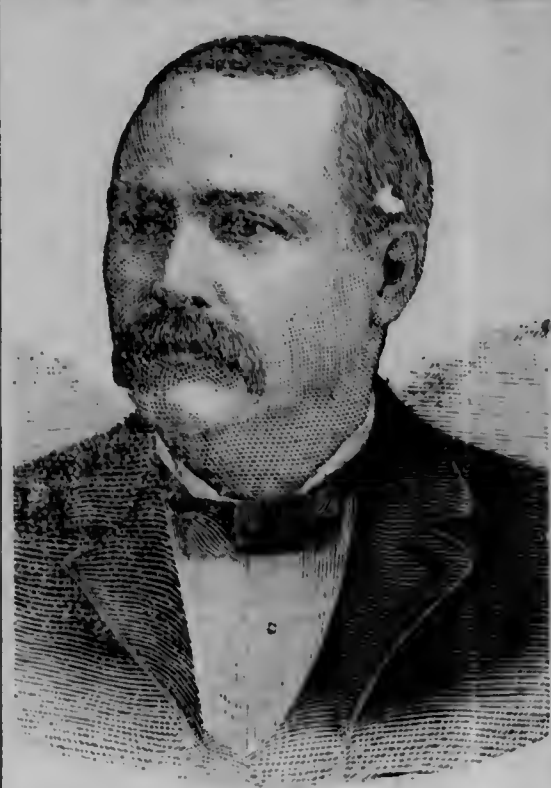

The recent dismissal of Indian Agent Leahy from the service for crookedness in reservation timber deals arouses a suspicion, says the Vermilion Iron Journal, that there may be some more of his illegal work in ordering about 500,000 feet of timber cut on the Vermilion reservation near Tower, which has been contracted to the Howe Lumber Company.

The letters received by Farmer McDonald authorizing the cutting are not from the Indian commissioner himself, but purport to be copies of the commissioner's letter received by Mr. Leahy. The Journal is not informed, but it might trouble Mr. Leahy to produce a letter from the commissioner authorizing the cutting.

A Camp Fire.
Willis A. Gorman, post No. 13 C. A. R., will have a great camp fire Wednesday evening in the Hayes block hall. "The Tramp Soldier," a dramatic skill, will be given by Dr. Faulkner and others. Miss Margaret McDonald and A. W. Leahy will sing and Rev. Father Corbett will make a short address.

Real Merit
Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more—proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive medical fact is used in the Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus peculiar to itself and absolutely unequalled in its power as a blood purifier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving nerve strength.

That inure to Duluth's supremacy than any other Duluth paper. It is essentially the women's paper; its bright and crisp society gossip, its many features pertaining directly to the homes, and the recognition of the cause of the gentle sex make THE EVENING HERALD especially of interest to them.

The independent course pursued by THE HERALD in politics has won for it many friends who are not prejudiced by party ties, and who approve of a fearless newspaper, but who loathe and despise a hide-bound organ, that only reverberates the sentiment of some party platform that has nothing in common with Duluth or her varied interests. THE EVENING HERALD has given several examples of its independence the past year and will continue to do so whenever in its opinion the good of Duluth demands it. If you do not take it, subscribe for it.

The business man reads it and advertises in it to the exclusion of all others, because it GIVES THE NEWS and is read by double as many readers as all other Duluth papers.

The laboring man and the artisan want THE EVENING HERALD because it is delivered fresh from the press at a time when his day's labors are ended and he has the long winter evenings to read to himself and family all the day's happenings of his own city and from every nook and corner of a busy and heedless world.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT.

The Members of the A. O. H. Remember Their Worthy President.
At a regular meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., held Saturday evening, President J. Callahan was taken by surprise in being made the recipient of a magnificent solid gold watch and chain from the division of which he is the president as a token of the esteem in which he is held. That Mr. Callahan was surprised would only be natural, but he recovered after a few moments and delivered a short but timely address thanking the division most heartily. Mr. McMahon's presentation speech expressing the esteem and love of the division for its worthy president was a fine one.

DROPPED NINETY FEET

Frank Smith, an Iron Worker, Fell From the Top of the Torrey Block Today.

He Recovered Consciousness, But Died a Few Moments After Reaching the Hospital.

He Came Here From Chicago and Was Employed on the Structural Iron Work.

A fall of ninety feet is an awful thing to think of and causes an involuntary shudder, yet Frank Smith took a dive through space this morning for about that distance and strange to say lived for half an hour. He was an iron worker employed on the iron structural work on the new Torrey block next to the Brighton hotel. He was working on the rear of the block at the topmost point, eight stories above terra firma. In some way, no man knows how, he slipped and fell to Michigan street, alighting on the frozen ground and pieces of brick which were scattered about.

The horrified workmen about the building rushed to the poor fellow's assistance and found him senseless and bleeding. He recovered consciousness very quickly and remarked that he would be all right in a little while. It was not to be, however, and within fifteen minutes after reaching St. Luke's hospital where he was taken at once, he died from a hemorrhage of the brain. His hip was crushed and his fingers broken also.

Smith came from Chicago to work on the block. He was 26 years old and unmarried. His body will probably be shipped to Chicago.

MADE A QUICK RUN.

Neil Bowie Runs Five Blocks, Clad Only in a Night Shirt.

Neil Bowie, the well known explorer, has been imbibing a little too freely the past few days and being on the verge of the D. T.'s. was this morning taken to St. Luke's hospital when it was calculated he should remain. About 10:30 o'clock, in his imagination, he thought that Mike O'Keefe of Tower and City Detective Kenna were after him and that they had allowed him only twenty minutes more in which to breathe the breath of life. Neil is a giant in size and muscle and he had no intention of letting things go that way, so he sprang from his bed, made for the outside door, gained it and with a hospital attendant screaming after him far in the rear, he made a run of it from the hospital to the Norris house on Superior street, which he reached in the shortest time on record, in his bare feet, clothed in nothing but an extremely thin night shirt. The massive figure in white created no small attention as it sped five blocks down the avenue and street.

THEY CANNOT AGREE.

City Attorneys Differ on What the General Charter Bill Ought to Be.

City Attorney Smith is back from St. Paul where he spent several days last week attending the meeting of the city attorneys of the state held in the interest of charter revision. All was not harmony and to avoid demoralizing discord it was decided to patch up the old charters by introducing bills regulating assessments and the issuing of bonds and let matters aside from that stand as they are as the representative of each city seemed to think its present charter is the best held by any city and that it must be retained. That's about all the charter revision that can be looked for this session of the legislature.

Will Remove the Buildings.

The board of public works this morning let the contract for removing the burned buildings near the corner of Lake avenue and Superior street. W. E. & R. Spindler, of West Duluth, were awarded the prize for the sum of $125. Other bidders and bids were as follows: D. D. O'Connell, $200; E. Fitzgerald, $370; Lee & Thompson, $275; Andrew Anderson, $135; Olaf Dahl, $325; Edward Dahl, $199; J. F. Myrberg & Co., $425; A. Shaw, $137; N. Young, $147; Harvey Toit, $237; Jacob Eberling, $225. There was one bid of $25 in, but as it was unaccompanied by bonds or check it was not considered.

More Delegates Appointed.

Acknowledgments in answer to Secretary Thompson's waterways convention circular are still coming in to the chamber of commerce. The Boston merchants' exchange was heard from this morning, saying that it had delegated Joseph H. Walker, member of congress, to represent it. The governors of Idaho, Arizona and Ohio send word that they have appointed delegates. Governor McKinley appointed three.

A Grand Lodge Session.

The grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen will hold its session in Duluth on May 2, 3 and 4. The pavilion has been secured as the place of meeting. From 350 to 450 delegates will be here for three or four days. The membership in the state is about 12,000. None of the present grand officers reside in Duluth.

FIGHT STILL ON.

Senator Davis Cannot be Considered Sure of Being Re-elected by the Legislature Next Tuesday.

The Opposition is Still Actively at Work and is Not Limited by Lack of Boodle.

How Certain Members Were Fixed to Stay Away from the Senatorial and Speaker-ship Caucuses.

Committees of the House and Senate Named and the Duluth Members Fared Fairly Well.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—Inside information concerning the attempt to defeat Senator Davis for re-election to the senatorship reveals a disgraceful state of affairs to say the least. A prominent politician here from the southern part of the state, told our correspondent that he had been approached last Monday afternoon before the speakership caucus by an anti-Davis man, who was also a strong Lee supporter ostensibly, and who offered for Mr. Lee's election to the speakership. This member asked the gentleman from the southern part of the state to name to him any member of the legislature from his part of the state whom he believed were open to persuasion of the golden variety. The gentleman, whom we will call Smith, replied that he did not. Mr. Smith asked him, however, why he being a Lee man, was so desirous of keeping men away from the Lee caucus. The member replied: "You see it is just this way. There is bigger game to be brought down. We can elect Lee easily enough, but there is another man to defeat and there is an unlimited amount of boodle on tap to do it."

The managers of the anti-Davis fight, among whom is a prominent St. Paul attorney, are making the air blue around here with exhortations on the devoted heads of the fool managers of the campaign against the senator. They boasted on the evening of the caucus that they had a sufficient number fixed to stay away. One representative from a rural district not fifty miles north of St. Paul who is sometimes called a "Reverend" was fixed in the afternoon and a scheme outlined whereby he was to receive a telegram soon after the caucus opened, calling him away. He received such a telegram shortly after the caucus was called to order, and of course excused himself and got out. It was a noticeable fact that four senators were absent on the night of the senatorial caucus, and one was present because he was caught in such a plight by men who were cognizant of his weakness that he could not get away. Your correspondent has the names and the facts for each of these cases.

Where the opposition to Senator Davis failed was in the trusting of a lot of funds to lobby hatters, who claimed that they could get certain votes, for the purpose only, of getting possession of the boodle. Several of these men have bank accounts in the city and had them before. There has been a good deal of complaint against certain of the appointees of Governor Merriam, who mixed too freely with legislators prior to the holding of the senatorial caucus.

There are a good many reasons for opposition to Senator Davis' re-election which would be deemed valid by politicians of the Twin Cities. Minneapolis wants the senatorship, and if Davis is elected the early winter of 1893 will be extremely frosty for Senator Washburn when the outside portion of the state demands one of the senators from the outside country. Ex-Governor Merriam would like no doubt to be the senator from the Twin Cities. Such shrewd men as H. F. Brown and D. M. Clough seem to divide the state in this condition of things either by instinct or clairvoyance. The masterly manner in which the campaign of Senator Davis has been managed during the past year has completely thwarted all his enemies, while the opposition have been able to purchase the work of the shrewd work of the element of opposition to Senator Davis from the German Catholics, especially in the Twin Cities. The cabalistic speech, which Senator Davis delivered in the senate, will probably always remain a matter worthy of the keenest apprehension from their point of view. Of course everyone knows Boss Doran's position in the matter. The Democrats naturally are standing back and poking the animals up with a long pole and are quite willing to take a hand in any scheme, hoodling or otherwise, which will defeat Senator Davis in the hope that their candidate may slip in the general melee which would be inevitable in the event of the defeat of the present incumbent.

The fight is by no means over yet. New instances of attempted hoodling come to the ears of newspaper men almost every day and there is liable to be a good many cases of illness and absence on the day of the senatorial election. The opposition to Senator Davis is learning by its past failures a thing or two and the supreme effort, so it is said by men in the swim, has been reserved for the final struggle on January 17. The friends of Senator Davis feel that there is no other man in the northwest who could make as successful a fight without money as he has against such strong odds, with unlimited funds at his disposal to make the worse appear the better reason.

DULUTHIANS IN ST. PAUL.

Capt. Frank Barrett Has Organized Two New Iron Companies.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—O. D. Kinney was here for a short time yesterday and called upon the governor, the speaker and other notables. Luther Mendenhall and G. G. Hartley have been in the Twin cities since Saturday and visited the senate yesterday.

Captain Frank Barrett returned from Ohio today where he celebrated his forty-eighth birthday. He has organized two new iron companies on the Western Mesaba range. One known as the Hart Iron company has 160 acres adjoining the Buckeye mine. Geo. Green of New York, is president, R. J. Dean, treasurer, Frank Barrett, vice president, and Carl W. Brown secretary. The company is capitalized at $500,000. Mr. Barrett has also leased property in section 16-56-24 on a royalty of 37 1/2 cents per ton and a minimum output of 50,000 tons annually.

The senate is doing excellent work and has already before them prior to the time that committees are announced over thirty-two bills for consideration. The house is very slow and dilatory. There is considerable pride among senators in the matter of getting through a great deal of business. Only thirty-four senators showed up yesterday after the adjournment, but they got through considerable business.

THE HOUSE AND SENATE.

Duluth's Members on the Committees—New Bills Introduced.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the house parcelling out of the committees, Merritt got the chairmanship of mines and mining and is a member of public lands, logs and lumber and geological survey. Cotton is a member of the judiciary, municipal corporations, public parks, taxes and tax laws, grain and warehouse. J. M. Markham is chairman on tax laws and a member of appropriations, public lands, logs and lumber, towns and counties.

Senator Daugherty was made chairman of the committee on tax and tax laws and is on the committees of reapportionment, labor, municipal corporations, logs and lumber. An important bill was introduced by Senator Wood, making the election of presidential electors by districts, the bill was introduced by Senator Hompe introduced a bill providing that there be established a wholesale market and warehouse and elevators of the capacity of 2,500,000 bushels, located in the county of St. Louis on the bay or river or Duluth harbor to be under the control of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. This market will be in the form of a board of trade and will publish market reports. It appropriates $300,000 from the general fund of the state for the elevators and $700,000 out of the state grain inspection fund.

Premier Ribot and His Cabinet Resigned Today, and Great Excitement Now Prevails in France.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The French ministry has just resigned owing to the difficulties in the cabinet on the arrest of ex-Minister of Public Works. Ribot and other matters. The greatest excitement prevails and people through the streets. The police are out in force and dispersing crowds.

Later-President Carnot has just charged M. Ribot with the duty of reconstructing the ministry. It is openly charged that the president and M. Ribot are not in earnest in the Panama prosecutions, and that they have no intention of bringing the bribe takers to trial and that the prosecution of De Lesseps, Fontane, Cottu and Eiffel will be nothing more than a farce.

FORTY DEGREES BELOW ZERO.

That is the Temperature on the North Shore of Lake Superior.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The storm central over Georgian bay Monday morning has advanced south of east over New England and is central this morning off the New England coast. This storm was attended by heavy snows and high winds over the lake regions New England and middle Atlantic states. An area of high barometer has moved from Manitoba to the lower Missouri valley with a fall in temperature of twenty degrees to thirty-five degrees in the Ohio, middle Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and lake regions. This morning the minimum temperature is thirty to forty degrees below zero on the north shore of Lake Superior, and the line of zero temperature reaches the Ohio river. Cold and clearing or fair weather is indicated for the middle Atlantic and New England states and lower lake region. In the Mississippi and Ohio valleys slightly warmer, fair weather is indicated for Wednesday. The Mississippi river to the Rocky mountains the weather will be warmer, with increasing cloudiness or rain and snow in the Missouri valley.

OUT OF DEATH'S JAWS.

Another Almost Miraculous Improvement in Mr. Blaine's Condition When Nearly Hope Had Gone.

There is no immediate danger of death, but the gain may be permanent.

Is Now Taking Nourishment and is Better Than at Any Time Since the Last Relapse.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Another almost miraculous and unexpected improvement in the condition of Mr. Blaine occurred early this morning. At 1 o'clock Drs. Johnston and Hyatt gave out a statement reciting that "Mr. Blaine passed a comfortable day until 8 o'clock this evening, when he became not so well and at this hour (7 1/2 a. m.) he is still losing strength."

At that hour the family were gathered in the reception room just across the hall from the sick man's chamber, fearing the worst and receiving no comfort or encouragement from the attending physicians. As the hour wore away, however, Mr. Blaine maintained about the same degree of vitality and seemed to rally slightly. At 2 o'clock the doctors informed the family that their patient was sleeping quietly and there were no indications of immediate dissolution, and advised them to retire. They did so and Dr. Hyatt returned home, leaving Dr. Johnston in charge of the patient. Mr. Blaine's rest continued unbroken until daylight, and from all indications apparent outside none of the watchers were disturbed at any time. At 3 o'clock Dr. Johnston responded to an inquiry at the door by a reporter that Mr. Blaine was likely to die at any time, but at 5 o'clock he stated that there was then no probability of death occurring for some hours at least.

An hour and a half later the doctor left the house for his own home to gain a few hours needed rest. Before leaving he made the following statement: "Since 1 o'clock Mr. Blaine has rested fairly well. He has slept almost continuously and is now more comfortable. There is no immediate danger of death."

Dr. Johnston said he did not expect to return before 10 o'clock. Joseph H. Manley of Augusta, Me., who came to Washington to see Mr. Blaine, remained at the house all night. This morning at 7:30 o'clock he walked over to the Arlington for breakfast. On the way he told a reporter that Mr. Blaine had passed a fairly good night. The family felt somewhat encouraged by the marvelous recuperative powers displayed by the sick man under conditions which seemed to preclude hope.

At 10:30 Dr. Johnston returned to the house and remained with Mr. Blaine half an hour. As he left the house he said Mr. Blaine was better than he had been during the night, and that that was to be interpreted by the meaning that the patient was better than he had been at any time since the last relapse. Mr. Blaine passed a very comfortable night, and when Dr. Johnston left him his condition was as favorable as could be expected. He continued to take nourishment. While he was willing to state that Mr. Blaine's condition showed improvement, the physician would not go so far as to assert that that improvement could be maintained.

THE READING'S PROFITS.

Interest Paid on Bonds For the First Time in Years.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The report of President McLeod of the operations of the Philadelphia & Reading road for the year ended Nov. 30, 1892, submitted to the stockholders' annual meeting yesterday shows net traffic earnings for the year of $1,199,042.40. From this is deducted $1,041,895.28 for rentals, interest equipment, etc., leaving a profit for the year of $157,147.12. The net profit in operating the coal and iron company for the year was $24,339, leaving a surplus of $181,486.

ONE WAS FOR GROVER.

First Democratic Electoral Vote by Ohio For Many Years.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10.—Twenty-two members of the Ohio electoral college voted for Benjamin Harrison for president and one for Grover Cleveland. The highest vote cast by the respective political parties at the presidential election in November was Republican, 405,187; Democratic, 401,112; Prohibition, 26,012; People's party, 14,850.

Lorenzo Danford, chairman of the meeting, today received the highest Republican vote at the November election and James P. Seward, of Mansfield, who was at the head of the Democratic ticket, the highest cast of his party. The vote was by the Australian ballot. Seward is the first Democratic presidential elector in Ohio since 1852. He received complimentary consideration from all sides and bore his honors becomingly.

A Murderer Hanged.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Andrew George McKee, who on Dec. 24 was convicted of the murder of his mistress, Annie Pritchard, was today executed at Northampton. The hanging was private, but the governor of the jail states that there was not a hitch in the proceedings. McKee made no confession.

FOR MINING INCORPORATIONS.

A Movement to Reduce State Fees for Large Companies.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—A measure which is sure to be brought in at an early date is for the amendment of the laws relating to the incorporation of companies in the state, aimed, especially to cut down the exorbitant fees which are now required to set large companies on their feet.

The benefit is especially asked in defence to the interests of mining companies and to mining interests. As the law now stands it is almost impossible to incorporate home or Minnesota companies, and as a result, many institutions are set on foot in other states which would be located here but for the fact of the prohibitory cost of the incorporation. It amounts at present to practically a prohibition of mining companies of Minnesota name on a large scale, and mining companies are necessarily of large capital stock. Take a company of $1,000,000 capital stock. To incorporate in Minnesota will cost for the secretary of state's fees $50 for the first $500,000 capital stock, and $5 for each additional $100,000. Thus, to incorporate the million dollar concern will cost over $500. A Minneapolis mining firm has during past few months incorporated two companies of $5,000,000 capital stock each, which would have cost the firm over $300. They went to Illinois and incorporated and as a result the offices of some very valuable mining enterprises have been located in Chicago, which would otherwise have been located here. It is said that there have been as many as fifteen or twenty cases of the kind, in the experience of Minneapolis incorporators alone, in the past few months. But the subject is of even more importance in Duluth and other localities nearer to the field of mining operation. It is pointed out that there has been enormous development of mining interests of the state since the establishment of this restriction, which now amounts to practical prohibition, and some action will undoubtedly be taken at this session.

DELEGATES ON THEIR WAY

A Huge Delegation From New York State to Attend the Deep Waterway Convention on Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—Secretary Thompson is about the busiest man in Washington today. He is receiving a flood of telegrams from every section of the country announcing that additional delegates are on their way to Washington to attend the deep waterway convention.

A huge delegation is coming from New York state. It will be made up from that section of the state which will be directly interested in the movement for a ship canal. Mr. Thompson has also sent special invitations to every member of congress, all the members of the cabinet and other prominent officials in Washington to attend the convention's session of Thursday afternoon. This will be the most important session held. Mr. Thompson says that he has discovered that every member of congress has an interest in the movement since his arrival. He expects a full attendance of the distinguished gentlemen at the session to which they were invited.

THE DULUTH & WINNIPEG.

Funds Raised to Carry the Road to Completion.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—In an interview yesterday, Donald Grant said that H. J. Boardman, president of the Duluth & Winnipeg road of Boston, has completed a deal with prominent Boston and New York capitalists to liquidate the entire indebtedness of the road amounting to nearly a million, and continue the construction of the same in a manner satisfactory to all parties concerned on condition that the railroad transfer about one-half of the stock of the road to them.

He added: "We still retain the controlling interest. There is no truth in the statements that either J. J. Hill or the Canadian Pacific road was about to or has gained control of the Winnipeg road. We expect to push the construction of the road next season to completion, although the definite route that it will take has not yet been decided upon. The company also expect to build into Duluth at the earliest possible date."

About a month ago Grant & Foley, the contractors, who have been prominent in the construction of the road, dissolved partnership. It was the first intimation given the general public that Hill, even after his Baltimore coup, did not have everything his own way, and that the Canadian Pacific had begun its fight to regain the ground lost through Hill's cleverness. Grant & Foley split on the point of deciding which way their influence should be thrown.

DYNAMITERS AT WORK.

A Bomb Exploded in Brussels but No Person Injured.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10.—A dynamite bomb that had been placed in front of the building occupied by the Catholic club at Seraing exploded this morning, completely wrecking the front of the structure and otherwise causing great damage. Fortunately not a single person was hurt.

There is no clue to the perpetrators of the outrage. When the miners went on strike, appeals were made to the Belgian miners for moral and financial support. No response was made to the appeals, and it is conjectured that German socialist plotters the explosion as a sort of revenge on the Belgian miners.

THOMAS WAS WRATHY.

The Second Ward Alderman Again Performed Last Evening at the Meeting of the Council.

Owing to His Negative Vote the Seventh Ward Cannot Have Two Precincts at This Election.

Little, the Deposed Assistant Chief, Asks the Council to Investigate—Other Business Matters.

Alderman Thomas at last evening's council meeting again emerged from the obscurity which always surrounds him unless he is braying. The people's rights were again in jeopardy and the portly alderman whose perceptive faculties are so peculiarly keen saw wherein they were threatened and sprang to their defense. This was particularly shown in the matter of dividing Lakeside into voting precincts. An ordinance was introduced creating two precincts in the Seventh ward. When it was read it was moved to pass it to a second reading as it would have to be passed on that evening in order to go into effect before election.

Alderman Thomas smelled a rat although nobody else did. The people ought to have a chance to be heard, he said. It did not seem to occur to him that the Seventh ward had two representatives in the council, both of them there present. There was plenty of oratory unloaded by the alderman and in spite of the efforts of his colleagues he would not be pacified. He had the bull by the horns and he knew it. When the vote was taken on the motion to pass a second reading everyone voted aye including Messrs. Butchart and Convery, except Ald. Thomas. City Attorney Smith came forward and requested the alderman to reconsider his vote but he maintained a stubborn silence.

Ald. Weiss caught the full force of the burly alderman's wrath early in the meeting. It was upon a report of the committee on claims. He accused the alderman, as chairman of the committee on claims, of calling the committee together on Sunday and auditing the bills. He had never looked before, he said, but now he would and he positively refused to desecrate the Sabbath day by auditing bills when he ought to be attending divine worship. Alderman Cox, as chairman of the committee on supplies, caught it also but only smiled serenely. "My friend Burke" came in for a portion of the alderman's wrath, too, and entered some denials.

Alderman Weiss was asked by President Hugo what he had to offer as to why he had broken the Sabbath day. He replied that it was pretty well understood that Alderman Thomas had to blow off steam about once in so often. If he remembered rightly Alderman Thomas made the suggestion to meet on Sunday. He had never before protested but now he came forward clearly in a mantle of holiness to let all the world hear him protest. The discussion was cut short by someone moving to receive the report of the committee which was carried.

L. H. Little, the deposed assistant chief submitted a communication asking an investigation as to the reasons for his removal. His communication was rather lengthy and set forth the circumstances of his dismissal. He asked that if no cause was found that he be reinstated. The communication was referred to the committee on fire department which in turn reported recommending that it be referred to a joint committee on fire department and offices and officers. Authority was given to employ a stenographer.

Mayor d'Auremont requested the council to have the financial affairs of Lakeside thoroughly investigated. This was referred to the city controller who is to employ an expert and at Alderman Thomas, suggestion the city engineer was made a member of such committee.

The mayor urged upon the council the necessity of doing something to relieve the business portion of the city from the electric wire nuisance. He suggested that the wires should be provided with hooks, to cut them when necessary and further suggested that some distance along Superior street they should be placed under ground. He also recommended that on high buildings fire escapes should be constructed in zigzag fashion, not straight up and down. Referred to committee on fire department.

The mayor informed the council that he had dismissed Patrolman Livvick; also that the present police officers at Lakeside had been reappointed by him, John D. Kenna being made sergeant.

The board of public works asked authority to employ a consulting engineer to determine which is the best tunnel plan submitted. It was granted, the expense not to exceed $300 and expenses. A resolution to vacate an alley at the West End, asked for by the street car company, brought the self-constituted guardian of the people's rights, Alderman Thomas, to his feet again. It was understood that the company was to pay the expense, but it did not say so in the resolution, and Alderman Thomas wanted it in.

"Mr. Mendenhall has agreed to pay all the expense," said Alderman Kennedy, "and I think his word is good."

"Mr. Mendenhall's word is no good," roared the combative alderman, "and I move that it be inserted that he must pay the expenses."

Nobody was willing to second the motion, however, and the resolution passed with Alderman Thomas' negative vote.

The People's party submitted a list of judges of election, but it was not in within the time required by law. The Episcopalians at Lakeside were granted permission to use the town hall for church services. The final estimate on the Lake avenue contract was allowed. Chairman Long, of the charter revision committee, was relieved from the duty at his own request. The president will appoint a new member. The fire warden reported as to the oils, gasoline and gunpowder stored in the city.

"I move we adjourn," said Alderman Kennedy.

"In peace and harmony?" queried President Hugo, which was agreed to and the meeting was declared duly adjourned.

As the aldermen were leaving one of them made some remark to Alderman Thomas about the new papers, whereupon the alderman made some remarks about the press of Duluth which it would hardly do to publish in a respectable journal and stalked forth into the chilly night.

A BRIDGE CONFERENCE.

West Duluth and Superior Aldermen Talk Over a Scheme.

Some time ago committees were appointed by the councils of Superior and West Duluth to consider the feasibility of a bridge from Superior to West Duluth. A meeting of the committee was called yesterday but only Mayor Scott, Ed. Dundon and Nick Anderson from Superior and J. A. Kirkwood from West Duluth were present.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

The New Year Has Opened With a More Settled Feeling.

New York, Jan. 10.—Henry Clews says in his weekly review: The New Year has opened with a more settled feeling in the financial markets than was generally expected. The funds called in from loan last week, to be available for the payment of dividends and interest, have this week been disbursed for those purposes, while currency has flowed in freely from the interior; and thus the banks have been enabled to better supply the wants of borrowers.

At the same time, the recent exports of gold—largely due to remittances to pay January interest on our obligations held abroad—are about coming to a close; which will soon help to restore confidence in the market, the disturbance of which has been a principal cause of late in unsetting stock exchange values.

The annual balancing of accounts of individuals and corporations appears to have been generally unusually satisfactory as a result. Though the business of 1892 was of an undemonstrative character and exceptionally free from speculative excitement, yet the years aggregates show its volume to have been extraordinary and its net results probably unprecedentedly profitable.

The fact that the year's records of business failures in the United States are but little over one half those of either 1891 or 1892, speaks volumes for the conservative and profitable character of the year's trade.

This gratifying result has been principally due to the abundant harvest of 1891 and the fairly average crops of 1892. The process of that period of extraordinary production have been employed in the liquidation of a large amount of deferred indebtedness, which has infused new life and confidence into every branch of business and imparted a healthier tone to credit operations.

Wall street enters the new year with this very important fact in its favor—that while, as already intimated, a permanent investment has already been found for the securities returned from Europe, the issues of new obligations by railroads, have been in 1892 (as also for the two previous years) exceptionally right.

It is true that considerable amounts of stock have been put out in connection with the incorporation of private firms; but these are not new creations, but the mere changing of the form of already existing enterprises. It is therefore to be presumed that the new creations of corporate capital have, for the last two or three years, fallen below the normal demand for investments, and that therefore the floating market supply of securities must now be of a moderately moderate dimensions.

This consideration has contributed towards sustaining the market through the trying conditions of late months, and may reasonably be trusted to afford like support during 1893.

VOTING FOR PRESIDENT.

The Electors Performed Their Duties at the State Capitols.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The electors chosen to carry out the will of the people expressed last November met at the capitols of the various states yesterday.

After raising their voices for a president and vice president they signed three certificates of the result.

One of these is delivered to an elector appointed to take charge of it and carry it to the president of the senate. The second certificate is sent by mail to the same destination, and the third is delivered to the United States district judge of the district in which the electors met.

Congress is required to be in joint session to count the electoral vote at 1 o'clock on the second Wednesday in February after the meeting of the electors which will be Feb. 8.

Will Not Be Repealed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Teller in reference to Mr. McPherson's joint resolution declared with much emphasis yesterday that the Sherman law would not be repealed at this congress, that, he said, was morally certain; and those who desired its repeal might as well arrange their financial affairs and their financial views that understanding.

An Important Change.

The South Shore road has increased its passenger service from Duluth by putting on an additional passenger train, leaving here at 11 a. m. By taking this train passengers for the Gogebic range arrive at Hurley at 4:15 p. m., a considerably shorter trip than by other routes.

This train also makes direct connection with the Michigan Central for Sault Ste. Marie, and all lower Michigan and Canadian points, and in the Union it put Detroit with the North Shore line for Buffalo, Rochester, New York and Boston.

The "Detroit Passenger" arrives at Mackinaw City early in the morning following its departure from Duluth, making close connection with the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad for Grand Rapids and all points South adjacent to that line.

The Boston express will leave Duluth daily at 7:30 p. m., as heretofore with Wagner buffet sleeping car attached, running through to Sault Ste. Marie and connecting there with Canadian Pacific train which hauls a sleeping car running through to Boston.

The Boston express makes a close connection with the Milwaukee & Northern railroad at Chippewa and with the Chicago & Northwestern at Neenah for Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Marquette and Green Bay.

GOLD AND SILVER ORE.

The Rich Discoveries Which Have Been Made in the Lake of the Woods Country.

Thousands of Prospectors in and Around Rat Portage and Rossland, Regardless of Zero Weather.

Duluth People are Among the Seekers After Gold—Rich Prospects and Unlimited Water Power.

RAT PORTAGE, Ont., Jan. 6.—There is an exhibition in the office of Major Campbell of the town of Rat Portage, on the Canadian Pacific railway, today, a collection of auriferous quartz rock from the newly discovered gold reefs and lodes of this vicinity that would reflect credit upon the richest gold producing country the world has ever known. These samples are being collected by the officials of the Canadian Pacific railway for exhibition at the World's fair, and showing, as they do, free or native gold in abundance, cannot fail to attract the attention of capitalists and scientists at the Columbian exhibition. Already a large number of a train of skillful experts and practical American and English mining men are busy investigating the beautiful Lake of the Woods country, and slowly but surely bringing to the surface the long-buried treasures of free and refractory ores such as those mentioned.

Let me attempt a description of the appearance and commercial value of some, at least, of the pieces coming most prominently to my notice. To begin with No. 1, a large piece of gold-bearing quartz, has the following legend in the form of a government assayer's certificate attached thereto.

SOME NOTABLE SPECIMENS.

No. 1—gold (Au) 300 oz. per ton of 2000 lbs.
No. 2—silver (Ag) 55 oz. per ton of 2000 lbs.
No. 3—gold (Au) 200 oz. per ton of 2000 lbs.
No. 4—silver (Ag) 40 oz. per ton of 2000 lbs.

And so on down to "No. 22," in which, although there is no gold visible to the naked eye, yet it has a value metallurgically of Gold, 12.2 oz. per ton of 2000 lbs., and silver 3.1 oz., or a total value in coin of $254.26 per ton. While there is much of the ore now being collected for transfer to Chicago of decidedly low grade and of a more or less rebellious character, yet there are certainly some really extraordinarily rich fragments that go up in value to tens of thousands of dollars to the ton. And in this connection, and while regarding these rocks from a commercial standpoint, I am assured by eminent local and foreign engineers, including Professor Hine, of Port Arthur, and Carl Eschweiler, M. Eng., late of this district, that under proper treatment, as by roasting, chlorination, lixiviation and other well known and economic systems (including the cyanide process), that the lowest and most refractory ores of this new district can be made to yield excellent returns. Already two American and one English mining and milling organizations have commenced work, and machinery is being introduced from the well-known firm of Messrs. Frazer & Chalmers, of Chicago, while as a matter of fact prospectors—even with the thermometer very much on the wrong side of zero—are still in the woods with their surveying and locating parties taking up claims. The latest discovery of ore in this direction was made last week by a Minnesota prospector, now resident here, and who hitherto confined his efforts in this direction to the prospecting of iron lands on the Mesabi and other ranges, in what he is pleased to term "over in God's country." Among the samples from the above important discovery are not a few of the finest gold showings (in a bluish gray quartz) yet brought into town. In the specimens the native gold does not show in heavy nuggets so much as some others, but the metal is finely and evenly distributed throughout the rock matter composing the vein. Other finds and locations are also on the tapis, and as all the discoveries made so far are within a radius of fifteen miles of the towns of Rossland and Rat Portage, both of which are located on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway, it will be seen that the facilities for economic transportation, mining and milling are of the very best.

Rat Portage, a town of about 550 inhabitants, is situated on the Winnipeg or "River of Rapids," and possesses, and utilizes, too, one of the grandest water privileges on the continent. It is distant from the city of Winnipeg 130 miles, eastward. Capt. Roland, civil engineer, writing of this water power in his exhaustive book "Algoma West," gives the following description: "The waters of the Winnipeg river flow out of the Lake of the Woods by two channels through a narrow wall of rocks with a fall of upward of twenty feet, forming a bay below, where they unite. Besides the two channels which form the Winnipeg river, there are a number of openings in the rocks, which have been the beds of rivers at a period when the waters of the lake were higher than they are now. These channels cross the main line of the Canadian Pacific and extend for a distance of upward of three miles westward from Rat Portage, at the most easterly outlet of the lake. These can be opened out and converted into mill races at comparatively little cost. Expensive dams are not required and no floods can break through the embankment to do injury.

POSSIBILITY OF A MINING CENTER. The power that can be obtained here is simply unlimited and the supply of water endless. The value of these water privileges is enhanced by the railroad crossing at the very point where mills can be erected adjacent to the track. There is no other point on the continent of America possessing water power of such magnitude, situated so advantageously on the great thoroughfare between the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, and immediately east of the grain-growing region of the western prairies, and on the direct road to European market. * * * The more this country is explored the higher the estimate formed of its value. That it is rich in minerals cannot be questioned. Its forests are of immense value, affording fuel, building timber, railway ties and timber, telegraph poles, etc., while its picturesque water stretches are literally teeming with fish of every variety from little "cold eyes" to the mammoth muskellunge.

Since the foregoing was written numerous large flouring and sawing mills and other works—including an electric lighting plant with Pelton and Turbine water wheels, dynamos, etc., have been introduced, so that the writer of the foregoing description would today barely recognize the beautiful falls (which he very appropriately called Hebe's) as the same place, a series of veritable and hard matter of fact "booms" with everlasting "hum" of industry having quite knocked the romance out of it.

THE LAKE OF THE WOODS

has an area of 700 square miles at an elevation of 1062 feet above tidewater. Its drainage area is about 25,000 square miles, 7000 miles of which are in Northern Minnesota, which its watershed penetrates to the head waters of Lake Winnipeg. The water on the Canada side its water-bed begins within thirty miles of Lake Superior. It discharges here into the Winnipeg river with a fall of 21½ feet, at the foot of which the river turns abruptly westward and runs for three miles parallel with the lake shore and separated from it by a narrow natural dam, from which at various times, as described in Algoma West, the water can be conducted by a flume of 100 yards length. The estimated water power at this dam is 65,000 horse power. The railway follows this natural dam, and saw mills with a cutting capacity of 60,000,000 feet board measure per annum, making twelve hours daily, are in operation for the supply of the prairie region as far west as Regina, or about 500 miles, where it meets the timber and lumber supplies from British Columbia. It is estimated that the timber and lumber supply of this district is good for twenty years to come, at double its capacity. A flour mill of 1200 barrels daily capacity is now in full operation here (within three miles of Rat Portage) at Keewatin, and it is no exaggeration to state that with millions of surplus grain from within an average haul of 250 miles of Rat Portage there is room for half a dozen such mills. It is, however, its mineral resources that are at present attracting most attention, and really, if one may judge from the present excellent showing of native gold, it appears to require but the magic wand of capital to develop this long neglected region to a foremost place as a rich gold producer. The rock formation is in this immediate vicinity of Huronian age, consisting largely of talcose and chloritic slates and schists, which has been given the local distinctive name of the Keewatin series, by way of distinguishing these gold-bearing rocks from the typical Huronian, as classified by Dr. Logan in his "Geology of Canada."

SANDBAGGED IN OMAHA. A Minister and His Wife Robbed on a Leading Street. OMAHA, Jan. 10.—Rev. Albert Fredericks and his wife were sandbagged and robbed in one of the principal streets at 6 o'clock last evening. They were walking on Tenth street near Farnum, when the minister was knocked senseless by a violent blow on the head. At the same time a similar blow felled Mrs. Fredericks. Her shopping bag, containing about $10 was snatched by the robbers, but the minister could get a roll of bills out of Mr. Fredericks' pocket they were frightened away.

Governor Buchanan of Tennessee Recommends a Revision of the Laws. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 10.—In his message yesterday Governor Buchanan gave an exhaustive review of state affairs, especially the mining troubles. He said that the law passed at the extra session under which the militia is maintained to prevent an outbreak of miners is unconstitutional. He advocated the building of a new penitentiary, a revision of the criminal laws and the calling of a constitutional convention. A resolution was introduced in the senate providing for the inauguration of Governor-elect Turley next Monday, Jan. 16.

IT WAS A BLOODY FIGHT.

Terrific Conflict in an Indiana Church After Communion Services.

ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 10.—The most terrific and bloody fight in the history of the county occurred right after communion services Sunday at Forest Chapel church, six miles southwest of the city. The communion table had just been cleared away when a row sprang up between the Lawsons on one side and the Swinfords, Smears and Hartzells on the other.

It was a terrific fight, and as a result Irvin Lawson and Sam Manis are in a critical condition and the latter is almost sure to die. The fight was the result of an old feud between the Lawsons and the other parties named. After church Sunday the opportunity presented itself to settle the affair.

It seems that Lewis, Albert and John Swinford, Albert Smear and Lewis Hartzell had come to church prepared for trouble. They were armed with stones, knives, knucklers, etc. According to old man Lawson's story, William Lawson, Sanford Manis, Arthur Lawson and Irvin Lawson were also. Just after the services were over the trouble began. Lewis Swinford struck Sanford Manis across the head with a club and knocked him down.

The other Swinford boys, together with Hartzell and Smear, then attacked Irvin and Arthur Lawson. Irvin was knocked down across a seat with a stone, and then the gang pounced upon him and beat him in a horrible manner. William Lawson, the old man, rushed to his son's rescue and received a terrible beating about the head with clubs and knuckles.

By this time the fight became general. Stones, clubs and chunks of lead fled through the air. All of the windows on one side of the church were knocked out. Women shrieked and fainted, while men rushed from the building to escape being injured. The injured are: Bill Lawson, two cuts on head, nose mashed and other injuries; Sam Manis, bruised and cut about the face, seriously hurt; Arthur Lawson, several bruises and cuts, weak from loss of blood; Irvin Lawson, several bad cuts on scalp, supposed to be dangerously hurt; Joe Swinford, ear nearly cut off by slung-shot, face cut and severely hurt; Albert Swinford, cut on head and neck, dangerously hurt, may not live; Louis Swinford, black eyes, several cuts and bruises; Matthew Swinford was knocked down and all fractured; Joe Hartzell (son of George) badly cut, may die.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE.

A Young Man Who Has Lain in a Coffin For Eleven Days.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10.—Clay Hopper, the young man who has lain in a coffin for eleven days, during which time he listened to his own funeral sermon, is alive beyond any possible doubt. Sunday morning he was taken from the coffin, attired in robes and placed in bed. His body is still warm. His eyes opened at noon yesterday and shortly afterwards a faint flutter of the heart was noticed. There are no signs of decomposition as yet, and the man has been heated to a temperature of seventy-five degrees ever since the supposed death. There is a pulsation apparent at the temples.

Physicians are up to the hilt in the sentiment that the boy will return to full consciousness.

SENATOR KENNA'S ILLNESS.

His Condition Not Regarded as Dangerous Now.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—One of Senator Kenna's physicians this morning informed a reporter that the senator had slept soundly during the night, but early this morning for about an hour he suffered from nausea. He was now, however, (9 a. m.) relieved.

The physicians do not now consider the sick man's condition to be necessarily dangerous, and although he is still liable to relapse they hope for his permanent recovery. He is still very weak, however.

The independent course pursued by THE HERALD in politics has won for it many friends who are not prejudiced by party ties, and who approve of a fearless newspaper, but who loathe and despise a hide-bound organ, that only reverberates the sentiment of some party platform that has nothing in common with Duluth or her varied interests. If you do not take it, subscribe for it.

The business man reads it and advertises in it to the exclusion of all others, because it GIVES THE NEWS and is read by double as many readers as all other Duluth papers.

The laboring man and the artisan want THE EVENING HERALD because it is delivered fresh from the press at a time when his day's labors are ended and he has the long winter evenings to read to himself and family all the day's happenings of his own city and from every nook and corner of a busy and heedless world.

ISSUED A PROSPECTUS.

The New Company Which Will Enlarge Gill & Wright's Mill Makes a Public Statement.

Will be Known as the Duluth Flour Mills Company. Capital will be $500,000.

It is Proposed to be Grinding Fifteen Hundred Barrels Per Day by October 1.

A mass meeting was called to be held this morning at the chamber of commerce rooms to consider the question of securing the stock for the enlarged Gill & Wright mill or the Duluth Flour Mills company as it will be known. The meeting, owing to insufficient advertising, was not, however, a success and was adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. A prospectus of the new mill company has been issued which gives forth all the necessary information regarding the new company and from this a very good statement of just what is to be done can be obtained.

It is proposed to organize a manufacturing corporation under the laws of the state of Minnesota, to be called Duluth Flour Mills company, with a capital stock of $500,000, divided into five thousand shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, for the purpose of erecting and operating at Duluth, Minnesota, a modern flouring mill with an ultimate capacity of 6000 barrels per day, fully equipped with the latest and most improved machinery, together with such docks, elevators and warehouses as may be necessary or proper for the economical and convenient transaction of the business of the company.

It is believed, for the reasons stated below, that the organization of such a company at this time affords an exceptionally favorable opportunity for the citizens of Duluth to embark in an enterprise which will prove not only a profitable investment, but will also secure for the city an important industry of the most desirable character.

Messrs. Gill & Wright propose to turn over to the proposed corporation, immediately upon its organization, both of their said mills and the established brands and good will of their business at a valuation of $125,000 and take in payment therefor the same amount in the full paid capital stock of said proposed corporation.

A committee consisting of F. A. Patrick, of the Stone-Ordein company, R. F. Fitzgerald, of the Duluth Boot and Shoe company, and C. C. Prindle, of the Chapin-Wells Hardware company, has made a thorough examination of the property and affairs of Messrs. Gill & Wright and report the plants at Duluth and Superior as worth fully $125,000.

An option for an eligible site for the proposed mill, which has been secured at the price of $32,000. This site is in a locality equally as good as that occupied by the Imperial mill, and is double the size of the site which was purchased by the Imperial mill for $50,000 over three years ago. After the situation portends a looking up in the West Duluth realty market. The exigencies of the occasion demand also that a large number of dwellings be erected the coming spring.

The latest rumor is that ere January waters itself away one of West Duluth's prominent young men will take the biggest contract of his life, and one of its fairest daughters will adorn herself with the customary bridal veil.

WEST DULUTH COUNCIL.

Fire Alarm System Ordered—After the Street Car Company.

A lengthy council meeting was held last evening and considerable business was transacted. A communication from H. W. Merchant asking that the council have a retaining wall 132 feet long built in Harrington addition, was referred to the city attorney. Chief Short was granted another week in which to examine the hydrants in the village. The official count of the special election was canvassed and pronounced correct.

The village attorney made a report upon P. McDonald's bill of $378.32 for extra work on front street. This bill of extras, it is claimed, was caused by the fact that the street car tracks were laid and cars run on the street during the time the work of grading was going on and that this was not taken into consideration at the time the bids for the work were made. The village attorney held that the village was liable to Mr. McDonald for the extra expense he was subject to by the inconvenience of the work. He also stated that it was presented as allowed, Messrs. Ide and Keating only voting against it.

The matter of a system of fire alarm came up for discussion and the Duluth council was substantially adopted. John Black, of St. Paul, was present and discussed the advantages of this system as compared with others. The chief of the fire department was instructed to report to the council the number of fire boxes and other supplies required.

The final estimate on Michigan street was allowed, and an assessment for the Central avenue sewer was ordered. The assessor was also instructed to reassess Sixth avenue west according to the benefits received. The ordinance granting the Western Union Telegraph company extension privileges received its second reading and final passage.

An ordinance was introduced stating inasmuch as the street car company had failed to comply with the terms of its charter in not building a line on Grand avenue and in not furnishing proper accommodation for its patrons that its franchise be declared forfeited and all rights and claims thereunder be declared void. Trustee Martz made a vigorous speech in favor of the ordinance. Some details were found in the ordinance and it was referred to the attorney for correction.

August Belmont for President. The famous young sportsman, August Belmont, who was called junior before his father, the great financier and banker, died, will probably be one of the largest candidates in the United States, the New York Athletic club. He has been named for the position by the nominating committee of the club to succeed President Weeks, who retires to the vice presidency, and nomination is about equivalent to election in the New York Athletic club.

Mr. Belmont has long been known as an enthusiastic member of the club and as an enthusiastic sportsman and comfortable devotee of legitimate sport. His regime promises to be a very important one in the organization's history, for the reason that it contemplates the erection of an early day of a palatial clubhouse. The present building of the club is very comfortable, but is hardly the equal of that of the Manhattan Athletic club, the N. Y. A. C.'s great rival, and for this and other reasons a new building is being planned. E. J. Giamatti, the present captain of the club, needs more time for his own business, and Springer C. H. Sherrill, late of Yale, will succeed him.

Bioglyphs. A. L. Banker. The name of Banker is a very well known one in the bicycling world, for three brothers of that name, W. D. Banker, George A. Banker and A. C. Banker, have for some time been prominent on the racing path. A fourth brother, Arthur L. Banker, the youngest of the family, came to the front during the past season as a very promising rider. He captured first prizes and got second place twice during the year, and is looked upon as one of the coming men in wheeling circles.

The most notable victories scored by young Banker were in the bill climbing contest at the Putnam Athletic club and in the one and two mile championship races of the same Smoky City organization. At present George A. Banker is looking for the brightest bicycling light of the Banker aggregation.

Indians Enslaved Negroes. When the war closed there were about 800 negroes owned by the Creek Indians. When they were free the Indians attempted to drive them out of the territory. The government wouldn't permit it, but made them citizens of the Creek Nation and clothed them with all the rights and privileges of a full blood. The Indians were compelled to accept this state of affairs. For awhile they badly treated their black skinned brothers, heaping all sorts of indignities upon them, which were borne with patient fortitude. When the lands were divided the government gave them a pro rata share. They have increased in population, now numbering about 2,000, raised respectable families and are doing well.

Facts About the City of Mexico. In August last 7,105 head of cattle, 10,212 sheep and 2,184 hogs were slaughtered in the City of Mexico. The first yielded $2,843 to the municipal revenues, the second $1,831.80 and the third $873.60. There are now 21 schools for boys in the City of Mexico, 50 for girls and 13 night schools for adults of both sexes, with an average monthly attendance of 10,146 scholars. The city has 10 theaters, 11 public markets, 208 gas lights, 1,630 oil of turpentine lamps, 476 electric lights, 15 public clocks and a population of from 400,000 to 450,000.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

A Consideration by Mate Leroy of What Delarte Has Done for the Modern Women.

Graceful Attitudes Now Go With Lovely Gowns, and Those Lacking Grace Are Not In It.

Some of the Latest Fashionable Attire—Beautiful Costumes for the House and the Street.

DELARTE WORKS A GREAT GOOD when he taught women that they could be graceful without tight lacing and added to that the flexibility and expression of feature that all can obtain. Time was that the feminine face was as immobile as a wax figure with a perpetual grimace on the lips, but now the fashion is to let human emotions show through the face and give it the mysterious charm of variety of expression.

With Delarte's loose and flowing robes and soft, long folds, Delarte would have found it impossible to be graceful in an "old-fashioned" dress, in vogue a few years since, and even now there remains much to be desired in many of the gowns from an aesthetic point of view.

However, fashion sets its seal on all that is large and noble in a woman's daily life; it smiles on her efforts to break away from tradition and help fit herself for her future duties by giving her athletic clubs, swimming baths, fencing lessons and horseback riding, and encourages bright, brisk walks that bring roses to the cheeks and glowing health to the body.

Decidedly health is the fashion these days—a good sound mind in a good sound body. There are few who will pose as semi-invalids. The Berkeley Athletic club for young women had about 400 young ladies, married and single, from our best families, where they could go and have all the most modern and approved gymnastic training, some of the ladies being very daring and skillful. The price of admission and strict rules made it exclusive enough to keep out any undesirable person, and the result will be felt in generations to come.

Another fashion as pleasant as it is useful is encouraging any young lady to carefully develop any special talent she may have so well that if any sudden reverse came she would be able to earn her own living. This has been done in very many cases, and many young ladies belonging to families of enormous wealth could earn a living from the very start. Some of them assist their fathers or brothers in business, and some even have little private ventures. I know of one young lady who is reaping

TRA GOWNS.
A fair income from an invention of her own. Several young ladies play different musical instruments as amateurs sufficiently well to take places as professionals if need falls upon them. The day of elegant idleness has passed for the brilliant and beautiful American girl with the pretense of a frail constitution.

Perhaps those whose delicacy—which so often degenerates into consumption—we read of might have been as splendid creatures physically as our girls of today if they had not lured their waists into fifteen inches and worn slippers in all weathers and no flannel underwear.

Contrast a belle of those days with one of today. The waist of the latter measures twenty-four inches and she is proud of it. She wears tea gowns which make her look four times her own size, and enjoys the freedom. She has quaint fashions made where the waist is up under the arms and the sleeves puffed to an astonishing size. She has them cut square in the back and any way in front that will admit of utter comfort.

Some new ideas in tea gowns would not, I think, be out of place here. One that was a "dream" had the front made of soft blue china silk, with deep embroidery in pink and mossy greens. The name was on the ruffles to the sleeves, which only came to the elbow—and, by the way, many tea gowns have elbow sleeves with or without ruffles and undersleeves, finished with rosettes and ends of "Toni" ribbon.

When there is a "tea" gloves can be worn if desired. I almost forgot to finish the description of this elegant gown. The back was of rich brocade in dark ultramarine blue and apple green, a combination of colors that one scarcely knows whether to like or not, yet when a garment shows a

WALKING SUIT. MORNING DRESS.
A tea gown was worn by a young girl not yet out of her teens that was very odd, but effective. The back had a short waist, with a skirt of gold brocade satin plaited to it in one box plait in the back, the rest gathered. The waist had a group of shrimp pink lap anse crape accented plaited, and in the front a fall of accented plaiting from throat to foot, held in at the waist loosely by a golden chain that started from under the arms. There was a rose plaited ruffle of the brocade, lined with pink around the back breadth, and short puffed sleeves.

The third one, which is pictured on the left, had a simulated Spanish jacket in front over a vest of pearl gray India silk. The entire skirt of this was accented plaited. The Spanish jacket in the back became a Watteau plait and formed a train falling a quarter of a yard on the floor. Short puffed sleeves to this also. The dark green jacket and train were wrought with silver oak leaves and acorns.

It is not absolutely necessary that a lady should put on an elaborate tea gown in the afternoon, even if she does expect friends to an informal or formal tea. A dress such as a friend of mine wore the other day is quite proper. It was of black brocade satin in the skirt, with corsage cut in turns of black velvet and position of the same, and opening over a vest of the brocade. The sleeves were of velvet, leg of mutton shape, with silver buttons. The whole gown had a quiet distinction about it that made it much admired.

SEAL WALKING COAT.
Visiting her that day was a lady in one of the new Polish costumes. They differ in many essentials from the Russian costume, and to my taste are more graceful. This particular one was made of thick camel's hair in indigo blue. The blouse was tight fitting and had a dark blue collar bound with gray fur astrakhan. It fastened on the left side with frogs and loops. The sleeves were of basket work in blue and black. The skirt was demitrian, slashed on each side over a velvet underskirt, the whole bound with gray astrakhan. The hat was tricorn of dark blue velvet and black plumes, with rhinestone ornaments.

There is to be a costume made in dark red, patterned after this model, which looks more handsome made up than any picture can show, and it gives a sort of piquancy to any face.

Recently I have noticed a tendency among our best dressers to endeavor to get rid of the ugly and awkward looking gloves and coats of congested furs in capes and yokes and other overloading and take to exceedingly quiet cloth walking jackets of exquisite quality, with absolutely no trimming upon them, and yesterday I saw a sealskin walking coat that was so truly elegant that I cannot refrain from noticing it, and also presenting it, to show how much handsomer it is than the ungainly wraps and garments we have been wearing. It is modeled to the figure and has a shawl collar of sable, with a fringe of sable tails around the arm. This model, reproduced in velvet or plush or mullase, with the fur collar, would be very handsome.

A stylish English walking suit recently made by a fashionable English tailor is another straw that shows that all women do not care for the present styles and have courage enough to break away from the popular craze.

This walking suit was made of thick corded biarriz, the skirt quite plain and the coat made to fit closely to the figure in the back. The front had a loose vest of gray bengaline, with a narrow ochre band around the neck. The sleeves have a loose puff at the top and five rows of jet beads around the forearm. The hat is of black velvet and gray satin ribbon. If the weather should be very cold a short cape of fur would be sufficient.

A very neat and pretty morning dress belonging to the sister of this same lady pleased me greatly. It was of elegant striped white and green upon gray. Around the bottom was a velvet band, plaited in clusters at short distances. A velvet plastron was placed on the chest and a belt of the same.

MATE LEROY.

DON'TS FOR HOMEMAKERS.

Don't put heavy drapery in small rooms.

Don't let the fashion of the hour override your common sense.

Don't have a big Chinese porcelain jar in a room only four times the width of the jar.

Don't use a table lamp of herculean proportions on a small table or in a small room.

Give the eye space as well as the lungs.

Space in the center of the room is as precious as the most costly piece of furniture.

Don't hang your pictures with the tops tipped out from the wall, but let both pictures and furniture, so far as possible, fall back against the wall, so that the individuals who dwell in the apartment will be the real decoration and the furniture and bric-a-brac an agreeable background.—Decorative Furnisher.

THIS APPLIES TO YOU.

You Will Do Well to Profit by it.

Many a man who formerly possessed a powerful physique and strong, steady nerves wonders at his feeling of weakness, dullness, exhaustion. There is an extremely nervous condition, a dull, cloudy sensation, disagreeable feeling in head and eyes, bad taste in mouth, mornings, the vision becomes dim, memory is impaired, and there is frequent dizziness, despondency and depression of mind. The nerves become so weakened that the least shock will flush the face or bring on a trembling with palpitation.

Luckily, there is the great and wonderful restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy which will give back to the weakened and exhausted system the strength it has lost, imparts vigor to brain and nerves, vitalizes and invigorates the physical powers, dispels despondency, and restores again the grand degree of luster, strength and power, which in ignorance or folly, we have exhausted. Druggists sell it, $1.00. Purely vegetable and harmless. Try it and you will never regret it.

"I deem it my duty to the public to state the wonderful effects of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in my case. My improvement has been most gratifying, and language cannot describe the change in my feelings and prospects.

Where all was gloom and despondency, there is now light and hope. I gained thirteen pounds and an steel gaining. Not alone myself, but I know many others who can testify to the merits of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

MRS. PRINCE ARRAIGNED.

She Was Held to the Grand Jury and is Out on

In police court this morning Mrs. Emma Prince, the woman who yesterday morning attempted to cut the throat of her faithless husband was arraigned and held to the grand jury in the sum of $300, on the charge of assault in the second degree. She was bailed out of jail by her father, John DeWolf, who is a resident of the city. A jury was sworn by Aldermen Kennedy and Helm who make excellent protectors for them in trouble at the West End.

Peter Sundwood, E. J. Fitzpatrick and T. Peterson were found guilty of drunkenness and sentenced to the county jail for ten days. John DeWolf denied the charge of drunkenness whereupon his trial by a jury was set for tomorrow morning. L. N. Wilson, charged with stealing a pair of pants from A. Albion, denied his guilt of petit larceny. A jury was waived and Judge Powell will decide the merits of the case this morning.

Frank Bannock, the fellow who has filed a motion for a new trial on the grounds that he was a jury because he did not know that he was entitled to one, and that when he found out that the law gave him that privilege the judge refused to allow him to withdraw the waiver and let a jury decide the case. The motion will be argued Saturday morning.

IRON RANGE TRAFFIC.

Statement of the Business Transacted by This Road During the Year Just Closed.

An Enormous Amount of Ore Carried—North-Bound Shipments Also Run Very High.

Alexander Poirier Last Evening Found a Farmer Nearly Frozen to Death and Resuscitated Him.

General Passenger and Freight Agent Vile, of the Duluth & Iron Range rail road, has kindly furnished The Herald with the following official figures of the tonnage carried by the road last year. The figures show a very large increase in every commodity handled and are gratifying alike to the stockholders and the general public:

NORTHBOUND.
Commodity.	Pounds.
Grain.	1,425,000
Flour.	2,125,000
Hay.	6,410,000
Other agricultural products.	1,250,000
Provisions.	9,285,000
Live stock.	3,465,000
Dressed meats.	3,540,000
Suit meats.	1,900,000
Coal.	42,450,000
Oil.	1,685,000
Manufactured iron.	5,812,500
Lime, cement and brick.	4,260,000
Liquors.	5,125,000
Miscellaneous.	91,225,800
Total.	167,462,700

SOUTHBOUND.
Commodity.	Pounds.
Iron ore.	2,616,150,000
Lumber.	70,975,000

SUMMARY.
Northbound.	167,462,700
Total.	2,903,012,700

Converted into tons this total means 1,451,456. Temperance advocates might find some material by studying the figure. It will be noticed that the amount of liquor carried was far greater than the grain and flour put together and nearly equalled the total amount of meat arrived. However, a great deal of the weight in liquor shipments is in the boxing.

ALMOST A DEATH.

A Farmer Named Raymond Nearly Freezes to Death.

That a farmer named Raymond, who lives a mile this side of Rice Lake, was not found frozen stiff and dead on the Rice Lake road this morning, is due to the watchful eyes of Mrs. Alexander Poirier, wife of the overseer of the poor farm, who told her husband about 6 o'clock last night that something was wrong up the road. A horse had been standing still there for over twenty minutes, and she had seen somebody lying down in the sleigh.

In a moment Mr. Poirier was wrapped in his great coat and running down the Rice Lake road, where he soon came upon Raymond, lying at full length upon the seat of his vehicle with his head and arms bent over the edge, dead drunk and fast asleep. The reins were lying on the ground and the horse was standing like a statue. All efforts to arouse the man were fruitless, so Mr. Poirier turned the horse around and drove to the poor farm.

The man was carried into the house and was stripped of his clothing and rubbed and gradually thawed out. He was not quite frozen but a quarter of an hour more of exposure would probably have caused his death. As soon as the warmth commenced to work upon him he vomited up his "jag" of bad whisky and sank into a heavy sleep. He was allowed to sleep for a couple of hours and then was fed and clothed, thoroughly sobered and sent home. This morning he came back and thanked Mr. Poirier for saving his life.

ARE AFTER AN ENGINEER.

Board of Public Works Will Get Alfred Noble, of Chicago, if Possible.

The board of public works has decided to drop its endeavors to secure Donald Dennis, of Baltimore, to pass judgment on the score of tunnel plans submitted in competition for the prize of $1000, offered by this city for the best scheme, on the grounds that he is too far away. Last night they telegraphed to Alfred Noble at Chicago to see on what terms he will act as judge. Last evening the council authorized the board to secure someone for that purpose if it can be done at a price not exceeding $300 and expenses.

Mr. Noble has been recommended to the board by Maj. Upham and is an eminent engineer. Among the work with which he has been connected is the bridge across the Missouri river at Bismarck, the bridge between Duluth and West Superior and some important work on the Soo canal. Word from him is expected by wire sometime today.

THE LIBRARY BOARD.

Periodicals Purchased For the West End Branch—Other Business.

The library board met last evening but transacted no business of more than ordinary importance. An encyclopedia and several dictionaries were also purchased for the West End branch.

An application of the Bethel board asking for an appropriation for periodicals for the reading room there was referred to the library committee. The proposition to make the library auxiliary to the school system by making the teachers responsible for the reading of the pupils was continued to next month. Bills to the amount of $650 were allowed.

Bill Requiring the Railway Companies to Make Selections of Swamp Land
Within One Year.

Fair Exhibit, Which Meets General
Approval of Members.

Measure Permitting Cities To Issue Bonds
and Other Purposes.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—There was a short session of the senate this morning. A bill was introduced by Senator Craig instructing railway companies to make their selection of swamp land within one year or else the state land commissioner shall do it for them. Senator E. R. Smith introduced a bill amending the probate code. Senator LaDue introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 for payment of contributors to World's fair fund for Minnesota. Senator Keller introduced a bill providing that all land condemned for railway purposes should revert to the original owners, if not used for five years.

In the house, F. M. Wilson introduced H. F. 48, a bill granting additional powers to cities, in issuing funds for public improvements in cities, also bridge and tunnel bonds at navigable streams, bays and for the use of such bridges and tunnels may be charged on railways and other corporations; also may issue water and light bonds and general fund bonds. No issue can be authorized in excess of 5 per cent of the assessed valuation.

OF INTEREST TO DULUTH.

Sainly City.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—Maj. C. C. Tear, Capt. W. W. Brown, Lieut. O. O. Wold and Dr. Alex. Forin, of Duluth companies of the Third regiment, were in St. Paul yesterday attending the annual meeting of the state militia. Officers will be elected today. Yesterday the session was taken up mainly with the reading of technical papers on militia duties, and especially marksmanship. Last night about sixty of the militia attended the Metropolitan opera to see Salvini in the "Three Guardsmen."

The State Agricultural society elected officers yesterday and decided to hold no state fair at the Columbian exposition next year. There was a general cleaning out of the old officers and a general policy of retrenchment and reform all along the line.

A. L. Graves, Mr. Radcliffe, the architect, and William McRae are here to attend a meeting of the Knights of Pythias today. J. E. Cooley is at the Windsor. Col. Don A. Dodge, Joel Heatwole and C. P. Maginnis were among the conspicuous figures around the lobbies of the hotels where the politicians do congress during the past few days.

There is less kicking here over the committees as appointed by President Clough and Speaker Lee than ever before. The appointments are much fairer than were expected from Mr. Lee, who it was repeated, said he had given everything in sight away in order to swing the Minneapolis delegation into line. Clough has been very fair to the Democrats. O'Brien, McMillan, Leavitt, Democrats, were given important chairmanships and nearly every one of the Democratic and Alliance members have places on five or six committees.

The World's fair board had a seance last night with the members of the legislature who were called together to discuss the World's fair matter and the passage of an appropriation of $100,000 to pay back the money contributed by liberal citizens to assist in the exhibit of the resources of the state at the World's fair. It was shown that over sixty-nine counties out of the eighty in the state had raised their full quota to the amount and that about $65,000 had been raised.

With this, the World's fair commission for Minnesota had erected a building costing $25,000 and had apportioned out toward making exhibits and giving prizes about $90,000. They expect to have at the World's fair the finest exhibit of live stock, of cereals, of minerals and of school work of any state in the Union. Several of the members of the legislature who were present had seen the Minnesota building at the World's fair and reported that it was in every way worthy of the state. The prevailing sentiment was strongly in favor of the measure appropriating $100,000. In fact, there was only one member opposed, and he stated that he was opposed to it because he was elected on a platform opposing the measure.

The Democrats appointed a committee of eight yesterday, five from the house and three from the senate, to propose a candidate for the senatorship against Davis. The Democrats claim that they will support Wilson, but leaders among them, like McHale, state that they are going in to defeat Davis if possible, and of course that means supporting the Alliance-Populist candidate, who is Merriam without a doubt.

Bills are being introduced by the dozen. Most of them go the judicial, tax and railroad and warehouse committees, and of course every one of these measures means a fight right from the start. There are a good many bills in also relative to purity in elections and relating to municipal corporations all of which will require careful study and consideration. The committees in both houses on municipal corporations are comparatively good ones and they are going to have their hands full to sift out the wheat from the chaff and thus get at the necessary general legislation to provide for rapidly growing cities.

Senator Tawney has not a bill in already for the special benefit of Winona, although under the amendment of the constitution, it had to be made general. Thus there will be oceans of special legislation made general and is bound to result in serious conflicts between general laws unless somebody watches all these bills very closely. There are Duluth men on the municipal corporation committees in both houses.

SENATOR KENNA IS DEAD.

After Acute Suffering For Many Years the West Virginia Senator Has Been Relieved By Death.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, died about 3 o'clock this morning from heart disease, from which he has been for some years an acute sufferer, so much so that for long intervals he had been compelled to abandon his duties as senator and forego all mental exertion.

Two summers ago, with a view of diverting his mind from his physical ailments, he established an amateur boat-builder's shop and busied himself in the mechanical operation of constructing a boat. He partially recovered and resumed his seat in the senate and made one memorable speech, which was remarkable both for its length and its vigor. He soon suffered a relapse, however, from which he never recovered.

His sufferings during the past few months of his life from heart spasms were so poignant to himself as well as to his family that death must have been looked upon as almost welcome.

Mr. Kenna was 45 years of age—the youngest man in the senate. His birthplace was Valcoulon, Va., since incorporated into West Virginia. He worked on a farm until the outbreak of the civil war, when he entered the Confederate army as a private and fought through until the end. He afterwards studied and practiced law until elected to congress. He served six years in the lower house and then in 1883 was elected to the senate as a Democrat. His term would have expired in 1895.

ONE FIREMAN KILLED.

A Freight on the Baltimore & Ohio Ran Into a Coal Train.

McKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 11.—Last evening about 5 o'clock a Baltimore & Ohio local freight ran away on a heavy grade and dashed into a coal train just ahead, killing Fireman Brown, of the local freight, and injuring two brakemen who live in Cumberland.

The wreck occurred at Bowman station on the Baltimore & Ohio near Sand Patch tunnel on the summit of the Allegheny mountains, about eighty miles from this city. The road was blockaded until this morning, and passengers on the through trains enjoyed a night on the mountain top with the mercury very below zero. All were well cared for by the railroad men.

THEY MAY BE LYNCHED.

Two Negroes Murdered a Family and Set the House on Fire.

COTTON PLANT, Ark., Jan. 11.—The bodies of Reuben Atkinson, his housekeeper and child were found yesterday in the ashes of their home three miles south of here. They had been murdered by negro cotton pickers, and the house set on fire to hide evidence of the crime.

Paul Stubbs and Henry Aller were arrested on suspicion and the latter made a confession, stating that Stubbs planned the murder for the purpose of securing $500 which Atkinson had in the house. The feeling against Stubbs and Aller is running high and it is scarcely possible they will escape lynching.

WHAT CANADA NEEDS.

Speech by the Leader of the Dominion
Liberals.

HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 11.—Hon. Wilfred Laurier, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, was banqueted by the Hamilton Young Men's Liberal club last night. In his address Mr. Laurier said that he believed the result of the last presidential election showed the great success of free trade, and predicted that free trade only could place Canada on an equal footing with the United States.

Unrestricted reciprocity or free trade in natural products with the country to the south was what Canada most wanted at present, and he believed with the Liberal party in power this measure could be obtained.

PERISHED IN A STORM.

A Michigan Man Who May Have Been Eaten
by Wolves.

AU TRAIN, Mich., Jan. 11.—Mat Lampini, a boarding house keeper six miles east of here, went out to look at section lines Sunday morning and has not returned. He cannot possibly have escaped death, as a terrible storm has been raging for forty-eight hours.

A rescuing party has been looking for him since Monday morning but has discovered no trace of him. He has probably been devoured by wolves, as there are large packs of these brutes in the woods.

Morgan Has Skipped.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 11.—Seth M. Morgan, the 69-year-old lawyer, who two weeks ago married Bessie Montgomery, a 12-year-old child, and narrowly escaped for parts unknown, forfeiting $2000 bonds in which he was held to appear to answer three charges of assault preferred by the child's mother, Morgan bore a good reputation until the startling revelations now being made regarding his real character.

A Fierce Storm.

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 11.—A terrible storm is raging here. The thermometer ranges from 10 to 14 below zero.

DOING BUSINESS!

Bogus--Fakish--Windy.

Some merchants are devoid of ideas of their own, consequently must imitate copy and steal from their better posted and wide-awake neighbors. Others advertise their entire stock at cost and less than cost all the year around and still LIVE.

Then again there is another class that only carries goods made expressly for their fine retail trade. Their Fruit of the Loom Muslin has a silk warp; their cotton batting is spun silk finished, and all such rank excuses as that in order to get a big profit. BEWARE of robbers of that caliber.

OUR ADVICE AS MERCHANTS

Is the same today as it was six years ago. Use your own judgment and buy where you can get the best goods for the least money. WHERE IS THAT PLACE? We say it is the largest store in any city in the world every time. The bargains they have given; the quality of goods they handle; the variety of goods has made them the largest. Their facilities for buying is superior, and the enormous expense of conducting many different branches of business is concentrated into one. Hence their ability to SELL GOODS CHEAP.

We Give Bargains. We Sell Goods at Cost. We Sell Goods Less Than Cost.

BUT WE ALSO SELL GOODS AT A PROFIT, so does every live merchant.

We are going to take inventory the last day of the month.

We are going to move into the finest store in Minnesota between the 10th and 15th of next month, and for the above two reasons we are going to have a

A JOINT CONFERENCE.

West Duluth and Duluth Charter Revision Committees Discuss Matters.

There was a meeting in the council chamber yesterday afternoon between the charter revision committees of Duluth and West Duluth. The West Duluthians present were Messrs. Rockwell, Holmes, Bagley, H. H. Phelps and Village Attorney De Vore. This city was represented by Aldermen Weiss, Nelson, Sorensen and City Attorney Smith. An act providing for municipal court at West Duluth was found unnecessary, such an arrangement is embodied under the act that provides for the union of the two municipalities.

The method of enforcing assessments proved the hardest nut to crack. There were wide differences of opinion between the committees, but all was harmony. The opinion was held by City Attorney Smith that all contracts made by West Duluth, subsequent to the passage of the annexation act were subject to its operation and that the assessments must be collected under the act in force at the time the assessment was made. All admitted his position and to save all risk of litigation it was decided to prepare a bill and submit it to the legislature, in which it will be provided that when a village is annexed to a city its contracts shall be carried out as if no annexation had taken place.

The drawing of that bill was turned over to Messrs. S. L. Smith, De Vore and H. H. Phelps. A joint committee will pass upon the work when it is finished.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Yon Yonson."

"Yon Yonson" opened to a crowded house at the Temple last evening, and everybody was pleased. The play has been somewhat rearranged and is all the better for it. Gus Heege in his Swedish dialect role has made for himself a permanent place on the stage, just as some of the noted actors have done in other dialects. This fact is beginning to be recognized, and Heege's continued success is certain. At present he is enjoying great popularity, and everywhere "Yon Yonson" is drawing the greatest houses of the season. The comedy elements of the play is irresistible and brings roars of laughter, and the pathetic portions are just as touching as the others are comical. Miss Merri Osbourne as Jennie Morris is clever and bright, and Miss Maud Edna Hall as Grace Jennings is very good. Miss Sadie Connelly, as Mrs. Lafflin, proprietress of the hotel, is inimitable and could hardly be excelled in this character. The male support, while not particularly strong, is good.

James Whitcomb Riley will appear at the Lyceum tomorrow evening in readings of his own poems. The poetry that flows from the good goose quill of James Whitcomb Riley preserves to us in the best form the idioms and characteristics of one of the ruling tribes of the Mississippi valley. About this log cabin, blue jeans, fever 'n' agur aristocracy, there has been but little poetry written. About them, in the future, there will be much good literature written. The material is of real historic and social value. The people of whom Riley's poems are written are the great play, people with whom so much rests for good or ill in this country. These subduers of forests and makers of states are our jury class, whose verdicts nearest reflect justice. They are the Americans so little referred to in the stress of political contention. Of this class people James Whitcomb Riley has written most truly and lovingly. His works glorify the name American.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

Of the Schumann Lady quartet, which will sing at the Temple Friday evening, the Chicago Herald says: "The Schumann Lady quartet contributed a number. These ladies sing better and better. Their singing is a surprise and a delight. Their expression and phrasing and exactness of attack show that they are both conscientious and painstaking in their work. They well deserve their success." Professor Wentworth, the elocutionist, is also highly spoken of.

ANOTHER STRIKE PROBABLE.

The Carnegie Company May Have More Trouble at Homestead.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—Discontentment exists among the men in the Homestead steel works. This dissatisfaction is no greater among the ex-strikers than among the non-unionists, who claim that they are not being paid the wages promised them by agents of the Carnegie Steel company throughout the country when they entered the service of the firm.

The growing of the old bands becomes more ominous each day, and it is the opinion not only of the men who work in the mill but of Homestead citizens generally that by spring the Carnegie company will have another Homestead strike on its hands.

The scale presented by the company last June, it has all along been claimed by the firm, contemplated a reduction in the wages of only the high priced men. It is under this scale, it was stated by a company official in Homestead yesterday, that the men are now working. The returned strikers deny this and produce figures to substantiate their assertions.

Under the old scale cupola foreman in the old converter were paid $2.56 per 100 tons; iron tappers $1.68 per 100 tons and lademen $1.68 per 100 tons. A comparison of these rates with those at present paid in the new converting mill show cupola foreman now receive $1.31 per 100 tons; iron tappers 61 cents per 100 tons and lademen $1.40 per 100 tons.

Under the old scale eight hour turns were the rule, while now the converting mill men sweeter twelve hours for a turn. Like reduction in wages and corresponding increase in hours is in effect in every department.

Should it come to a question of organizing for another strike which, judging from present indications, is not at all improbable, the non-union men in the works will be taken, as they are as loud if not louder in their denunciation of the treatment they have received at the hands of the company as are the ex-strikers.

A ROYAL MARRIAGE.

Princess Marie of Edinburgh Wedded to the Crown Prince of Roumania.

SIGMARINGEN, Jan. 11.—Amid royal pomp and splendor and surrounded by European sovereigns or their representatives, Princess Marie of Edinburgh was married yesterday afternoon to Prince Ferdinand, crown prince of Roumania.

Among those who witnessed the civil ceremony, which was performed at 2 o'clock by Dr. Von Wedel, Emperor William's household minister, were the duke and duchess of Edinburgh, the parents of the bride, King Charles of Roumania, uncle of the bridegroom; Prince Leopold, of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, father of the bridegroom; the members of the Roumanian ministry, the presidents of both branches of the Roumanian parliament and the immediate members of the families of the bride and groom.

The Schloss, the residence of Prince Ferdinand's father, was entirely too small to accommodate the large number of guests who attended the wedding and prevent any discomfort. Prince Ferdinand and Princess Marie gave a reception, which lasted a long time, to all the guests and the various deputations that had traveled to Sigmaringen to offer their congratulations.

SHORT CUT TO THE SAN JUAN.

A Captain Proposes to Shoot the Rapids Where Many Have Perished.

GREEN RIVER, Utah, Jan. 11.—If the Colorado river could be navigated the shortest and easiest route to the San Juan gold fields would be via this place and Dandy Crossing. From the latter place to the mouth of the San Juan the river has no rapids.

Capt. Arthur Wheeler started yesterday from here in the thirty-five foot launch May, Powell to shoot the cataract canyons rapids, the rough which but two boats have ever passed, though many men have been killed in the attempt. The captain believes that the twin screws with which the boat is equipped will carry him through. If he reaches Dandy Crossing he will run regular trips to the San Juan.

Worst Storm for Years.

MANISTEE, Mich., Jan. 11.—The worst storm in years has raged here since Sunday night. All public schools are closed. The snow is piled in huge drifts. Monday night's 10 o'clock train on the Flint & Pere Marquette road did not get in until 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Warning. All persons are hereby warned against purchasing or selling stock certificate No. 706, for fifty (50) shares of the capital stock of the Great Northern Mining company, issued to Almo Johnson.

The above certificate of stock is supposed to have been destroyed by fire in the Farguson block, Dec. 23, 1892, or stolen.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

A Doctor Killed Instantly By His Former Mistress.

PAUL'S VALLEY, I. T., Jan. 11.—Yesterday afternoon Dr. L. L. Shelton was called to attend Mrs. Nora Capps, who was reported dangerously ill.

When the doctor entered the house, he was upbraided by Mrs. Capps for deserting her after a criminal intimacy last year. Dr. Shelton turned to leave the house, when Mrs. Capps grabbed a Winchester and fired, the ball entering the doctor's neck, killing him instantly. Mrs. Capps and her husband have been arrested.

An Important Change.

The South Shore road has increased its passenger service from Duluth by putting on an additional passenger train, leaving here at 11 a. m. By taking this train passengers for the Gogebic range arrive at Hurley at 4:15 p. m., a considerably shorter trip than by other routes.

This train also makes direct connection with the Michigan Central for Saginaw, Detroit and all lower Michigan and Canadian points, and in the Union depot Detroit with the North Shore limited for Buffalo, Rochester, New York and Boston.

The "Detroit Passenger" arrives at Mackinaw City early in the morning following its departure from Duluth, making close connection with the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad for Grand Rapids and all points South adjacent to that line.

The Duluth express will leave Duluth daily at 7:30 p. m., as heretofore with Wagner buffet sleeping car attached, running through to Sault Ste. Marie and connecting there with Canadian Pacific train which hauls a sleeping car running through to Boston.

The Boston express will make a close connection with the Milwaukee & Northern railroad at Champaign and with the Chicago & Northwestern at Neenah for Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Marinette and Green Bay.

Pleasure and Profit.

The desire for residing in a climate possessing qualities alike adapted to the benefits of people of weak lungs, catarrh, delicate throats, etc., is growing stronger and stronger from year to year. The mere accumulation of money at the expense of health is not regarded in the same favor as formerly. The combination of pleasure and profit is now regarded as most desirable. In no place in America is there a point where this combination exists to a greater degree than Galveston county, Texas. The wonderful growth of North Galveston and the handsome profits that are being steadily made there, both by capitalists and men of small means, has been attracting the attention of investors from all parts of the United States. The literature of the North Galveston association giving fully detailed information on the subject can be obtained from D. W. Scott, Duluth, Minn., local agent of the association. ## BEN BUTLER IS DEAD

The Great Lawyer and Politician Died Suddenly in Washington This Morning From Heart Failure.

This Was the Direct Result of Pneumonia, Which Was Developed From a Severe Cold.

The News Caused Great Surprise Throughout the Country as No One Knew He Was Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Gen. Benjamin F. Butler is dead. He died at 1:30 this morning and the news caused great surprise. Gen. Butler's home in Washington of late years, since he turned over to government use his big granite castle on Capitol hill, has been in a handsome brick residence owned by him at 220 New Jersey avenue southeast, also in the neighborhood of the capitol. There his two nieces, Mrs. Lanier Dunn and Miss Stevens, kept house for him.

His extensive law practice kept him very much in this city during the winter months when the supreme court is in session. During the present winter a case which had been decided against him in the highest courts of the state of Massachusetts and in which he took an appeal to the supreme court has demanded almost his constant residence in this city. Every Monday, when the decisions were rendered, Gen. Butler's face would be seen in the front rank of the attorneys in attendance. A few weeks ago the case was decided against him. If he took the matter to heart he did not manifest it in his demeanor. He pursued his work with apparently unimpaired vigor.

An old litigation since decided, in which Gen. Butler was tenaciously fighting for a legal fee which he alleged was due from the state, was on the docket. The court was obliged to refuse the request of the general to take immediate action. Gen. Butler came over from New York on Friday last. He was taken ill on the train but recovered, and no marked premonitions of his sudden death manifested themselves. There had been some apparent increase of feebleness in his gait recently, but not more so than might be expected from his advanced age—74. This was partly due to his increasing bulk, and the fact that he had weak ankles and exceptionally small feet upon which to support so heavy a weight.

His faculties remained unimpaired. He went to the war department after leaving the court in the afternoon, looking after some business, and during the day took a severe cold which later developed into pneumonia. Nevertheless he sat down to dinner at his home with his accustomed cheerfulness, and afterwards sat chatting with the members of the household.

The subject of sudden death was one upon which he had frequently spoken, and he had predicted that he would go off like a flash some day. He had no dread of sudden death; on the contrary he had said frequently he would prefer to go suddenly rather than to linger and suffer. He spoke of Mr. Blaine in this connection at dinner and asked how he was. Being informed that he was holding his own, he replied: "Mark me; I will outlive us all yet."

Gen. Butler retired last night at 11 o'clock and soon after midnight his colored body servant, West, who has accompanied him on all his journeys for the last ten or fifteen years and who slept in an adjoining room, heard him coughing violently. He went into the general's bedroom to see if he could be of any assistance, but found that the general had passed on to the bath room adjoining. Thither West followed and offered his assistance.

The general mentioned that his expectation had been discolored with blood. He did not appear to think seriously of the matter, however, and after his valet had assisted him to his bed he said: "That's all, West. You need not do anything more," and apparently went to sleep. He had lain on his bed but a few moments, however, when his heavy breathing caused alarm.

L. Dunn, his nephew, who resided in the same house, started in search of medical assistance. It was fully fifteen minutes before he could secure aid. The end was apparently painless, and according to the doctor's certificate was brought about by heart failure, superinduced by an acute attack of pneumonia. Telegrams announcing Gen. Butler's death were sent to his surviving children.

HISTORY OF HIS LIFE.

A Notable Career That Was Unique in Many Particulars.

Gen. Benjamin F. Butler was born in Deerfield, N. H., on Nov. 5, 1818, and was the son of Capt. John Butler, who served under Jackson at New Orleans. He was admitted to the bar, and afterwards elected to the state legislature of Massachusetts and in 1850 was a delegate to the Democratic national convention, but withdrew with other delegates, saying that he did so "upon the ground that I would not sit in a convention where the African slave trade, which is piracy by the laws of my country, is approvingly advocated." In the same year he was the Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts, but was defeated.

When President Lincoln called for troops in April 1861, he marched to Annapolis with the Eighth Massachusetts regiment and occupied Baltimore without opposition. He was made a major general on May 16 and assigned to the command of Fort Monroe. While he was here, some slaves that had come within his lines were demanded by their masters, but he refused to deliver them up on the ground that they were contraband of war; hence arose the designation of "contrabands," often applied to slaves during the war. In May 1862, he took possession of the city of New Orleans. His administration of affairs was marked by great vigor. He instituted strict sanitary regulations, armed the free colored men, and compelled rich secessionists to contribute toward the support of the poor of the city. His course in hanging William Mumford for hauling down the United States flag from the mint, and in issuing "Order No. 28," intended to prevent women from insulting soldiers, excited strong resentment, not only in the South, but in the North and abroad, and in December 1862, Jefferson Davis issued a proclamation declaring him an outlaw.

On May 10, 1862, Gen. Butler seized about $800,000 which had been deposited in the office of the Dutch consul, claiming that arms for the Confederates were to be bought with it. This action was protested against by all the foreign consuls, and the government at Washington, after an investigation, ordered the return of the money. On Dec. 16, 1862, Gen. Butler was recalled, as he believed, at the instigation of Louis Napoleon, who supposed the general to be hostile to his Mexican schemes. Two years later he was removed from his command by Gen. Grant.

In 1866 he was elected by the Republicans to congress and served there until 1870. He was the most active of the managers appointed in 1868 by the house of representatives to conduct the impeachment of President Andrew Jackson. He was the unsuccessful candidate for governor of Massachusetts in 1871; was candidate of the Independent Greenbackers for the same office and was again defeated.

In 1882 he was elected by the Democrats; was renominated in 1883, but was defeated. In 1884 he was the candidate of the greenbackers and anti-monopolists for president and received 133,825 votes. During his administration as governor of Massachusetts he made a change of the greenbackers and anti-monopolists of the Tewksbury almshouse, and the papers were filled with the awful stories which were related. It was said that when inmates of the almshouse died, their skin was removed and tanned and made into shoes and slippers. The charges created great excitement, and all New England was aroused. A committee of the legislature, after a long investigation, decided that the charge was not sustained.

During the last years of his life Gen. Butler stuck very closely to the practice of law, and he is reputed to have received several enormous fees in important cases. He was a familiar figure in the supreme court of the United States, and was undoubtedly one of the greatest lawyers of the present age. The general was inclined to treat with more or less contempt any judge who differed from him on points of law, and this brought him into trouble several times, with the result that he was fined for contempt and once he was dragged out of court. The latter instance is worth recalling. It was in the case of Mrs. Johnson, convicted of perjury in a pension application in the United States district court at Boston, before Judge Carpenter, of Rhode Island. Gen. Butler, who was counsel of Mrs. Johnson, incurred the displeasure of Judge Carpenter, whom the general later characterized as "an inferior judge of an inferior court of an inferior state," and was forbidden by Carpenter to again appear before that court. Gen. Butler thereupon carried his right of appearance to the United States supreme court.

As a result Mrs. Johnson appeared for sentence without counsel. The judge asked her who was her counsel. "Gen. Butler," was the answer. "Well," said the judge, "he can not appear before this court." Gen. Butler was sent for by his client and appeared in the court room about 1 o'clock. District Attorney Allen, when he entered, moved for sentence, upon which Gen. Butler arose to address the court. Judge Carpenter, saying that the general was disorderly, ordered Marshal Delaherty to remove him from the court room.

The marshal, and an assistant advanced to Gen. Butler's side and took him by the arms. Gen. Butler again endeavored to address the court, when his honor called out: "Mr. Marshal! Marshal Delaherty said to Gen. Butler, 'You hear the order of the judge, general?'"

Gen. Butler—I am ready to—
His Honor—Remove him, Mr. Marshal. I can't allow him to create any further disturbance.
Gen. Butler—I am here—
Before he could finish the sentence he was taken hold of by the marshal and his assistants and escorted from the room. General Butler's voice was very much affected, and his eyes full of tears, as he exclaimed: "I yield to force." When the marshal released him in the corridor Gen. Butler immediately returned to the court room. The judge had just left the bench, however, and the general, having looked around and seeing the bench vacant, exclaimed: "Well, the room smells a little better now. It did a few minutes ago." He then left the court.

This was but one of several personal encounters that the general had with the courts. The general was in St. Paul about three years ago and appeared in the United States court in an important case. He was then in apparently feeble health, and his form was bowed by age. About a year ago he published an autobiography, giving reminiscences of his eventful career.

ON SUNDAY OPENING.

Hearing by the World's Fair Committee of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The hearing of the World's Columbian exposition committee of the house on the Sunday opening question was begun yesterday. The committee room was filled with members of the city government of Chicago and other persons, including four women interested in the subject. For thirty minutes after the hearing began Chairman Durbin and Messrs. Little and Dingley were the only members present. Representative Reilly later arrived and Elliott F. Shepard, Attorney General Hunt, of Illinois, and several Illinois congressmen followed.

Mayor Hempstead Washburne opened the hearing and introduced City Clerk Van Cleave, who read the memorial of the Chicago city council praying that the gates of the fair be not closed on Sunday, that the buildings be kept open for the inspection of exhibits, and that full opportunities be afforded for the holding of religious ceremonies by all creeds.

Mayor Washburne then addressed the committee in support of the memorial. The act creating the fair declared that it was to be a national and international one. Therefore, the question was whether the government would keep its faith with all the nations of the world. He held that under the preamble creating the exhibition, congress must so legislate as to benefit the majority of those for whom it was created. It was to be an exposition for all the people of every race and creed; the Mohammedan and Hindoo who know nothing of our religion; the few who observe another religion; the Christian who regard Sunday as a day of recreation and the people who know no religion.

There was also a constitutional question involved. If the gates were to be closed on the ground urged by those persons who insisted on Sunday closing as showing that this country recognized the Christian religion as the religion of the land, it would not be authorized by our constitution. To close the gates on the first day of the week, in order to recognize the Christian religion, would clearly establish a religion by federal law.

The Chicago people did not ask for Sunday opening from sentimental reasons, but in the name of a million and a quarter of Americans who live from day to day by the wages of their hands in the name of eleven cities in the state of Illinois, sixteen in Indiana, nine in Michigan, seven in Wisconsin, three in Kentucky, two in Missouri, four in Ohio, six in Iowa, all of which are within a radius of 300 miles of Chicago. Each of these cities was a manufacturing center and they were all working hard to get down their work on Saturday night, visit the fair on Sunday and be back at the bench Monday morning.

The mayor then urged the committee to listen to the "common people," who were not here and said little, but whose voices were as numerous as the snow flakes and fell as noisily into the American verdict box. If the exposition was for the rich and powerful who could visit by train at any time, his case was silenced, but not so, if it was for the common people, for their pleasure and instruction.

Alfred Madden, on behalf of the people of Chicago, asked that the fair be opened on Sunday so that they might be better able to entertain their visitors, and that the money from the exposition be used for the benefit of the people.

President Comptroller of the American Federation of Labor appeared in pursuance to the instructions of the organization and urged Sunday opening. The working people, he declared, were in favor of Sunday opening. It was a practical question, and Sunday was the best day for the laboring people, for whose benefit the fair was created.

As soon as the World's fair committee concluded its hearing the representatives of the American Sabbath union held a meeting in the committee room and mapped out a program in opposition to opening the Columbian exposition on Sunday. Representatives from the union from all the Eastern cities and Chicago were present. Col. Shepard presided.

The matter was discussed for two hours and a half, and speakers were appointed to address the World's fair committee on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. A committee was appointed to draft a short letter protesting against opening the fair on Sunday, and send it to all members of the senate and house, and a committee of four, with Col. Shepard as chairman, was appointed to wait on the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general regarding the legal aspects of the case.

MOVEMENT OF THE STORM.

Warmer Weather and Snow in the Upper Mississippi Valley.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The storm central Tuesday morning off the New England coast has disappeared over the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This storm was attended by high northwesterly winds along the Atlantic coast north of Florida.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 11.—A special to the News from Chestertown, Md., says that four of the eight negroes under sentence to be hanged on Friday have been reprieved. As soon as the report became current, the lynching spirit which has been so manifest but held in check by the belief that Governor Brown would not interpose asserted itself, and it is stated that there will be trouble before night.

Governor Brown is in Baltimore but he declined an interview until later in the day.

THE FLY WHEEL BURST.

An Awful Accident Which Caused One Death and Fatally Injured Others.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—By the sudden bursting of an immense fly-wheel in the rod mill of the Oliver & Robertson yesterday, one man was killed, two fatally, two seriously and several slightly injured.

John Orient, aged 38, married, was struck in the stomach by a piece of the flying metal and died within three minutes. Ferdinand Eben was fatally injured; Michael Schneider, fatally injured; Adolph Stark, badly bruised and cut; Andrew Juchan, badly cut; John Nordock, legs shattered and several others received less serious injuries.

The accident occurred without the slightest warning. The big wheel on the main engine in the mill was revolving at its usual speed. In an instant the big mill was filled with flying pieces of metal, fairly hissing through the air. Following the crash the mill filled with scalding steam and stifling dust.

In a moment this had cleared away, revealing an awful spectacle. Those uninjured were in a frenzy of terror. Workmen from other departments hastened to the scene, summoned ambulances and tenderly cared for those in need of attention. The machinery of the mill is badly wrecked.

MR. BLAINE MUCH BETTER

He Rested Quietly and Comfortably Last Night and His Condition This Morning Was Improved.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The long watches of the night brought no change in the condition of Mr. Blaine. This was contrary to expectation, for the serious attacks of the early hours of the preceding days and the alarming symptoms of Saturday night had caused the minds of physicians and watchers to apprehend a turn for the worse in the hours bordering on midnight. But these unfavorable symptoms did not appear.

The physicians, Drs. Johnson and Hyatt, left their patient at 10 o'clock last night after becoming convinced that there was no immediate danger. The doors of the mansion were opened early this morning. At 5 o'clock the attendant at the door stated that Mr. Blaine had rested quietly and comfortably during the night and was much better.

Among the latest callers were Mrs. Eugene Hale, of Maine, who remained in the house an hour. Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt. All callers were informed that "Mr. Blaine is very much better indeed this morning."

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

Royalties are Displaying More Than Usual Activity at Present.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—There is a strong feeling in the chamber of deputies as well as among the general public that M. Ribot has not sufficiently purged the ministry of those who, whether innocent or guilty, have been under suspicion in connection with the Panama scandal.

The public demand is strongly for a thorough investigation without hampering influence and for a ministry free from the breath of scandal. If M. Ribot should fail to explain to the satisfaction of the chamber the reasons for the changes which have been made in the ministry, the royalists will interpose him on the subject. The royalists have shown greatly increased activity during the last twenty-four hours.

Later—in deference to the overwhelming public demand for a more thorough investigation without hampering influence and for a ministry free from the breath of scandal. If M. Ribot should fail to explain to the satisfaction of the chamber the reasons for the changes which have been made in the ministry, the royalists will interpose him on the subject. The royalists have shown greatly increased activity during the last twenty-four hours.

Governor Altgeld of Illinois Inducted into Office Before a Big Crowd.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11.—Governor Altgeld, the first Democrat to occupy the executive chair of Illinois in forty years, was inducted into office at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony took place in the representatives hall before the houses of the legislature.

The governor in his inaugural address recommended the immediate repeal of the present compulsory education act and the enactment of a measure lacking the offensive features of the existing law; that the pocketing of public moneys be stopped and the payment of officials for the same be eliminated; that the partisanship from the management of the state's public institutions; a policy that will tend to the building of good roads in every county in the state; the establishment of many industries for such employment of convict labor as will interfere as little as possible with the markets and outside labor and industries; and more thorough legislation against the employment of child labor in factories and shops.

It is estimated that over 30,000 people were present from all parts of the state to celebrate the event of inaugurating the executive.

A PRIEST IS DEANGED.

He Was Running at Large With a Loaded Revolver.

CLINTON, Wis., Jan. 11.—Considerable excitement prevailed here yesterday morning when it was learned that Rev. Father Honeyman, pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic church, was deanged and at large with a loaded revolver in his hands.

He was finally captured, and his hands were so badly frozen that he was unable to use the pistol. Both feet and his face were also frozen. His condition last night was much worse.

Cadwallader Skipped.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 11.—There was consternation among the bondsmen of Albert A. Cadwallader, of West Superior, yesterday when the news was telegraphed that his bond of $10,000 had been forfeited by his non-appearance in the United States court. He is charged with embezzlement from the Superior National bank. It is said that he has left the state.

IT WILL BE A SUCCESS

The Waterway to the Sea Convention Will Open at Washington at Eleven O'Clock Tomorrow.

Delegates Are "On Their Way to Attend From Almost Every Point of the Compass.

The Principal Session to Occur Tomorrow Night When the Members of Congress Will Be Present.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—[Special to The Herald.]—Secretary Thompson said today that he no longer has any fear that the deep waterway convention would not be a success from every possible standpoint. He has been notified from every point of the compass that delegates have been appointed and will be here in time to take part in the convention's sessions.

Mr. Thompson says that the convention will be called to order at 11 o'clock tomorrow and a temporary organization effected. A recess will then be taken until afternoon, when permanent organization will be made and a committee on resolutions, which will promulgate plans in regard to the deep waterway movements and a ship canal, will be appointed.

The principal session will be tomorrow night, when members of congress, cabinet ministers and other prominent officials will attend. Mr. Thompson believes that the convention will be able to complete its work on Friday. He believes today that a majority of the delegates will arrive tomorrow morning.

FURNITURE DEALERS MEET.

A Gathering at Chicago to Form a National Association.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Furniture men from all over the country assembled in Recital hall at the Auditorium yesterday for the purpose of effecting a national association of furniture dealers.

Col. Martin Emerich, of this city, who was chosen temporary chairman of the meeting, said in explaining its objects that the retailers and dealers of this country were the poorest organized or least protected from fraud of any line of merchants in the country.

It was proposed, he said, to adopt measures which would insure a satisfactory classification of freight rates and prevent manufacturers from dealing directly with consumers.

TO CURE THE DEFECTS.

Two Bills to Amend the Interstate Commerce Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The house committee on commerce decided to report two bills to amend the interstate commerce law so as to meet the supreme court decision in the celebrated Cullen case and also Judge Gresham's recent decision.

The committee practically adopts the senate bill, which provides for complete immunity to witnesses testifying in regard to violations of the law. The Gresham decision is met in the way pointed out by the judge in his opinion, by providing a penalty for refusal to obey summons of the commission.

The Wisconsin Legislature.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 11.—The Wisconsin legislature convened at noon today and the organization in both branches was perfected by the Democrats in accordance with the caucus program. R. J. MacBride, of Clark county, was chosen president pro tem of the senate. Edward Keogh, of Milwaukee, was confirmed as speaker by the majority in the lower house.

Murderers Strung Up.

BRINKLEY, Ark., Jan. 11.—The two colored murderers, Ruggs and Henry Allen, confined in jail here, were taken from their place of confinement last night by a mob numbering fully 200. They were taken to the scene of their atrocious deed and strung up. Afterwards their bodies were riddled with bullets.

Murphy Nominated.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 11.—In the Democratic caucus in Albany the senators voted for Edward Murphy, jr., for United States senator except Senator McClelland and William L. Brown, who voted for W. H. Coker. All the assemblymen voted for Murphy except three, who voted for Coker. The vote was: Murphy, 85; Coker, 5.

Brains and Brawn.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Rev. Father John Conway, editor of the St. Paul Northwestern Chronicle, arrived in this city yesterday en route to Europe. Father Conway is not the bearer of Archbishop Ireland charges against Archbishop Corrigan, Father Lavelle, Father Ferranti and others for the very good reason that the disposition of these charges, that is as to the tribunal before which they shall be tried, rests with the papal legate, Mgr. Satolli. Father Conway's trip is simply a vacation. He is a veritable young Irish giant but he looks as brainy as brawny.

Rival Speakers Snore.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 11.—All night long the two Kansas houses of representatives remained in representative hall. Some of the members who had sufficient forethought sent out early last night for cots and they were scattered throughout the room. Behind the speakers two cots were placed, and the snoring of the rival speakers were as discordant as the views of the two opposing parties.

Deadlock Broken.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 11.—The senatorial deadlock which has blocked the business of the several state departments for over a week was broken this morning by a combination of the Democrats and Independent senators. The organization of the senate was complete by the combine.

FASHION'S MIRROR.

The fashionable ribbed velvets are used far more for coats to be worn with skirts of cloth or silk than for entire costumes.

The inevitable foot ruche on many of the newest bridal dresses is made of the most expensive of white marabout feathers.

Skirt trimmings in order to add to the very flaring effects, are carried up half the length of the skirt on both elaborate evening toilets and dressy day gowns.

New empire tea gowns are made of flowered silks, fine French cashmires prettily figured, plain bengalines and soft, undressed satins, with both light and dark backgrounds sprinkled with small brilliant flowers.

Broadened dresses are made as a rule with princess coat back and a corset front, with a girdle of crepe de chine showing above. A jacket piece, in a half circle shape, is added and sewed in with the under arm seams.

The fur neck scarf which has been worn since cold weather began has a very realistic appearance, which some admire and others greatly dislike. One end is long, hanging to the waist, the other shows the head, claws and paws of the animal.

Some of the new dress skirts are slightly gored on the front and side breasted. These gowns are then gathered at the top to fill the size of the waist. The skirt in the back is arranged either in the popular comet style or has one wide vouture plait as a finish.

A very popular half cape, cut like an immense Charles IX collar and applied to both empire and directoire dresses, is growing more and more in favor. It looks like a huge reverse in front and fits a cape collar pushed down on the shoulders in the back.

CEMETERY BY A STORE

An Old Graveyard in New York That Is Surrounded By a Large Dry Goods Mart.

Many of Those Who Are Its Silent Tenants Were Fugitives from the Spanish Inquisition.

Quaint Epitaphs Mark the Last Resting Place of Many of the Old Hebrew Settlers.

Of the thousands of shoppers who have ascended the rear stairs of a large dry goods store in Sixth avenue, New York, many have been surprised to find and have paused to gaze upon the graveyard in the rear, almost completely surrounded by the store. It is cold, unlovely, and its situation adds to its quaintness. It has been the subject of many inquiries, which have elicited no answers, as there is no one about whose time of service or memory dates back far enough into the history of that section of the city to gratify the curious.

This cemetery contains the bodies of some 200 men who have played an important part in the world's history—political, religious and commercial. Therein lie the remains of members of the first colony of Spanish Hebrews who ever immigrated into this country. It is said that many of them were fugitives from the Spanish inquisition. There are also among them the bodies of many men who distinguished themselves in the world of affairs in the metropolis, and whose names have not been forgotten by the present generation, they having been perpetuated by the great achievements of the notable men who bore them.

The quaint epitaphs, with Hebrew and English inscriptions, are monuments to such men as Major Noah, the founder and for many years editor of Noah's Sunday Times; the Nathans, the Levys, the Henriques, the Peiskots, of Argentine fame; the Joneses, Messes, the greatest ship-owners of the past century; Jacob S. Solis, "born A. B. 24, 546 (Aug. 4, 1780, of the Christian era), died 1859, aged 48 years;" Joshua Nave, David Carter, "a merchant of the island of St. Croix, who died in 1839, aged 59 years;" Jacob Isaacs, Samuel A. Judah and many more ancestors of the most distinguished Hebrew families of the present day and of the Spanish-Hebrew congregation, whose imposing mosaic synagogue is on Nineteenth street, just west of Fifth avenue.

This cemetery belongs to this congregation, which is the oldest and the wealthiest in the city, dating back over 200 years. According to information gathered from persons in a position to know, this colony first went from Spain to the West Indies, whence they emigrated to Newport, R. I., and later (about 1670) came to New York. The congregation owns three other cemeteries, two of which at least are known to but few, although in thickly populated parts of the city. The first one is on the corner of Oliver and Madison streets. It was founded in 1681 on a high hill that then adjoined the large plot of ground which the congregation purchased in 1720 and extends to Chatham street (now Park row), which was then called the King's highway. The common council having passed an ordinance forbidding burial in that section of the city as it became built up, a portion of the plot of ground that had not been used as a cemetery was sold and is now covered by all sorts of dwellings and business houses, the entrance to the cemetery being then placed on Oliver street, where it still remains. It is now partly hidden from view by the numerous buildings which surround it.

Being practically driven from that plot the congregation then purchased a new plot of ground where is now the corner of Eleventh street and Sixth avenue, and where it established its second cemetery. When Eleventh street was made the larger portion of this cemetery was appropriated by the city, and the little stream that meandered among the graves was filled up. The only portion of that cemetery which now remains has attracted the attention of the passerby for many years, and has also been the subject of numerous inquiries, owing both to its peculiar location and shape.

This little triangular cemetery contains only twenty-three gravestones, bearing dates from 1825 to 1831. Its largest portion is not more than 13 feet wide by 25 long. A wealthy merchant, who offered the congregation a very high price for this piece of ground when he built the flat that adjoins it on the southeast side, but the congregation will not sell at any price, it being composed of orthodox Jews, who look upon graveyards, as they express it themselves, "with sacred and reverential eyes." It was when this cemetery was sequestered by the march of the great city that the one which is partially in the dry goods store, and which is the most remarkable of all, was founded in 1829. This in turn was abandoned because of another ordinance of the common council prohibiting burials within the city limits passed in 1831.

A fourth cemetery was then founded, and is consequently the only one now in use. It is situated opposite Cypress Hill cemetery on Long Island, five miles from Williamsburg ferry. The first gravestone there bears date of Aug. 5, 1831. It is large and contains many members of all the families of this old and historical congregation, whose ancestors, living, were pursued by the inquisition, the incarceration of police and ignorance, and dead, by the onward march of progress, the aggrandizement of a city which is the incarnation of civilization, enlightenment, learning and tolerance—religious as well as political.

There is in Oxfordshire, England, a churchyard which is older than any of the above, and which contains the oldest and the oldest English epitaph known. It dates from the year 1170. To modern readers it would be uninteresting, not only from its antique typography, but also from its obsolete language. The first two lines run as follows, and may be taken as a sample of the whole.

Man come and see
When you come and see here;
Noth have ven we away fare;
All ye werines ye ve care.

Rendered in modern English it would read thus:

When you come, poor and bare;
Nothing have when we away fare;
All is weariness that we for care.
Louis Godou.

BEHIND THE FOOTLIGHTS.

A son of the composer Balfe is in a poor house in London. Charles Alfred Byrne has sold his new opera, "Venus," to George W. Lederer. Adeline Reed will take the leading role with Charles A. Gilbert's Opera company.

Marion Earle has joined "Theresa Riquin," taking the role now played by Ida Vernon. Donald Mack Murray is living in retirement in Bordaux, Canada. He has amassed fabulous wealth.

Jacob Litt will have two stock companies the coming summer—one in St. Paul and the other in Minneapolis. Alexander Salvati will build a villa on his California ranch that will be a copy of his father's house at Monte Catino.

Eleonor Merron replaces Flora Starkers, who retired on account of ill health, in the role of Mrs. Laverling in "Gloriana." Charles Krone has written a play called "The Country Squire," which will be presented soon, with Archie Boyd as the star.

Henry Guy Carleton is rewriting "Ye Earle Trouble." Under a new name it will soon be taken on tour by Frank G. Carter. Sir Arthur Sullivan is in the Riviera, with a libretto by W. S. Gilbert, but is hardly well enough to do anything to it at present.

Richard Mansfield, undeterred by the financial reverses attending his last Shakespearean venture, "Richard III.," is now rehearsing "The Merchant of Venice" for an early production.

When Monnet-Sully and his company played recently at Nimes, France, he raised the curtain a few minutes ahead of time, and the late arrivals insisted on his ringing it down and beginning again.

THE JEWEL CASKET.

A winged heart is a new design for a jewel casket.

A gemmed circlet, the ends held by a bowknot, is new.

A silver scallop shell on mounted supports holds a clock.

Empire buckles of all sorts are now in the height of fashion.

Canoe shaped flower holders and slippers for flowers are used.

A gemmed owl, with wings outspread and black pearl eyes, is an ornithological ornament.

A circlet gemmed with diamond stars in the center of a slender diamond crescent is a new design.

The silver atomizers are the most popular of all novelties. There is no such agreeable manner of using perfumes.

Necklaces are by no means fashionable. A tiny thread of gold with a gem at the end is all that is tolerated, except on occasions of magnificent display.

Jewel bugs are brought over by all the travelers from abroad. These are filled in with two loose trays and open out into a box when the sides are down.

The diamond suns covered by English women have never been so favorably received here. But the waving rays and lighter forms are winning their way.

Two crescents overlapping and separated vertically by a bar with small stars, and two crescents interlaced, each holding a star between their points, are heavenly designs.

Artistic combinations in color, goldsmith work, carvings in stones, cameo effects, are now more tempting than magnificent. Since more ornaments are out of fashion art can furnish its own excuse—"Jewelry Circular."

PHILOSOPHICAL COGITATIONS.

A man hates faint praise worse than he hates abuse.

There are a great many promising people who never pay.

It is foolish to say a man ought to do what he cannot do.

Many a man who is honest enough to apologize is too stubborn.

The more attention a man pays to the morals of others the less he pays to his own.

The poor people find more pretty things in nature than the rich find in the art galleries.

It is often cheaper to be imposed upon than it is to fight. This fact results in a great many unkind men.

Bravery is making up your mind when you have a trouble that you have no right to make every one else unhappy too.

When a woman gets snubbed she makes a face and forgets it; a man smiles if he has not noticed it and makes a mental note that he will get even, which he does.—Atchison Globe.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

Statistics gathered by a New York paper show that 4,100 miles of railways were built in the United States during 1892.

Central traffic lines have agreed to grant half fare permits in 1893 only to regularly ordained ministers and missionaries and Sisters of Mercy.

The New York, Lake Erie and Western ticket agents are to be cocked and primed for any questions that may in future be asked of them concerning the World's fair.

If Thomas Ridley, of Wilkesburg, Pa., the Pennsylvania's veteran engine house foreman, lives until 1894—and there is every prospect such will be the case—he will have been in continuous railroad service fifty years.

In the interest of the Green Bay, Winona and St. Paul railroad 1,900 cars of the Eureka Transportation company have been purchased. These cars hereafter will be operated in a fast freight line known as the Northwest Dispatch East Freight line via Frankfort and Kewanee.

The Manhattan Athletic club will endeavor to get out of financial difficulty by selling its big clubhouse to members for $900,000, of which $250,000 is to be cash down for the payment of obligations due.

VIGOROUS IN OLD AGE.

Mary E. Brown, of Concord, in Her 83d Year.

The Mother of Ten Children, Five of Whom Are Living.

The Good Old Lady Has Quite Recovered—Paine's Celery Compound Did It.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 10.—Very few women in their eighty-third year are as hale and vigorous as Mrs. Mary E. Brown, one of Concord's oldest and most beloved inhabitants. She is now living a happy old age at her home on Grove street in full possession of her mental faculties, bright and cheery as can be.

Mrs. Brown's maiden name was McCauley. She was born in Fryeburg, Me. in 1811, of a good old New England family. Her husband, who was engaged in the shoe and leather business in this city, died in 1888. She is the mother of ten children, five of whom are now living, one of whom is Mrs. H. W. Ferrin, of Concord.

Mrs. Brown, although so well now, suffered some time ago, as old people often do, from rheumatism, but like many others in Concord has been cured by the use of Paine's celery compound, the discover of which is held in grateful memory by scores of people here.

MRS. MARY E. BROWN.

The following letter from Mrs. Ferrin appeared last week in the People and Patriot, and should be read by old people everywhere who are subject to rheumatism.

"My mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, was taken sick last September with rheumatism. She could hardly walk and could not dress or undress without my help. She had two different doctors, and each medicine seemed to help her for a time, but only for a time. Then she took some sarsaparilla, but without benefit. Mr. Sabon, of St. Albans, was visiting my sister at the time mother was sick, was using Paine's celery compound and recommended it very highly. Mother took it and has used several bottles. She is now in her prime of life. She has had no pain as formerly since taking this compound and will continue taking the medicine. I think it superior to anything that she has ever taken and shall get more at once."

Mrs. Brown's case and others like it are well known here, and there is a demand for Paine's celery compound in consequence.

DEEP WATERWAY

The Great Convention Was Opened at the National Capital Today Under Very Favorable Auspices.

Maj. Baldwin Was Elected Temporary Chairman and Delivered an Able Address Favoring the Scheme.

Said Duluth Would Furnish All the Money if Necessary, but Congress Should Order a Survey.

Col. Graves and Secretary Thompson Also Spoke, and Duluth Had the Most Conspicuous Delegation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—The attendance of delegates at the deep waterway convention, which opened at 11 o'clock today in this city, was greatly lessened, owing to the great snow storm last night. Every train coming into Washington was several hours behind schedule time last night and today. Upon three delayed trains were many delegates that expected to take part in today's session.

Secretary Thompson's opinion is that many of them will reach here before the convention completes its work, but if they fail to do so he says the purpose of the gathering will not be injured to any great extent. As telegraphed yesterday, the principal session will be tonight when members of congress, the cabinet ministers and other prominent officials will be present to watch the proceedings and take part in the deliberations. Duluth was "in it" at every stage of the game when the deep waterway convention was called to order by Secretary Thompson. Maj. Baldwin was made temporary chairman, and during the most excellent speech that he delivered in favor of deep waterways, he indicated that Mr. Thompson would be made permanent chairman of the gathering. It is probable, however, that he meant that he would be made permanent secretary, because for the fact that he was made for temporary secretary.

Col. Graves also brought Duluth into prominence by making a motion for the appointment of a committee on permanent organization, which would under ordinary circumstances make him chairman of that committee. During the course of his speech as temporary chairman Maj. Baldwin said very many graceful things about Duluth, and was applauded when he said that if it was found necessary Duluth would agree to pay the $100,000 necessary to carry out the projects advocated, but he thought that congress, at any rate, should appropriate enough money to make a preliminary survey.

Duluth secured a good deal of advocating at the opening session and her delegates on the floor were more prominent at every stage than those of any other section of the country.

ON TRIAL FOR POISONING.

The Would-be Poisoner of Non-Union Workmen at Homestead.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—The trial of Hugh Dempsey, district master, workman of the Knights of Labor, J. M. Davidson and Robert Beatty, charged with poisoning non-union workmen in the Homestead steel mill during last August, began here today in a crowded courtroom.

Beatty is accused of having arranged with Davidson and other cooks at the mill to administer the poison, which it is alleged, Dempsey furnished. The serious charge of having procured and disbursed the money used in the furtherance of the scheme is also put upon Dempsey.

The cases grew out of the numerous and suspicious cases of illness among the workmen in the Homestead mill, the first those stricken with the disease showed all the symptoms of typhoid fever and were treated by the physicians for that disease. But after the first few days the typhoid characteristics disappeared and the doctors were unable to diagnose the cases other than "poisoning from impure drinking water."

The Carnegie Steel company was not satisfied with the explanation that the epidemic among the workmen was caused by impure water, and suspected something wrong somewhere. They put their detectives to work to sift the matter to the bottom. The result of the detectives' work was the arrest of Robert J. Beatty, at Louisville, Dec. 10 on a warrant, charging him with complicity in the poisoning of men in the Homestead mill.

He was brought back to Pittsburgh and given a hearing at which J. M. Davidson, one of the former cooks in the mill, testified, confessing his own connection with the alleged conspiracy and implicating Beatty and Dempsey. The arrest of Davidson and Dempsey quickly followed and today's trial is the result.

GOVERNOR PECK'S MESSAGE.

Congratulates the People on the Treasury Case Decision.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 12.—Governor Peck this morning read his message before the assembly and senate. He congratulated the people of the state on the decision of the circuit court against former state treasurers who have misappropriated the interest on state funds to private uses.

In regard to the finances of the state he said: "On January 1, 1893, $312,239.79 was the magnificent sum to the credit of the general fund of the state, with no unpaid warrants outstanding." He praises the Australian ballot system.

THE DEADLOCK IN KANSAS.

The Legislative Dispute May Go Into the Courts For Settlement.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 12.—No progress has been made this morning by the arbitration committees that were in session all last night to effect a compromise between the rival house organizations. The Republicans maintain that they have the only legal organization and that they can yield nothing, and the Populists, urged on by the more radical element of the party, will make no concessions. The committee appointed yesterday to make an investigation of the house deadlock has not yet finished its work and may remain in session all day. The Republicans are arranging to institute mandamus proceedings in the supreme court to compel the secretary of state to turn over to the Republican house certain contest papers. This will test the claims of the two organizations legally and will be fought by the best legal talent in the state. No attempt was made to do business today by either side.

There is great excitement this afternoon over an apparently well authenticated report that the governor has decided to recognize the Populist house. There is much speculation as to whether the Republicans will resist an attempt to eject them from the representatives' hall. It is believed, however, that there will be no trouble and that upon being ordered by the adjutant general to vacate they will retire and set up an opposition house in a hall which has already been secured. The Democrats will probably go with the Republicans and the Populists will be left alone in their glory.

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE.

A Spinning Mill in Japan Was Burned and Over 125 People, Mostly Young Girls, Perished.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—The steamer Gaelic arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama this morning, bringing the following advices: Ichang, China, has been the scene of another anti-foreign riot, but the disturbance was soon quelled by a force of blue jackets from the British man-of-war. The riot was precipitated by an old woman who proclaimed to her countrymen that the foreigners had desecrated the grave of one of her ancestors.

A spinning mill at Osaka, Japan, was burned Dec. 20 last with a loss of 125 lives. Most of the victims were young girls. Two hundred and seventy houses in the vicinity of the mill caught fire from sparks and were destroyed. The fire was caused by the breaking of one of the belts which, getting between the machinery, was ignited by friction and set fire to oil and waste near by.

The officers of the Peninsular and Oriental company's steamer Ravenna, which ran down and sank the Japanese torpedo boat Chishima, causing a loss of over ninety of the crew have been exonerated.

MR. BLAINE IMPROVING.

The Ex-Secretary's Condition Is Reported to Be Some Better Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Last night was one of rest and quiet for the members of the family of Mr. Blaine, and he is reported to be much improved this morning. From 9 o'clock last night until after 7 this morning not a person crossed the threshold of the mansion.

When the physicians left the patient at 9 o'clock last night, they informed the family that they would not return unless an unfavorable change took place in his condition. During the night the exterior of the house gave evidence that the sick man was in the room adjoining the chamber in which he was confined yesterday.

The only visible sign of animation were indicated by the lighting of the gas jets in the room adjoining the chamber of the sick man. Several times during the night the lights in this room were turned on at full head, while the nurses were preparing medicine.

The front door of the house was opened at 8 o'clock and inquiry made of the attendant regarding Mr. Blaine's condition. The reply was that "Mr. Blaine passed a comfortable night and is now resting easily." The great red house in which Mr. Blaine is confined was trimmed with white this morning, for snow fell heavily during most of the night and showed no signs of cessation when the Blaine residence was opened. It continued falling during the day and banked up against the sides of the house and along the streets leading to it.

It may have been the storm, or it may have been the assuring news in the morning papers, that kept people from making inroads at the mansion. At any rate there were no callers during the early part of the morning, and little interest was taken in the appearance of the house by passers-by most of whom concentrated their attention on the troublesome work of forging through the snow banks. Blaine, Jr., wrapped in a storm coat, braved the snow and shortly before 9 o'clock started out for a walk. At that hour the servant at the door of the mansion said Mr. Blaine was resting quietly and seemed to be better.

THIS DOES SETTLE IT.

Pope Leo's Order Addressed to the American Prelates.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 12.—In order to end the discussion whether the archbishops and bishops of the Catholic church of the United States were to transfer to Mgr. Satolli their view on the school question, the United Press state upon the subject of the present order as issued by Pope Leo XIII. The order reads as follows: "By order of the holy father, every archbishop and bishop of the United States of America will write, under sealed letter directed to the sovereign pontiff, what he thinks in his own secret, on the school question proposed by Mgr. Satolli at the recent archiepiscopal conference."

STATE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Ordered Today an Inquiry Into the Munn Hill Society of Railroads and Bill Introduced Which Would Strike a Deadly Blow at Scalpers and a Fight Promised.

Senator Washburn's Anti-Option Bill Was Endorsed by the House by an Overwhelming Vote.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—The senate took up Mr. Severson's resolution today and passed it, calling for a committee of five to investigate the whole subject of the relations of railroads and wheat shippers. The committee has power to investigate and report to summon witnesses and hire clerks. The course of the debate showed that there is a strong feeling in the senate in favor of passing legislation against railroads and elevator companies.

Bills were introduced in both the senate and house today imposing a tax on scalpers, but as it is only a $5 tax for license, it will not amount to much unless it is on purpose to prevent a license being granted to any but an employee of a railway company. This seems to be the reading. The scalpers will fight it vigorously.

A bill was introduced in the senate to amend the constitution to exclude parsonages from taxation as well as churches. Senator Lommen introduced a bill creating the offices of three judges of a court of railroad and warehouse commissioners at a salary of $3000 a year apiece.

In the house yesterday afternoon R. C. Dunn introduced a resolution endorsing the Washburn anti-option bill and asked that it be acted upon at once. Mr. Gorham gave notice of debate, whereupon Mr. Dunn asked that the rules be suspended and the bill passed. Mr. Gorham asked for time in which to post himself regarding the bill. Mr. Dunn stated that there could be excuse for delay, and furthermore that a postponement might be fatal, as the matter had now received a critical point in congress. Mr. Dunn was vigorously supported by Mr. Jacobson, who urged that Mr. Washburn should have the hearty support of his own state in his efforts to pass the bill.

On a motion to suspend the rules the vote stood: Ayes, 75; nays, 24. The motion carried and the Washburn bill was introduced by a vivavoce vote.

TWENTY-FOUR WERE KILLED.

An Explosion of Gas in a Coal Mine in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 12.—Twenty-four men were killed on Monday afternoon by a premature explosion in the Union Pacific coal mine at King, Col. The accident was caused by what miners call a "windy shot," that is the charge of powder had been insufficiently tamped. The result was the instant explosion of the gas in the chamber of the mine where the men were working. The concussion set free and circulated the black damp and the almost instant death of the twenty-four men followed. Of the twenty-four victims of the disaster twenty-one were Italians, one a Scotchman and two Americans. About eight of them were married men.

The noise of the explosion was heard in every part of the mine, and all the other men employed in the other chambers of the mine, of whom there were about seventy-five, rushed to the open air. There was immediately the wildest excitement in the village and a rescuing party was quickly organized. Foul air came from the chamber, but brave men rushed in and brought out the bodies. The head of nearly every family in the town of King was employed in or about the mine, and the women and children crowded about the entrance as the bodies were carried out into the daylight. It was not until after dark that the last body was brought from the mine. The dead were placed in the company's storehouse, where bruised and blackened faces were eagerly scanned by friends and relatives who sought confirmation of their dread.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE AGAIN.

Secretary Foster May Assert It On the Isthmus of Panama.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The Herald's special from Washington says: H. M. Bushnell, of Nebraska, who was sent to Panama last month to confer with certain officials "respecting quarantine regulations to be observed in the event of a continuation of cholera," submitted his report to the secretary of state yesterday and departed for his home.

While it is understood that Special Agent Bushnell's report covered an interview he had with the governor of Panama on the subject of quarantine for goods passing through the isthmus of Panama, should cholera spread next summer, it is also believed that he had something to say to the secretary of state upon the subject of the present management of the Panama canal, in view of the announcement of the French government that after Feb. 1, through bills of lading across the isthmus will not be issued to vessels from our country.

It is stated that Secretary Foster is contemplating a step of some character upon this subject, with a view of preserving American interests in Panama and the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine.

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

The Panama Canal Developments Turn Suspicion Against De Freycinet.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Panama developments form almost the sole topic of discussion everywhere, and the next move looked for on the part of the authorities is said to concern M. De Freycinet. It is recalled that the ex-minister of war was an intimate friend of Cornil's place at Tresserve, near Aix, to enjoy the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Herz.

How far this close personal intimacy may have gone is, so far as the public know, a matter of conjecture, but the friendship of M. De Freycinet is believed to have been put to use by Herz in his peculiar operations. It is stated that there is no evidence of actual corruption on the part of De Freycinet, and that nothing can be shown against him more than complaisance toward others who were corrupt.

De Freycinet is reported to have been terribly shocked by the statements from America regarding the antecedents of Herz, whom he professed to consider a person of high probity and excellent character. De Freycinet's friends cite on this subject the fact that previous to the recent exposure the dossier, or record of Herz at the chancellery of the legion of honor, was not only creditable but brilliant, and that De Freycinet had no better opportunities than the chancellery for knowing the real history of the adventurer.

M. De Freycinet denies having gone with a slow bed hat and his collar up about his ears to the doctor's place at Tresserve near Aix, because it is not his way to do things in melodramatic fashion.

M. Monchicourt, the liquidator of the Panama company, deposed before the Panama committee that in 1888 when the lottery bill was coming on, Baron Reinach required a sum of 2,000,000, plus 2,000,000 francs for what he spoke of as press expenses. There were no accounts furnished by the baron. M. Monchicourt expressing astonishment at such a sum being intended for the papers, M. Reinach said to him: "What a simple person you must be to fancy it is going to be spent on them."

M. Monchicourt was then connected with the Panama affairs. On speaking of money that Baron Reinach was swallowing up to one of the directors, the latter told him that it was payment for secret services he had undertaken for the purpose of getting the lottery loan carried. Baron Reinach was paid down in cash. It took the form of checks on the bank of France.

For the bonds which he subscribed he only paid two francs, fifty centimes apiece and he cleared five francs or so. He only risked the former sum or not even that, there being special stipulations. The sums paid him in money came to 10,000,000 francs. M. Monchicourt knew Herz as a discounter of bills drawn by different members of the company. He heard M. Cottu speak of Baron Reinach as a "fearful blood-sucker," and when he himself asked M. de Lesseps why he gave him so much M. de Lesseps said: "What can I do? He has a knife to my throat."

There is a prevalent disposition among the Republicans in the chamber of deputies not to press M. Ribot too closely in the present crisis, and to allow him every opportunity to surround himself with satisfactory assistants. The retirement of M. Burdeau from the ministry of marine has greatly strengthened public confidence in the government. M. Jules Ferry is quoted as saying that all steady-going Republicans ought to unite in opposition to a dictatorship, to a restoration of the monarchy or the empire and to anarchy. Close watch must be kept over the intrigues of the enemies of the constitution who will endeavor to prepare a coup d'etat.

M. Jules Ferry attributes the trouble with which the republic has been visited recently, to the lack of proper understanding between the members of the government. A great country like France requires unity of direction. The judicial authorities will punish those whose probity is not intact; but Republican statesmen and politicians should devote their attention to the protection of public liberty.

WAS SUFFOCATED BY GAS.

A Guest at a Minneapolis Hotel Was Found Dead in His Bed This Morning.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 12.—Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, one of the bell boys of the Warwick hotel discovered gas issuing from a room which had been assigned to a man at 9:30 last evening.

Upon securing an entrance the man was found stretched on the bed with all his clothes on, mouth and eyes wide open and face discolored. He was dead. The gas was turned on full.

The register gives his name as "John Culley, Campbell." He appears to be a well to do business man and it is thought that he retired under the influence of liquor.

ANTI-SEMITIC OUTRAGES.

Wealthy Jews in Southern Mississippi Suffering From White Caps.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 12.—There is considerable excitement here over reports of outrages committed amongst wealthy Jews in Southern Mississippi. M. Hillock, of Pike county, has been the principal sufferer at the hands of the White Caps.

Within the last two months he has lost twenty-seven tenant houses by fire. His negro farm hands have been ordered to leave the country. At present he maintains an armed guard at his private residence to keep it from being burned.

Mr. Hillock claims that he has been damaged at least $50,000, and says he will move to New Orleans. The negroes are being driven from all plantations owned by Jews, and labor is demoralized.

TO RAISE THE STOCK.

Mass Meeting in the Interests of the New Gill & Wright Mill Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The Matter Was Thoroughly Discussed and a Perfectly Clear Understanding Was Reached.

Committee Appointed to Push the Subscriptions to the Stock and Will Commence at Once.

The mass meeting called for yesterday afternoon to discuss the Gill & Wright matter and devise means to raise the required stock was more successful than any of the other meetings. Those present were: D. G. Cash, G. G. Hartley, C. P. Craig, L. Mendenhall, Walter Ayers, Ed. Hazen, D. E. Woodbridge, Simcoe Chapman, J. B. Geggie, A. Hirsch, R. F. Fitzgerald, E. L. Whittington, F. W. Paine, R. A. Costello, W. C. Sargent, B. Swenson, John Pantan, Julius Barnes, R. A. Taussig, J. C. Mishler, A. T. Crossley, H. P. Gill, C. D. Wright and others.

R. A. Costello was made chairman and D. E. Woodbridge, secretary, at the suggestion of Mr. Gill the prospectus was read. D. G. Cash was then called upon and he presented the matter in a very clear manner. The citizens are asked to subscribe stock to the industry, not merely because they ought to be patriotic but because they will reap good returns for their money. The success of the Imperial mill company was quoted to show this.

R. A. Costello also spoke on the subject and G. G. Hartley in light of the board of trade, chamber of commerce and all organizations ought to take hold of it.

Mr. Wright was asked when it would be necessary to have the stock and he replied that work ought to be commenced on the foundation at once if the mill is to be running by October 1.

There was some discussion as to how much stock would have to be secured in Duluth. W. C. Sargent suggested the appointment of committees from each of the organizations in the city and then "let 'em root," said he "that's the only way to do it."

It was finally agreed that the chairman of the meeting should select one committee to push the stock subscriptions. He will name this committee in a day or two.

THE HOOSIER POET.

A Chat With James Whitcomb Riley on the Subject of His Poems.

James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, has been at the Spalding for a couple of days. In appearance Mr. Riley hardly suggests the poet. His hair is trimmed too short for the ideal verse-writer, and his clean shaven face, eye-glasses and deliberate manner suggest the lawyer rather than the poet. He is short and slight, has light blue eyes, and straight, fine face. He is about 35 years of age.

"I began the season early in November this year," said Mr. Riley to a reporter, "and have been working continually ever since. I get in as many resting days as possible, for traveling wears a man."

"Do I enjoy reading my own works? I do. It is not the platform work, but the traveling that is too much for me. I make no claim to be a lecturer, you know. I simply read my verses and talk about them a little. Yes, I like simplicity in poetry, and none of my efforts have been very ambitious. I am certain that I could not write an epic, and sustained efforts of any length are not my forte. I enjoy the lyric, and am content to leave epics to others more capable than I."

"Did your newspaper experience influence the style of your poetry?" Mr. Riley was asked, for he was formerly a reporter on different papers in Indianapolis.

"It undoubtedly did," was the reply. "It brought me into contact with all phases of life, and gave me an insight into human nature which I could have acquired in no other way. My journalistic work taught me also to better give the public what it wants. My own feelings incline me to serious writing; the public demands that I shall produce dialect. The latter has always taken best, and both the professional critics and my friends have advised me to stick to the dialect. They tell me I have a vein of sentiment that makes my dialect readable. The critics are really very kind to me, you know."

"There is undoubtedly a demand for a serious American poet," continued Mr. Riley in response to another question. "Poetic feeling in this country is not dead. It is not even slumbering. Poets who are worthy of the name are surrounded and enveloped by their own individualities. They do their work, and when their race is done lay down their pens. Nobody else can take up those pens or continue the work."

"Great poets are produced by great events, although the latter often appear unaccompanied by the former. If a nation contains any latent poetic fire, an event of national importance—a commotion, a triumph or a disaster—will bring him to the surface and develop his gift, while giving him a chance to exercise it. That will undoubtedly take place in the history of the American poetry of the future."

A LONG CHASE.

John Hondula Brought From Montana to Answer for a Serious Crime.

Ex-Sheriff Dan Kennedy and Deputy Mike Kennedy, of Superior, returned yesterday from Elliston, Mont., bringing John Hondula, who shot John Peura at Brule Sept. 25. He was arrested from the description sent out by Sheriff Kennedy. Mike Kennedy started for Montana Jan. 1 to identify the man. After this was done Dan Kennedy obtained requisition papers from Governor Peck and went to Montana and brought back his captive.

Hondula was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday on a charge of assault with attempt to kill. He waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $2000. Hondula could not get bondsmen and was taken to the county jail to await trial. He does not deny that he shot Peura but claims it was done in self defense.

AMUSEMENTS.

James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, will be heard at the Lyceum this evening. Riley is a whole comedy in himself, and his humorous and pathetic readings are always keenly enjoyed. Of course his genius is far beyond that of the actor and mimic, for he creates and then interprets his own creations. Everybody has wept over the pathetic portions of his poems and has laughed over their exquisite humor, but nobody can realize the beauty of it all until Mr. Riley introduces him to these pictures from his pen.

"Yon Yonson."

"Yon Yonson" drew another large audience at the Temple last evening and seemed to give as good satisfaction as on the previous evening. The applause was liberal and the gallery was hilarious.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

Miss Gertrude Sprague, the second alto of the famous Schumann Lady quartet, that appears in the Temple Opera Friday evening, has a voice of such remarkable depth and richness that she sings as a favorite encore "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." One of the best features of the Schumann Lady quartet's programs is the appearance of familiar, taking songs. Of the gems of the evening is "Annie Laurie," sung only as the Schumann quartet can sing it.

Professor Wentworth, the popular Boston humorist, shows the scope of his impersonation in three very dissimilar readings, "The Sleeping Car," "The Chariot Race" and "The Populist Preacher." This will be this company's first appearance in Duluth.

TORN TO PIECES.

A Short Line Train Horribly Mangled a Man Early Last Evening.

The Fond du Lac train while nearing this city last evening ran over and instantly killed a man, supposed to be Alfred Johnson, near Hazlewood Park station. The remains were terribly mangled and recognition is extremely difficult. The body was taken to West Duluth where a number of people claimed to recognize it as Alfred Johnson who lived near Onota. An inquest will be had later on.

Made an Assessment.

The directors of the Foley Mining company held a meeting in St. Cloud last evening, says the St. Cloud Times of Tuesday, and made an assessment upon the stock for the purpose of making more extensive explorations of the property which it holds. D. H. Freeman, of the company, has received a letter from the foreman in charge of the prospecting crew now at work for this company near Grand Rapids, saying that a vein of iron ore was struck which is twenty feet thick. The members of the company say that the reports of present indications are most encouraging. Samples of the ore have been analyzed and while the company declines to publish the result it is known to be quite satisfactory.

More Bank Elections.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Exchange bank was held last evening and the old directors were re-elected. H. M. Peyton was elected president; A. R. Macfarlane, vice president; James C. Hunter, cashier; and W. P. Dewar, assistant cashier. The Duluth Loan, Deposit and Trust company has elected as directors: Nels Hall, J. H. T. E. Hurt, F. F. Upham, W. Smith, W. S. Woodbridge, F. J. Pulford, N. J. Upham, H. A. Wing, F. L. Janeway. N. J. Upham was elected president; E. J. Pulford, vice president; F. F. Upham, secretary.

The total bank clearings for the year 1892 amounted to $8,026,028.65, as against $6,725,931.25 for the year 1891.

NATURAL GAS MAIN BURST.

The People of an Ohio Town Without Means of Warmth.

St. MARY'S, O., Jan. 12.—With the thermometer hugging the zero mark and the natural gas pressure down to nothing came the startling report that the main which leads into this field burst from the intense cold yesterday and shut off the supply altogether, thus leaving the inhabitants of this city at the mercy of the frigid weather.

The suffering caused by this unexpected emergency is indescribable, as their is neither wood nor coal in sufficient quantities to be had in this city.

AND SAUNDERS ESCAPED.

A Stabbing Affray Which Resulted in a Man Being Killed.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 12.—Last night at McLean, eleven miles south of here, William Bozarth, a butcher, quarreled with Finley Saunders over wages due the latter. Saunders stabbed Bozarth in the back, inflicting a serious wound. He then fled to the home of Stephen Tudor, where he took refuge.

Constable Ortel Caton went to Tudor's house to arrest Saunders, but was refused admittance by Tudor, who stood in the doorway. The constable demanded that Tudor stand aside, and on the latter's refusal shot him through the head, killing him instantly. In the meantime Saunders escaped.

Switchmen on Strike.

MUSKIE, Ind., Jan. 12.—Last night the switchmen in the Lake Erie & Western railway yards went on strike. The men were paid $2 and $2.25 per day and asked for $2.50 and $2.75 per day. The company wanted time to consider the matter, when the committee ordered the men to strike. About twenty-five men are out.

A large portion of the telephones in the city are useless and have been in that condition ever since the Farguson block fire. The company claims to be doing all in its power to put the system in shape but it is generally believed that six or eight railroad line men could have repaired the damages and restored communication in forty-eight hours instead of letting it remain valueless for about three weeks.

GERMANY'S ARMY BILL.

Chancellor Caprivi's Address to the Military Committee of the Reichstag Urging the Measure's Passage.

He Says the Forces of the Triple Alliance Are Now Inferior to Prospective Enemies.

Germany Must be Prepared to Take the Offensive and More Troops and Armament Required.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Chancellor Von Caprivi last night attended a meeting of the reichstag committee of twenty-eight appointed to consider the army bill, and made an important speech, setting forth the necessity for the adoption of the bill without change or modification. Referring to the relations existing between Germany and Russia, the chancellor declared that there was no enmity between the two governments.

With regard to the relations between France and Russia, Chancellor Von Caprivi said that probably an entente in regard to the military arrangements existed between those two countries. He then referred to the possibility of an attack being made upon the nations composing the Triple Alliance—Germany, Austria and Italy—and said that if such an attack was made, the chief onslaught of the attacking force would doubtless be directed against Germany as the strongest member of the Triple Alliance.

Experience had shown that when war threatened it was best for Germany to take the offensive. To do that would require that the armies of the Triple Alliance have a considerable numerical superiority. As a matter of fact, the Triple Alliance was in the minority in point of numbers. Germany's long eastern frontier especially could only be protected by employing offensive tactics. An offensive policy was a good policy. It meant short wars with quick victories and lasting results. All this could be obtained only by assuming the offensive.

Germany's present forces would no longer suffice against the increased strength of the other two opponents. The government, therefore, would not be able to take the responsibility of the future defense of the country, unless the armaments were increased. As has been before stated, the opposition to the army bill is in a great measure based upon the increased taxation that will be entailed. The share to be borne by Prussia of the current extra expenditure involved by the bill amounts to 49,524,517 marks, of which only 15,518,803 marks will be demanded as a first installment.

The rest will be used in the future for the enlargement of the schools for cadets and non-commissioned officers and other objects. Of the extraordinary expenditure, which amounts to 67,800,000 marks, 68,000,000 are to be contributed by Bavaria and the remaining 61,000,000 divided between Prussia, Saxony and Württemberg. Sixteen and a half million marks will be expended on barracks for the troops and stabling for horses. For the clothing and equipment of the new troops 78,799,000 marks are demanded, for the first stock of horses 5,740,800 marks and for traveling expenses, etc., 2,390,000 marks.

The military railway will be extended as far as Jüterbog at a cost of 4,437,000 marks and a school for cadets is to be erected in Naumburg, costing 1,620,000 marks, for both of which objects first installments only are to be demanded in the budget for 1893-94. The cost of the proposed extension of the chief school for cadets in Lichtenfeld, near Berlin, in order to have room for a third battalion, is not included among the extraordinary expenditures.

The proposed increase in the strength of the army by 11,857 non-commissioned officers and 72,037 privates is to be divided partly amongst new and partly amongst old organizations. Of the new privates 50,560 are to be enrolled in the new formations. The new Fourth battalions are to contain eight commissioned officers, one army director, two officers, thirty-six non-commissioned officers and 550 privates. The new batteries of field artillery will number 700 men and the existing ones will receive ten additional men each.

A RADICAL CHANGE MADE.
The Economite Society Will Abandon Farming and Stock Raising.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—It is reported that there is official authority for the announcement of an entirely new and highly important departure, since the death of Father Henrici, in the management and future aims of the Economite society. Of course Trustee Duss is the leading spirit.

Farming, stock raising and kindred interests will be largely abandoned. The blooded cattle and horses will be disposed of. It is said that the farming operations of the society have not been profitable for some time. About Feb. 1, 1891, 300 laborers will be discharged.

The brickyards, sawmills and all the manufacturing interests have not involved an actual loss to the society, and will be retained and operated with renewed vigor and on approved principles.

Change of Pastorate.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 12.—Rev. Robert I. Fleming, of Chicago, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Lindell avenue M. E. church of this city. Rev. Dr. Fleming is a graduate of the Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill. He will leave Chicago about Feb. 15.

Franklin Was Beaten.
DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 12.—George Franklin, of St. Paul, (colored), and Joe Wicks, of Detroit, last night fought two desperate rounds at the Michigan Athletic club for a purse of $200. At the end of the second round Franklin was so badly done up that, though he was offered a purse of $200 win or lose to go on, he could not respond. The fight was then awarded to Wicks.

AN ILLEGAL LEGISLATURE.

A Prominent Nevada Lawyer Says the Appropriation Was Illegal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—H. M. Clarke, ex-attorney general of Nevada, says that the legislature of that state is an illegal body, not having been elected on the basis of population. He says a question has been raised touching the constitutionality of the act of 1891 appropriating the representatives, and incidentally questioning the power of the incoming legislature to elect a successor to Senator Stewart.

It is probable that steps will be taken to demonstrate the illegality of the legislature before the courts. Should the legislature be unseated, the appointment of a successor to Senator Stewart would devolve upon Governor Conner, a strong Republican, who will undoubtedly name a man of that political faith to fill the vacancy.

TO STATE PRISON FOR LIFE.

A Fourteen-year-old Boy Sentenced For Committing Murder.

MERRILL, Wis., Jan. 12.—Judge Barden, presiding over the Fifteenth judicial circuit, has pronounced sentence on Hans Anderson, the 14-year-old murderer of old man Homerfeldt. The lad goes to state prison for life.

The father was requested to be present at the preliminary examination, but refused, saying he did not care what was done with the boy. The little fellow has no adequate conception of the enormity of his crime and exhibited no fear when punishment was announced. Only at the mention of his mother's name did he exhibit any signs of sorrow.

WILL NOT BLOCK A VOTE.

The Opponents of the Anti-Option Bill Surely Let It Pass.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—"Within a week," said Senator Washburn yesterday, "the Washburn-Hatch anti-option bill will have passed the senate with a majority in its favor of about two to one."

Senator Washburn has information which leads him to believe that the opposition led by Senator White has decided to allow the bill to come to a vote in the senate. In case this is true the bill will pass by a vote of about 53 to 23. A vote will be reached by Thursday of next week.

HILL CONTROLS THE RATES.

Easy Grades Enable Him to Cut Below His Competitors.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 12.—The transcontinental traffic managers held another session of several hours yesterday without arriving at any conclusion. It is said the hitch occurs in the independent attitude of the Great Northern.

Owing to the fact that the grades of the Great Northern are much less than those of any of its competitors, President Hill is said to be inclined to make much lower rates than the other roads can stand. General Manager Mohler of the Great Northern said last evening that no agreement was expected in forty-eight hours.

TWENTY ROADS BLOCKED.

The Serious Results of a Big Storm in Ohio.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 12.—Trains of the twenty roads entering Toledo are delayed from three to fifteen hours by snow. A Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan train was fast in the snow bank north of Corvina for twelve hours. The street car system last night was demoralized, over 100 motors being stuck. The natural gas supply is next to nothing. It ceased entirely yesterday forenoon. There is scarcely any snow in town and there is much suffering.

A STRANGE EXPERIENCE.

What Few Persons Would Like to Go Through in This World.

Seemed Like a Miraculous Intervention of Providence.

One can scarcely credit it.

Yet it all happened, and in the little town of East North Yarmouth, Maine.

And the lady lives today to tell the story. Her name is Mrs. H. E. Skellin, and she is well known and most highly esteemed.

It seems—but we will let her relate the matter in her own words, just as she gave them to our reporter.

"I began at first having trembling feelings of the heart," she said, "and was very bad at times. Any little excitement would make me worse. I became languid, and felt constantly tired and worn, lost all my natural energy and ambition, and was consequently weak and nervous."

"Indeed, I was so nervous at times I could not bear to hear anyone rock a chair. I had numbness in my right hand so it would seem apparently dead; and when it would come to its feeling there would be a deadly feeling at my stomach. I had a dull, tired feeling in my head."

"It was evident that there was a terrible diseased condition of my nerves and system which required immediate attention. I at once began taking Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and have taken four bottles."

"I have now a good appetite and have grown strong and recovered my old-time energy and ambition. All druggists have very had at times. Any little excitement would make me worse. I became languid, and felt constantly tired and worn, lost all my natural energy and ambition, and was consequently weak and nervous."

THE PORT STATISTICS.

Collector of Customs Johnson Has Completed His Annual Report for the Year 1892.

An Excellent Statement of the Commercial Transactions in the Customs District of Duluth.

He Clearly Explains Why it is Impossible to Have the Port Figures Absolutely Correct.

Collector Johnson's annual report is in the hands of the printer and is nearly ready to be issued. The Herald has obtained a proof and is enabled to give it complete today. The report is very complete, probably the finest ever issued from the Duluth customs office. Everything is plain and the whole reflects great credit on Collector Johnson.

A SEARCH COMMENCED

An Effort is Being Made to Recover the Body Seen Floating in the Lake.

Even Detective Hayden is Now Convinced that The Herald's Story Was Not a Fake.

A Man Was Seen on the Ice Sunday Evening by Residents in the Buffalo Flats.

On Sunday afternoon W. A. Seely, who lives in the Buffalo flats, near the corner of Ninth avenue east and First street, saw a man wearing a coat answering the description of the floater's coat who was reported as having been seen in the lake Monday, go over the bridge across the Duluth & Iron Range tracks near Ninth avenue east and walk out onto the ice.

About two hours afterward Mrs. B. C. Rude, who lives in the same row of flats, said to her husband and family that there was an object on the edge of a cake of ice out in the lake that looked like a man. Mr. Rude and other members of the family could not distinguish the outlines of the man, but they saw a dark object on the edge of the cake of ice spoken of. They laughed away Mrs. Rude's theory that it was a man.

Shortly afterward the object, whatever it was, dropped off the cake of ice and was lost to sight. The direction of the floating ice, the nearness to shore and with Mr. Seely's positive statement that he saw the man go down onto the shore ice seem to be pretty strong evidence that the unknown floater is the party seen. Another effort is being made by the authorities to find the body, and even Detective Hayden is joining in the search, despite the assertions of a morning paper that the story of the evening paper was a fake. It is reasonably certain that the unfortunate's body is still under the shore ice and that it will be found in a day or two.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE

Duluth Visited a Second Time Within a Few Weeks by a Disastrous Conflagration.

Hotel St. Louis Caught Fire Shortly Before Eleven O'Clock and in Two Hours - Was no More.

Burned Like a Tinder Box and People Were Lucky to Get Out With Their Lives.

One or Two are Believed to Have Perished - The Brighton Narrowly Escaped.

Another disastrous conflagration has visited Duluth and the Hotel St. Louis is a smoking ruin and the Brighton is damaged to some extent. Fire was discovered by the engineer in the basement at 10:45 o'clock this morning. It had probably started from a leaky gas meter, near which a gas jet was burning, as a slight explosion was noticed before any fire or smoke was observed. The employees of the hotel immediately ran through the corridors arousing the guests and crying "fire," but the dense smoke drove them back from the remote ends of the passage ways, and it is feared that some lives are lost.

The fire spread with great rapidity and in three minutes after the first sign was seen the entire building was filled with dense clouds of suffocating smoke. The frightened guests had considerable difficulty in escaping, and one very much alarmed lady, who was on the balcony on Fourth avenue, refused to get on the ladder, when a sturdy fireman grabbed her and carried her down the ladder. Mrs. Butchart and several other ladies came down the fire escapes at the rear of the building from the third story, unassisted. About forty of the guests escaped in this manner and several came down on the pomper truck and other ladders. A number of the male employees, who slept in the cupolas on the roof, came out on the roof and completed their toilets to the enlivening accompaniment of a below zero atmosphere.

The firemen arrived on the scene at precisely four minutes after the alarm was turned in and had their hose in position but the water pressure did not materialize until some minutes later. It was less than fifteen minutes after the alarm was given before it was a matter of easy conjecture that the building would be a complete loss, and the southwest corner fell together with the balcony at 11:30.

The center portion of the south wall fell into Fourth avenue at 11:40, and the southeast corner fell onto Michigan street at 11:50, followed a minute or two later by the south wall, except a small portion adjoining the Brighton.

The flames were very fierce and the heat was intense on the Michigan street front, and the snow and ice melted away in a few moments. The pomper ladder was in danger for a time while the firemen were working on other portion of the building but a number of citizens trundled it to a place of safety.

ANOTHER VIEW OF IT.

Progress of the Fire as Seen From the Superior Street Side.

At 11:15 o'clock the flames had broken out on the southwest corner and from that time forward the flames crept steadily eastward on the Superior street front. At about 11:25 o'clock the smoke

PASSED A GOOD NIGHT.

The Report That Mr. Blaine Was Worse Not Correct.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The apprehension aroused last night by the report that Mr. Blaine's condition had taken another turn for the worse, that the long-looked-for but none less dreaded end was at hand was not warranted by the developments of the hours as they passed away.

The difficulty the patient experienced was reported to be a slight obstruction in his respiratory apparatus. The suggestion obtruded itself that another heart failure was veiled under this euphemism, and this was strengthened by the announced determination of one of the physicians to remain at the house all night and further still by the statement that nitro glycerine had been again resorted to as a stimulant.

If the complication were indeed a heart failure the evil effects were soon overcome, for after Dr. Hyatt entered the house about midnight there were no indications of life within until the hour for opening this morning. Dr. Hyatt stated to the reporters that Mr. Blaine had passed a very good night, comparatively, and was then resting easily.

REBELLION IN ARGENTINA.

Federal Troops Are Now Moving Against the Corrientes Rebels.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The Herald's cable dispatch from Valparaiso says: The Ayres telegraphs that after a lengthy discussion in the cabinet, the government has issued a decree for formal armed intervention to maintain Governor Ruiz in the province of Corrientes.

The residents of Buenos Ayres attack this action and are preparing to issue a manifesto. The police and troops are under arms tonight, and it is feared an attack will be made on the government house. The general opinion is that the president's action is despotism.

Late news from Corrientes is to the effect that the rebels intend to resist the federal troops that are advancing to disarm them. It is hardly probable that the trouble can be settled by the use of large bodies of national troops.

FOUR NEGROES HANGED.

A Quadruple Execution in a Maryland Town at Noon Today.

CHESTER, Md., Jan. 13.—Charles Brooks, Frisby Comery, Moses Brown and Fletcher Williams, four negroes, were hanged here today for the murder of Dr. James H. Hill on April 23 last. The evidence against them was convincing, but all denied to the end that they had any knowledge of the crime. Four other negroes were sent to state prison for life for being accessories to the crime.

The drop fell at 12 o'clock, hanging the four negroes. A sensation was caused by a deputy warden, one of the death watch, who had been drinking heavily. He insisted on the prisoners singing all the time. After this had continued for a while, he suggested that they dance a little. Sheriff Plummer then appeared on the scene and ordered the deputy out of the building.

Has Finally Died.

TOLEDO, Jan. 13.—Clay Hopper, the young man who has been lying in a so-called trance for the past two weeks, after having his funeral sermon preached is finally dead. The physicians and family now give up all hope and concede that the body is dead.

Not Large Enough.

FERGUS FALLS, Jan. 13.—Senator Hompe's Duluth elevator bill has caused a good deal of dissatisfaction among his adherents. It only calls for a 2,500,000 bushel elevator, while they wanted one with a capacity of 10,000,000.

Secretary to Satelli.

ROME, Jan. 13.—The pope has appointed Rev. S. Rooker, of Albany, N. Y., secretary to the mission of Mgr. Satelli, the papal ablegate to the United States. Father Rooker is vice rector of the American college in Rome. He has already started for New York.

Bogus--Fakish--Windy.

Some merchants are devoid of ideas of their own, consequently must imitate copy and steal from their better posted and wide-awake neighbors. Others advertise their entire stock at cost and less than cost all the year around and still LIVE.

Then again there is another class that only carries goods made expressly for their fine retail trade. Their Fruit of the Loom Muslin has a silk warp; their cotton batting is spun silk finished, and all such rank excuses as that in order to get a big profit. BEWARE of robbers of that caliber.

OUR ADVICE AS MERCHANTS

Is the same today as it was six years ago. Use your own judgment and buy where you can get the best goods for the least money. WHERE IS THAT PLACE? We say it is the largest store in any city in the world every time. The bargains they have given; the quality of goods they handle; the variety of goods they give you to select from; their straightforward method of doing business has made them the largest. Their facilities for buying is superior, and the enormous expense of conducting many different branches of business is concentrated into one. Hence their ability to SELL GOODS CHEAP.

We Give Bargains. We Sell Goods at Cost. We Sell Goods Less Than Cost. BUT WE ALSO SELL GOODS AT A PROFIT, so does every live merchant.

We are going to take inventory the last day of the month. We are going to move into the finest store in Minnesota between the 10th and 15th of next month, and for the above two reasons we are going to have a

BORN FOR GOOD LUCK

Something Always Happens to Lift Duluth Out of Every Depression Into Which She Falls.

So Declares a Leading New York Trade Paper in an Elaborate Review of This City.

Duluth Must Soon Become One of the Chief Centers of Iron and Steel Manufacture.

The holiday number of the Boots and Shoes Weekly, published in New York, devotes considerable space to Duluth, saying: Duluth appears to be born for good luck. Like every city built under similar circumstances she is liable to feel more violently the fluctuations of trade than a city built in the midst of a rich farming section. Something always happens to lift her out of every depression into which she falls. When hard times check her forward career for awhile there is sure to be some new development that gives her a fresh impetus. The building of the Northern Pacific railroad gave her the first start; then the cutting of the canal across Minnesota Point made her a first-class lake port; and later, after a period of discouragement, the big wheat farms of the Red River valley gave her a staple of commerce to handle. In after years the rapid growth of the two Dakotas, with their surplus of grain and their need of coal, built for her huge elevators and great coal docks. Then lumbering came to swell her business, and afterwards the discovery and opening of the Vermilion iron mines became a new factor in her growth. The cheapening of lake transportation by the building of huge steam barges and uncouth whalebacks increased the movement of commodities by the lake route, and this was still another source of immediate gain to the city at the head of the chain of inland seas.

Now, after a quiet year, there comes a new and important stimulus. Northern Minnesota furnishes another iron field larger than that of the Vermilion range; larger, too, than that of the Mesaba range, in Wisconsin. The ore deposits partially explored on the Mesaba range, north of Duluth, are of phenomenal extent and richness, and are so situated that mining will be almost as inexpensive as scooping out gravel from a bank with a steam shovel.

Whatever of business and wealth are created on the Mesaba range must add in a direct ratio to the business, wealth and population of Duluth. These important discoveries of rich Bessemer ore do not mean simply that great ore docks are to be erected at Duluth and a new element of commerce furnished to the Zenith City. That would be advantageous alone, but for far greater advantage will be the development of iron manufacturing here.

Now, with such unlimited stores of cheap iron at her doors, there can no longer be room for doubt that Duluth will in the near future make the iron and steel for the whole Northwestern country. It is cheaper to bring the coal of Ohio to smelt the iron of Minnesota than to take the iron ore to the coal and bring back the manufactured product in pigs, bars and steel ingots for consumption in the vast regions west and south-west of Duluth. The lake craft make their points on carrying wheat East, and they take coal on their return trip at rates that barely return the actual cost of the voyage. It requires no argument to show that as far as the needs of the region now shipping its grain from Duluth are concerned, the natural point of iron and steel manufacture is the point nearest the consumers, where the coal can be brought by water to meet the ore, and that point is the city at the head of the Lake Superior.

The iron industry in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio was originally based on the proximity of native ores to beds of coal. Later came the opening of the Lake Superior iron fields, and with cheap water transportation the richer ores were taken to the centers of the iron making to mix with the lean native ores. In time the lake ores almost wholly supplanted those of Pennsylvania, so that at present the enormous iron and steel industry of Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and other neighboring towns may be said to rest wholly on the Lake Superior production. Now the new discoveries on the Mesaba range of vast beds of high grade Bessemer ore makes it as certain as any event in the future can be that Duluth will occupy the position in relation to the Northwest that Cleveland occupies for the lower lakes—that of the chief center of iron and steel manufacture.

GOLD IS PLENTIFUL.

An Old Miner Says the Lake of the Woods District is Very Rich.

Capt. Jeff Hildreth, who has been a miner in Western America since 1856, now residing at Rat Portage, Man., is in Minneapolis, and gave the following account of the new gold fields in the Lake of the Woods country:

"The Lake of the Woods is a belt of mountains with the valleys are with water, the depth of these running from 20 to 500 feet. Every channel between the islands, of which there are no less than 10,000, is navigable. Each island is a mountain top, and on them the veins or ledges of gold bearing ore are found. The islands are all well timbered. Rat Portage is a town of 5000, and here arrangements have been made for six quartz mills to be built. The mills for the plant are made in Minneapolis by Mr. Leady, the patentee, and is known as the Leady process. The process is believed by all mining men to be a great success. The ore veins of the country are very numerous. The extent of these is far above the average of any gold mining country I have ever visited. The veins are prominent at the surface and, when once found, there is nothing left but to begin mining the ore.

"As to the prospects of the new region, let me say that in all mining, from Arizona to California, I have never seen a gold country showing better prospects than this one."

THE DECISION AFFIRMED

A Case Involving the Seizure of Wagons by the Sheriff.

The supreme court has upheld the decision of the St. Louis county court in the case of Cortland Wagon company, respondent, vs. Paul Sharvy, appellant. Sheriff Sharvy was only nominally in the case, the real defendant being James McCall. Following is the syllabus: 1. By a written contract made between plaintiff corporation and one W it was agreed that the former should furnish to the latter, for sale, upon its account, wagons and sleighs of its own manufacture, price lists being attached. No transfer of the absolute or general property to W. for a price in money or for any other consideration was agreed upon, nor was there a contingent agreement for such a transfer. Held that the contract was one of consignment only and not within the provisions of G. S., 1878, ch. 39, sec. 15, etc., which require certain contracts to be filed in the office of a town or city clerk.

2. Wagons and sleighs furnished by the plaintiff, but made by another concern, could be brought within all the terms and conditions of such contract by an oral agreement between plaintiff and W.

3. Although the question of fraudulent intent in cases arising under the provisions of our statute of frauds is made one of fact for a jury to determine, the statute which so provides—G. S. supra, ch. 41, sec. —has no applicability where there is no controversy over the facts, and where, as a consequence, the jury could find but one way.

4. The evidence in this case bearing upon the question of fraudulent intent in sale of certain chattels made by said W to plaintiff considered and held to have justified the court below in directing that the jury find for plaintiff as to these chattels. Order affirmed.

COLLINS, J.

TO SUCCEED SHAW.

S. D. McIntyre Elected Brigadier-General of the State Brigade, K. P.

An important meeting of the Minnesota Brigade, uniform rank, Knights of Pythias, was held at Pythian hall at St. Paul Wednesday afternoon. It was presided over by Maj. Gen. James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, Ind., who has held that distinguished rank for a number of years and through whose energy the rank has grown to a membership of 50,000.

S. D. McIntyre, of Minneapolis, was elected brigadier-general and will take immediate charge of the brigade. His staff appointments will be announced at an early date and will include some of the most prominent knights in the state. An arrangement was arranged for during the coming summer, and much routine business was performed.

Among those present were: Cols. E. H. Milham and A. P. Keam, of St. Paul; R. O. Philpot, of Owatonna; F. E. Austin, of Duluth; C. A. Clawson, of Minneapolis; E. G. Sanderson, of Duluth; J. E. Merriam, of Duluth; E. G. Merriam, of Duluth; F. S. McDonald, and about thirty commissioned officers of the regiments and divisions.

Supreme Chancellor Blackwell and Maj. Gen. Carnahan have arranged for the quartering of the knights at Chicago during the World's fair, and McIntyre's brigade will form no small part of the host that will attend.

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Two Iron Companies Organized to Work the Wisconsin "Finds."

Superior is getting excited over the iron boom in Washburn county. Two companies filed articles of incorporation yesterday. One is the Minong, which is incorporated by K. Robertson, J. S. Hadley and W. R. Fanning. The purposes of the company as set forth in the articles are to mine iron ore and also construct and operate a private railway. The principal offices will be in Superior. The capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each.

The Taconic Mining company has also been formed. The incorporators are K. J. Wemyss, W. F. Werry, J. H. Agen. The capital and other parts of the articles of incorporation are the same as the Minong.

THE ANNUAL ELECTION.

Trades and Labor Assembly Chooses Officers and Transacts Other Business.

The Trades and Labor assembly met last evening at the ball in the O'Brien-Knowlton block and the attendance of members was unusually large. After the usual routine matters had been gone through Mr. E. Applehagen made a strong plea to the machinists of this city to join the National Union of Machinists. The election of officers was then taken up. The unanimous re-election of President McDowell followed. E. Applehagen was chosen vice-president and statistician; Thomas Hancock, financial secretary; Charles Johnson, recording and corresponding secretary; Morris Griffin, treasurer; Joseph Dworschak, sergeant-at-arms; L. Schille, F. Werrick and Joseph Gleason, trustees.

A resolution was unanimously adopted that all union men boycott the steamer Christopher Columbus. Morris Griffin offered a suggestion that met with hearty approval—that the union men of this city give a dance in aid of the needy at Homestead. Committees were appointed to arrange for the same which will be given about the close of this month. After a resolution thanking the retiring treasurer, L. K. McChesney and Secretary John Reichert, the meeting adjourned.

WAS NOT RATTLED.

Engineer Miller Did Not Lose His Presence of Mind.

The inquest over the body of Adolph Swenson was held yesterday and it was found that he was himself to blame for his death. The testimony of Engineer Miller was spoken of by many as remarkably clear. He said the dead man was less than 200 feet from him when he was first discovered and that the train was running from twenty-five to thirty miles an hour.

At the latter rate of speed, it would only have taken about four seconds of time to have covered the distance yet in that brief interval the watchful engineer was able to minutely observe the attitude of the man, so that he could afterwards describe it to the coroner's jury, and he was also able to shut off and reverse his engine, and in less than fifteen seconds from the time the man was first observed the train was at a perfect standstill.

Has a Few Words to Say:

Mr. Fred Birderman, employed by W. T. Baily, of Duluth, says: "For three years I suffered with pains in my back, mental depression and general weakness. I felt tired most of the time, and had dizzy spells. I tried various remedies, but failed to get any permanent relief. Finally, after reading the different testimonials in the various papers, I concluded to consult DR. S. P. EBER & CO., New York block, West Superior. He explained my difficulties at once and made me understand that my troubles were due to a diseased effect. My disagreeable symptoms have disappeared, and I am well pleased with the result. I should be pleased to give any information to anyone interested, and I can be found on First street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, Duluth."

The joints and muscles are so lubricated by Hood's Sarsaparilla that it is impossible for the train to stop so suddenly. An arrangement was arranged for during the coming summer, and much routine business was performed.

Among those present were: Cols. E. H. Milham and A. P. Keam, of St. Paul; R. O. Philpot, of Owatonna; F. E. Austin, of Duluth; C. A. Clawson, of Minneapolis; E. G. Sanderson, of Duluth; J. E. Merriam, of Duluth; F. S. McDonald, and about thirty commissioned officers of the regiments and divisions.

Supreme Chancellor Blackwell and Maj. Gen. Carnahan have arranged for the quartering of the knights at Chicago during the World's fair, and McIntyre's brigade will form no small part of the host that will attend.

PREPARING FOR WORK. Two Iron Companies Organized to Work the Wisconsin "Finds."

Superior is getting excited over the iron boom in Washburn county. Two companies filed articles of incorporation yesterday. One is the Minong, which is incorporated by K. Robertson, J. S. Hadley and W. R. Fanning. The purposes of the company as set forth in the articles are to mine iron ore and also construct and operate a private railway. The principal offices will be in Superior. The capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each.

The Taconic Mining company has also been formed. The incorporators are K. J. Wemyss, W. F. Werry, J. H. Agen. The capital and other parts of the articles of incorporation are the same as the Minong.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE.

raised and revealed the angry flames savagely darting their destroying tongues from every window and opening. From that on they raged fast and furious, eating away the shell-like structure with a rapidity rivaling a dog with a pot of mush. The fire engine at the corner of Superior street and Fifth avenue west commenced to throw a heavy stream. The awnings on the corner of the Phoenix building caught fire but were soon extinguished. Aside from the blistered signs and store fronts, the damage sustained by that whole block front on the north side of Superior street is considerable. Many windows in the Palladio are cracked and all the fronts between that and the Phoenix block are in the same fix. All the windows on the second floor are badly cracked as are all of those on the ground floor. Cate & Clark, Haug Bros., coal dealers, and the candy shop in the same room, together with the front of Gordon & Henney are wholly broken out.

At 11:30 o'clock the frequent crashing sounds gave way to one of terrific force and the walls on the Fourth avenue side fell in together with most of those on Superior street.

After much trouble the standpipe on the front of the Brighton was connected with a hose and a stream was soon pouring out on the roof. Simultaneously with that, some chump commenced throwing bed clothing out of the front of the Brighton. They lodged on the wires and would have made excellent fuel for the flames had the front of that building caught.

A hose line was playing on the part from the top of the Phoenix building and the fire ladders kept up their struggles to get more streams on the Brighton's exposed wall. With a loud crash at 11:30 o'clock the remainder of the Superior street wall of the St. Louis fell outward half way across the street, just missing several firemen working in front of the Security bank. That proved the salvation of the Brighton and from that on, thanks to the good wall, the only work to be done on that side was to let the streams of water play up and down the broad expanse of heated wall.

The line men for the street railway, telephone and electric wire were all the while busily engaged in cutting Superior street wires and putting things generally in shape so that as little damage as possible would ensue and that they could be put in working order as soon as possible after the flames were sustained. At 12 o'clock it was plainly to be seen that the Brighton on that side was safe.

The old Fergusson building, probably not satisfied with its late ordeal with the flames, broke out in C. E. Lovett's old office with a small blaze. A few streams from a hose near by rendered those sardonic swords of flame as invisible during the rest of the fire as was Col. Craig of low water works pressure fame, himself during the whole matinee.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The Figures as Accurately as They Can Be Obtained at Present.

The St. Louis hotel building belongs to The Realty company, a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Maine. It was valued at $50,000 and was insured for $20,000. The rentals were also insured for $10,000. The insurance was placed as follows:

On Building.
Germania, N. Y.	$1,000

Hamburg Bremen.	2,000
London and Lancashire.	1,000
Hartford.	1,000
Aetna.	2,000

The Brighton hotel building is also owned by the same company. It is impossible as yet to determine the loss, as it is almost entirely from damage by water. The building is insured for $25,000 and the rentals for $20,000. Stryker, Manley & Buck are the agents of both buildings.

The loss of Messrs. Michaud & Butchart has not been figured out as yet, but is believed to be in the neighborhood of $50,000. Mr. Michaud could not give the amount of insurance on the furniture, but said it is about $20,000. R. A. Tausig has $5,000 on the furniture and $14,750 on current was allowed, but whether the firm carried the entire amount could not be learned. Mr. Butchart carried $200 on his personal effects.

LOSSES OF TENANTS.

American Express Company Probably the Heaviest Loser.

Aside from the different branches of the hotel business, there were but few tenants. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha people lost everything, including office fixtures, tickets and ticket cases and quite a sum of money in the counter cash drawer. Agent Sisler is at present unable to give an estimate of the actual loss. The company carries blanket insurance. General Agent Geo. M. Smith lost all the company's papers, etc., and besides this had a loss of personal effects of about $500, upon which he had $300 of insurance. Mr. Sisler's personal loss is about $200 and Mr. L. V. Brown's about $150, and they had no insurance. The company will have temporary offices in Gordon & Henney's store across the street.

The American Express company in the same room lost a large amount of express matter some of it outbound and some of it inbound. All their fixtures and supplies were burned. The contents of the safe are supposed to be all right, but if they are destroyed the damage will be much greater as there was a large quantity of money there. This company also carries blanket insurance. The company has secured the old Democratic Club headquarters on Third avenue west and is open for business there temporarily. Agent Hughes and his force of clerks and drivers lost personal amounts ranging from $50 each upwards, and on which there is no insurance.

The Pioneer Fuel company lose all their office fixtures and furniture but they are covered by blanket insurance. The employees of the office and Manager Ferguson have some personal uninsured losses. They are now located in the East End branch office, 301 East Superior street.

L. C. Holliday loses all his desks and fixtures and a number of valuable plats and papers. He could not be seen but is supposed to be insured. The Security bank in the Brighton also sustained some loss by smoke, heat and water.

The Phoenix block is damaged quite a good deal, also C. F. Johnson's building adjoining. All the large plate glass windows in the block were cracked and broken by the intense heat, and the woodwork on the window casings and elsewhere is charred and blistered. The loss is covered by general insurance.

MAY BE LIVES LOST.

Several People Are Missing and One Woman is Believed to Have Perished.

The general rumors of loss of life are exaggerated, but if a careful sifting down of the reports is correct it is bad enough. It is pretty reasonably certain that some woman perished on the third floor, also some large man. Fred E. Lovett, who roomed in the hotel, stumbled over a prostrate body which he was unable to save. His singed hair and eyebrows and reddened face tell the severity of his experience.

One of the scrub women is missing and she is thought to be perished. Engineer Fraser, of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, was not in the city, although a report was rife that he had been seen here. An elevator boy, answering to the name of Louis, was also reported missing, but it is not believed that he is burned. The night clerk reports having aroused several people, but one large man he was unable to awaken although he pounded and kicked him.

Aid From Superior.

The fire commission telephoned to Superior and in thirty-five minutes after receiving the summons Assistant Chief Kellogg with twelve men, six horses, a steam fire engine and a hose cart were at the scene of the conflagration. They came over on the ice making a magnificent run. In less than two minutes they had two splendid streams playing on the fire and they did excellent work.

Windows Cracked.

Every plate glass window in the Phoenix block is a total wreck. All of the second story windows on Superior street are also broken. The loss of the tenants are very slight if, indeed, there are any. The plate glass in the Chamberlain & Taylor store is also broken and a number of the windows in the Palladio building are also broken.

A Plucky Girl.

SMELLING COMMITTEE.

President Clough Appoints the Senate Committee to Investigate the Railroads and the Grain Business.

Boggs Has Made Himself Solid With the Farmer Members by Favoring the Anti-Option Bill.

Those Interested in Special Acts Should Look Out or They May Find Them Repealed.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the house today little was done. A bill was introduced being an exact copy of Senator Honney's bill establishing a produce market, board of trade and elevator at Duluth. It is rumored an underhanded attempt will be made to act upon the bill on Saturday Tuesday so that some members may have an excuse of not getting back in time for the senatorial election, but it is not likely to succeed.

The resolution of Senator Wood favoring the passage of the Washburn anti-option bill came up in the senate today and was referred to the committee on grain and warehouses. Senator Severson introduced another resolution of the same nature which went over, under notice of debate. The national quarantine resolution of Senator Dean was passed.

President Clough appointed Senators Severson, Tawney, Dedon, Dean and Craven as a special committee to investigate the railroads and grain business under the terms of Mr. Severson's resolution. The senate adjourned to Monday at 4 p. m.

Among the most important of recent bills introduced in the senate is one by Senator Tawney creating a lunacy commission. It creates a board of two physicians and one lawyer or other professional man, who shall constitute a board to look after the interests, other than financial, of all the insane asylums of the state. This will result, it is thought, in unifying the system and in giving them a more efficient management than they have hitherto had.

The measure which has created most interest in the house during the last few days is the resolution introduced into the house by Bob Dunn favoring the anti-option bill of Senator Washburn. The same resolution was introduced in the senate several days ago. The resolution caught every farmer in the house at once and of course passed by a considerable majority. Bob Dunn then telegraphed the text of his passage to Senator Washburn and mailed the resolution to Washington. Bob's frank evidently extends only to mail and not to telegraphic tolls or he would have sent the resolution direct by telegraph.

The funniest incident connected with the measure, however, was an attempt made yesterday afternoon to reconsider it after the news had been sent to Washington that it had passed.

Mr. Boggs called out great applause by his stand in favor of the bill and his statements to the effect that all dealing in options was radically wrong. He thought that wheat should come into competition with wheat, and not with wind. Boggs has made himself more or less solid with the farming element by his stand in the matter because Duluth is largely looked upon by them as practically in control of the board of trade. It is the intention of the Duluth delegation to pull with the country as much as possible. This will probably prove a winning card until the iron mining tax bill comes up, which will hit the considerable fun for the Twin cities no doubt, in watching the melee.

A certain element of the Democrats in the senate, the Alliance and Populist members in both houses and a few country members of the Republican party are very severe on the mining interests and seemed determined to cripple them in their infancy by an output tax, unless the matter is carefully handled and the facts are set forth in their correct light. There is a great number of woodchuck bills this session, many of them in the nature of repeal of special acts. If anyone has got any interest in special acts now on the statute books, he will have to look "a leetle out," as our friend Hans puts it, or he will find it repealed before the end of the session. There is going to be some of this special act repeal legislation from St. Louis county before the house before many days.

The Democrats of both houses caucused last night and agreed unanimously on D. W. Lawler as their candidate for United States senator. The Populist-Alliance men divided to support S. M. Owen, and as Senators Wood, Homer and Mott attended the senate will stand 28 to 26 against Davis.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Emile Zola is paid for the right to publish his novels serially at the rate of three cents a word.

Sculptor F. Edwin Elwell, of Sandwich, Mass., who will make an equestrian statue of General Winfield Scott Hancock, has made a specialty of "men on horseback."

Miss Minnie Gilmore, daughter of the late Patrick Gilmore, of Gilmore and fame, is author of "Women as Seen Through a Man's Glass," "A Son of Esau" and "Pipes from Paradise Land."

Herbert Spencer has been writing for more than forty years, and a partial estimate of the profits from the sale of his most important books shows that they have brought him less than a thousand pounds a year.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in a symposium on the subject of a poet laureate for America, says, "The grandest poem in literary construction and richness of language, written by an American poet, is to my thinking, 'Herod and Marianne,' by Annette Livers."

Frances Hunt Thorp didn't do much painting in Japan. She formed a taste for riding about in "rickshaws" and cultivated a strong Japanese cook. A picture just finished is interesting as showing a Japanese beauty from the American standpoint.

Rev. G. L. Dodson (Lewis Carroll), the bachelor tutor of Oxford, known the world over as the author of "Alice in Wonderland" refuses to visit grownup girls who had read his book when they were little. He is bashful and is afraid they might become sentimental.

Mr. Edmund Gosse's first romance, "The Secret of Narcissus," is, if we may believe English critics, a successful effort. It is a story of medieval craftsmanship and superlatively the metal working hero being burned as a dealer in "black magic" for inventing a musical skeleton.

EXPOSITION ECHOES.

Saint-Saens has promised to come over to America to be one of the conductors of music at the World's fair.

Deputy Executive Commissioner Woodward is arranging for an exhibit of Pennsylvania pottery and porcelain at the World's fair.

The first photograph ever taken in this country has turned up again. It will be shown at the Chicago exposition. Its date is Dec. 15, 1854.

The Emperor William has ordered a model of the church erected in memory of the Empress Augusta to be sent to the Chicago exhibition.

Sydney, New South Wales, proposes to have a remarkable exhibit at the World's fair in the way of photographs. Some 400 views, each 30 by 40 inches in size, will certainly make a fine showing.

Mrs. Helen Elizabeth King, of Cleveland, has been copying, to be exhibited by the state of Ohio at the World's fair, Huntington's portrait of General Sherman, which belongs to the national government and hangs in the war department at Washington.

More money has already been paid out in erecting the World's fair than the directors thought would be necessary to complete it when congress voted to send the exposition to Chicago. Ten million dollars was thought to be the limit then. The expenditures to Dec. 1 amounted to $12,160,330.61.

CROWN AND SCEPTER.

The Princess of Wales wears gloves three feet long.

The maharajah of Baroda and his whole court are strict teetotalers.

Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, who recently married a Munich ballet girl forty years younger than himself, is said to resemble Henry Irving in manner and features.

One of Queen Victoria's choicest treasures at Windsor castle is Mozart's old harpsichord, which is described as being a " quaint, rather shabby looking instrument with a double set of keys."

The trades unions of Vienna have presented to Princess Pauline Metternich a beautiful album with an address of thanks for her self sacrificing energy in inaugurating and carrying through the international musical exhibition.

The queen of Italy, while she often provides charming little melodies, is unable afterward to repeat them. A phonograph is therefore placed on the piano when she plays, and thus her impromptus are saved from oblivion.

The emir of Bokhara wears a gorgeous eastern dress, a turban of bright red silk reaching to the knees, and the silk girdle round his waist is edged with sable and studded with precious stones. The emir wears on his head a turban of white satin covered with gold lace and precious stones.

Dress Goods

Throughout the Department were never sold as cheap as we are selling them for at present, as is proved by the big business we are doing in this Department daily while other houses are comparatively idle.

With Regard to Trimmings!

You can buy a good Trimming for very little money of us; so cheap, in fact, that your Dress Goods, Trimming and Linings will cost you less than you'd ordinarily pay for the goods alone.

He went to Northern Iowa to Purchase a Car Load of Horses.

Liveryman and Horse Dealer Boyd of Ashland is said to be missing and some people have connected him with the mysterious floater at the East End. Boyd left Duluth a short time ago and bade several of his friends good bye at the depot. The missing man bears a good reputation and is an experienced horse dealer and it is believed by his many friends in Duluth and Superior that he will turn up all right.

He left here to buy or secure a car load of horses and is probably peacefully pursuing his work in Northern Iowa. Mr. Boyd did not wear a fur trimmed overcoat. It was a grey cape coat and could not possibly be mistaken for a brown one.

BIGTRADE IN WHEAT.

A General Scramble at the Close On the Chicago Board Today to Cover Shorts.

Pardridge Was an Active Seller of Wheat all Day and His Offerings Were Absorbed.

Wheat Was Firm and Higher on the Duluth Board With Considerable Trading in May.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—There was a big trade in wheat today. At the close there was a general scramble to cover shorts. Pardridge, who held out of the market most of the time yesterday, was an active seller of wheat nearly all day today. His offerings, as well as those of his followers, were absorbed. The small fry was covering at the close, but there was no indication that Pardridge was buying.

Lower cables made a rather weak market, but heavy buying by Champlin and Logan started a sharp upturn. This brought out heavy sales by Parker and brokers representing Cudahy. Additional selling was done by Gifford, Pardridge and Logan.

The outsiders without exception were buying wheat here. The St. Louis crowd bought considerable wheat for July delivery here. Cash wheat was wanted and all car lots sold readily. Corn ranged higher. There was good buying by Schwartz, the Southwest and the New York. Light receipts were given as the main bullish information. Others say the cold weather will increase country feeding.

Oats were higher. Provisions were higher. There is a good general speculative demand for all sorts of produce. Flax seed was higher. N. A. Oglesby & Son, a small firm, failed today with small liabilities.

WHEAT FIRM AND HIGHER.

An Advance of One Cent in Cash Wheat Took Place Today.

The wheat market today was firm and steady at the opening with buyers at yesterday's prices. Prices advanced 1/4c on the early trading but subsequently lost it. Business was suspended for an hour owing to the St. Louis hotel fire. When trading was resumed, prices became firmer and considerable May wheat changed hands at the outside figure. Cash wheat ruled dull and neglected but very firm. The close was firm at 1c higher than yesterday and January and July and higher for May. Following were the closing prices:
No. 1 hard, cash, 71 1/2c; January, 71 1/2c; May, 71 1/2c; No. 1 northern, cash, 69c; January, 69c; May, 69c; No. 2 northern, cash, 68 1/2c; No. 3, 67 1/2c; Rejected, 56c; Rye, 48c; Flax, cash, 51 1/2c; January, 51 1/2c; May, 51 1/2c.
Car inspection today, 40c; Receipts—Wheat 50,000 bush; Shipments—Wheat, 513 bus. Cars on track, 25; last year, 30.

Outside Markets.
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The close: Wheat: January, 71 1/2c; May, 71 1/2c; No. 1 northern, cash, 69c; January, 69c; May, 69c; No. 2 northern, cash, 68 1/2c; No. 3, 67 1/2c; Rejected, 56c; Rye, 48c; Flax, cash, 51 1/2c; January, 51 1/2c; May, 51 1/2c.
CORN: January, 51 1/2c; May, 51 1/2c; Oats: January, 31 1/2c; May, 31 1/2c; Pork: January, $18.75; May, $18.00; Lard: January, $10.85; May, $10.25.

THE DULUTH & WINNIPEG.

Attachment For Over Half a Million Against the Construction Company.

One of the heaviest attachment suits ever begun in the Ramsey county district court was filed yesterday, it being the suit of the Minneapolis Trust company against the North Star Construction company, of Minneapolis, to secure the payment of the sum of $591,432.88. The attachment bonds are the only papers yet on file, but in setting forth the nature of the claim it is said that this company was loaned to the construction company by W. R. Merriam, and that for a good consideration he assigned his claim to the plaintiff. From the nature of the action it seems that Mr. Merriam loaned the amount stated to the North Star company.

The North Star company is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, where the incorporation laws are less strict than here, but has been doing business in Minneapolis and through the Northwest. The company was organized for the construction of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad. Among the men interested in the company are Foley Bros. & Guthrie, Donald Grant, R. S. Munger, F. H. Boardman, of Boston, and William H. Fisher. The latter is manager of the company.

TO DEFEAT DAVIS

It is Openly Charged That Attempts Have Been Made to Bribe Several Republican Members.

Three Men Ready to Swear Certain People Offered Them Money to Stay Away Tuesday.

A Prospect That the Matter Will be Taken Before the Ramsey County Grand Jury.

The Situation is Serious and There is no Telling What May be the Final Result.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—The Journal says: As matters stand today in St. Paul, the liveliest fears are entertained by the most ardent supporters of Senator Davis that his defeat will be accomplished next Tuesday or Wednesday. Money has been offered in sums ranging from $1500 to $3000 to some six or eight members of the lower house to be absent from St. Paul during the time of the senatorial election.

One member was asked to go to Detroit, another to Chicago, a third to New York, while the fourth was asked to go to his home in the interior of the state. Three prominent Republican members of the lower house, who have been offered $2500, $1500 and $2000 respectively for their absence from the capitol, next week, were seen yesterday by a reporter and were very willing to tell all the facts connected with the offer to bribe.

They are not willing at this time to have their names used, but say that if the statements of this article are denied they will then come forward with their names and with proof. The Ramsey county grand jury is now in session, and there was a conference of some twenty-five Republican members of the legislature yesterday morning, following adjournment, to consider the propriety of going before that body and securing its indictment of the men who have been in the lobby all week, one of them an ex-state senator, for offering to bribe the Republican members to be absent during the time of the senatorial election.

When the matter of adjournment came up in the house there was a disposition to adjourn until Monday afternoon, as the senate did; but the Da is leaders passed the word around that there must be an adjournment until Monday afternoon, members any excuse for going home. Hence the determination to meet again today.

The conference yesterday did not result in any unanimity of feeling regarding the matter of indictment. Almost a majority, including some of the more enthusiastic Davis men, were in favor of going direct to the grand jury, with the belief that the indictments could effectually stop the gathering storm. Others were in favor of behaving in a more conservative manner, for the reason that if the matter were pushed it would surely result in a defeat of Davis.

One member was in favor of introducing in the house a resolution calling for an investigation of the boodle charges, and the resolution was actually written. After an excited debate it was finally decided to withdraw it. The conference would not agree as to what was best to be done and at last dissolved without taking a vote. It is believed that some of the more radical and hot-headed Davis men have made arrangements to go before the grand jury. They say that a set of indictments must result in stopping the opposition.

The Democrats are said to be in the deal with the Republican opponents of Davis, with the understanding that if Davis is downed and there is no hope for returning a Republican, then the Democrats will slip in. The Democrats, indeed, are now saying that if Davis is defeated the country members will bolt the party on the senatorial matter, and go to some good Democrat for senator. It is not understood at this time that the Davis opposition would willingly see a Democrat elected to succeed Davis, but if they can carry their point in no other way, it is believed they will submit to such an arrangement.

The legislature is all at sea owing to the disclosures of the past few days, and a more panicky body of men has not been seen in this state for a long time than met at the capitol this morning and tried to transact business for the state.

There was serious talk of a secret meeting of the Republicans in both houses, to be held tonight, at which the Davis opposition shall be carefully considered, a plan of defense adopted and each man pledged anew to abide by the caucus of last week. The question arising in connection with the proposed meeting is, can a majority—or eighty-five Republican members—be induced to attend it? If the meeting is held at all, tonight is favored by a number for the reason that if the opposition is to overcome, no time is to be lost. "There is no telling what tomorrow may bring forth," is the way one member puts it.

Bill Against Lynching. RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 14.—The committee on judiciary yesterday decided to make a favorable report to the legislature on a bill intended to put a stop to lynching. It is important as the first ever introduced in this state. It imposes a penalty of $500 and imprisonment of any person engaged in a lynching. It also holds the authorities of a county responsible if lynchings occur.

Poisoned by Lard. CELINA, O., Jan. 14.—Gideon LeBlond, his wife, his daughter, Miss Carrie Ayer, and Henry Felker, of Toledo, were strangely poisoned yesterday. Mr. Le-

Blond, Miss Ayer and Mr. Felker are out of danger. Mrs. LeBlond is in a dangerous condition with little hope of recovery. It is thought that the poison was in lard and a physician has taken some of it for analysis. The sufferers are old residents, wealthy and popular.

MR. BLAINE'S CONDITION. The Physicians Are Astonished at His Great Vitality.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Blaine passed another uneventful night and was reported by Dr. Johnston, who left the house at 5:30 o'clock this morning, to be resting comfortably and to be a trifle stronger than he was last evening. At no time during the night was the patient's condition considered critical, and the family were enabled to enjoy an uninterrupted rest. Except for the occasional movements of the nurses preparing medicine, there was not a visible sign of life within the mansion. Dr. Johnston was asked the direct question whether he considered Mr. Blaine in a dying condition, but evading an exact reply, said that he was constantly growing weaker. He intimated that while his condition was susceptible to the slightest changes, he (the doctor) did not believe there was any immediate danger of dissolution.

While more or less nourishment was given Mr. Blaine, the physician admitted that he is living on stimulants and several times his life has been recalled by the administering of nitro-glycerine, which in its results has even surprised the physicians. It was evident from the replies that Dr. Johnston was mystified at the wonderful vitality possessed by the patient.

BAD RAILROAD WRECK.

A Coach Fell Thirty Feet and Eight Passengers Were Injured.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Jan. 14.—A most disastrous wreck occurred on the Iowa Central, one and one-half miles east of Morning Sun, Ia., last evening. As an eastbound passenger train approached the crossing, the rear coach jumped the track and ran along the ties till the trestle was reached, when the coach cleared the track and fell thirty feet to the ground below, carrying with it eight passengers, all of whom were seriously injured, two of whom may die.

The most serious injured are: Rev. Mr. Miller, may die; E. S. Drummer, Wyoming, Ill., back and shoulders hurt; Elmer Reece, Morning Sun; Thomas Meyer, Oakville, Ia., seriously bruised on head and shoulders; unknown man from Keithsburg, Ill., seriously bruised and burned. Several of the other injured were also burned. The coach took fire and was only saved by the efforts of a gang of ice cutters at work in the vicinity. The injured were taken to a farm house near by and doctors from Morning Sun attending them.

THE COUNT HAS SKIPPED.

Flight of a Milwaukee Man Who is Short in His Accounts.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 14.—Harry Von Kousky, a bogus count and close friend and associate of Robert Kuchner, the missing attorney, is also missing. He has been for several years the confidential man for Henry Haack, editor of the Volksfreund, and had entire charge of the "count." The count is short in his accounts. The total amount cannot yet be told, as experts are working on his books, and as far his shortage is believed to be about $7000.

It developed yesterday that before Kuchner left home he confessed the situation to his wife, saying that he was financially ruined and informed her of the direction of his flight, but that Mrs. Kuchner keeps secret. It is thought the count has skipped.

MET A HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Mother Burned to Death While Saving Her Children.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Wm. De Courcy met a horrible death in her home, 1719 Etting street, early this morning. A kerosene night lamp exploded, setting fire to the house. Mr. and Mrs. De Courcy escaped safely but left two children behind.

They rushed back to save the little ones and the father succeeded in bringing both to the street in safety, but the mother was overcome by smoke and her charred body was found by the firemen an hour later. The father and children were badly burned.

The Atlantic Frozen.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The observer at Sandy Hook reports the bay and all the water around the hook as far as can be seen covered with ice. A small steamer is stuck in the ice between Romer beacon and the east bank, and there is a three-masted vessel apparently a coal barge, broadside on to the rocks on Romer beacon.

Filger & Co., proprietors of the Lake Superior brewery, have let the contracts for the remodeling of their brew house, the addition of new machinery and the replacing of other portions of the plant. The improvements will aggregate about $150,000 in value and will increase the capacity of the brewery to 100,000 barrels per annum. The contract for the shafting, pulleys, belting, gearing, etc., has been let to the Clyde Iron company on Lake avenue, and the work will be done in first class manner.

MILLS IS NOW SLATED

The Former Moorhead Judge Said to Have Been Offered the Railroad and Warehouse Commissionership.

Governor Nelson Got Tired of the Persistent Office Seekers and Begged Mills to Take It.

A Batch of Bills Introduced in the Legislature Today by the Minnesota Society.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 14.—(Special to the Herald.)—Judge Mills, of Moorhead, Minn., resigned the position of assistant attorney general, it is believed, to accept membership of the railroad and warehouse commission. His resignation leaked out last night and from personal friends information was obtained that Governor Nelson had become tired of the office-seekers, and went to Mills asking him to accept the job. Barto and Gilman, it is understood, have knocked each other out.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY BILLS.

A Stack of Measures Introduced by Boggs and Cotton Today.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 14.—(Special to the Herald.)—The St. Louis county delegation in the house introduced a stack of bills this morning. Boggs introduced a bill for an act to provide for change of venue in civil actions in municipal courts in counties having more than one municipal court. It gives the right to change of venue from one municipal court to another in the same county under the same terms as a change of venue in courts of justices of the peace. J. B. Cotton had a bill to provide for the punishment of a wilful, malicious, felonious interference with and injury to part or parts of steam engines, steam boilers and machinery connected therewith.

Mr. Boggs introduced a bill which went to the judiciary committee, a bill for an act to regulate the salaries of assistant county attorneys. It provides for assistant county attorneys shall have from $1500 to $2500 annually. This act does not apply to cities having over 150,000 people. The salary is to be fixed between those figures by the commissioners.

Mr. Cotton introduced a bill amending the penal code making cohabitation of men and women, whether either of them are married or single, punishable as fornication. He also introduced a bill amending the general statutes which provides the county attorneys in counties of over 40,000 population and having more than four terms of district court in one year shall have salaries of between $3000 and $5000 per year as may be determined by county commissioners.

Mr. Boggs had a bill passed under suspension of the rules repealing the act of 1891, fixing the salaries of certain county officials in St. Louis county. The following special committee was announced by the speaker: W. A. Fleming, Boggs, Kelly, Cole, T. Wacek. The special committee on food and food products are Staples, Comstock, E. F. Virtue and Moore.

E. R. Radcliffe returned to Duluth last night from a trip to the north. He is safe to predict that appropriations of Pythias, Governor Nelson left last night to spend a day or two in his native heath at Alexandria, and will probably not return before Monday or Tuesday. Meanwhile the office seekers are kept guessing in a manner not conducive to sound sleep on nights. The latest conjecture is that Gilman and Barto have knocked each other out and that a well known legal luminary of the north will capture the Railroad and Warehouse Commissionership. Williams' vacant brogans. A rumor was also started here that Barto was supporting Gilman for the job. This is the unlikely cut of all, no doubt, for both. Even the public does not recognize their well-known antipathy for each other. But politics does make strange bedfellows and if the bed is large enough it may possibly accommodate two.

It is thought that Ash will get the surveyor generalship again but Knute is saying nothing and saving wood at a rapid pace. At a meeting of the state normal school board yesterday it was decided to ask the legislature for an appropriation of $140,000 for additional buildings and repairs on normal schools.

It is larger in this legislature than ever before. It is right that they should be so, according to the opinion of leading Republicans, who feel that this is a great and growing state whose needs in a public sense increase from year to year. There are only ten states in the Union which have an equally good permanent common educational fund, and but one, California, with an equal permanent fund its university. Yet Minnesota's debt is a mere bagatelle under Republican rule, which she could wipe out at "any stage of the game," as the saying goes. Senator Daugherty the other day received a communication from Mr. Washburn asking him to recommend a postmaster at Iron Junction. It seems that the present incumbent is not noted for the straight "lacedness" of his moral sentiments on the subject of bending his elbow to look upon the sunlight through a denser medium than air albeit a spirit.

This legislature will be called upon to act upon legislation from almost every branch of the many ramifications of the governor's deputed power. Every day state officers have also some changes to support in the laws governing his department of the public business. We are in the pleasant soundings of the incoming tide of legislation as it begins its Herd. The high tide will probably be reached with 1000 bills in the senate and from 1200 to 1500 in the house. The heaviest weighted lobby which has thus far appeared during this session is the railroad lobby. The scalpers and insurance men will be down upon the legislature soon. Most of the lobbyists so far have bills to propose rather than bills to kill.

TEN NEW ATTORNEYS.

Proceedings at the Special Term of the District Court This Morning.

Before Judge Ensign in special term this morning in the matter of the insolvent Powerville Felt Roofing company a receiver was appointed and his bond for $25,000 was filed. W. F. Norton, Jr. vs. Martin Wheeler et al. and O. W. Saunders vs. James Gallagher were struck from the calendar. Charles Meniece et al. vs. W. P. Heimbach, Patrick Ryan vs. M. J. Clark, Amanda Borgesser vs. John Borgesser, Duluth & Iron Range railroad vs. Edward Lynch et al. the appeal of A. R. Macgregor from assessments, Frank G. as vs. Jacob H. Carlson, were all counted. The sale was confirmed in the Pabst Brewing company vs. Ole J. Olsson et al. The motion was overruled in Samuel Gillespie vs. Samuel Meniece et al. Judgment was ordered for the plaintiff in Edward P. Krimer vs. Frederick Prentice, also in Martha H. Norton et al. vs. same defendant. An interesting feature of the morning session was the "swearing in" of ten of the successful candidates at the last examination. They were Henry Lardner, J. W. Middlecott, John Dwan, J. R. McGiffert, Thomas J. McKoon, L. Gretum, J. W. Hunt, Oscar Mitchell, J. H. Whitley, E. F. Alford, A. L. Thurman and F. W. Benz. Other successful candidates will be sworn in in their own cities.

THE SNIVELY MINE.

It Promises to be a Good Second to the Mountain Iron.

The idea has been generally prevalent among mining men of the Mesaba, says the Mesaba Range, that although the Mountain Iron is a large property it is about the only land of value in town 58-18, with the possible exception of the find of the Biwabik company in section 36, which in reality is a continuation of the bed of ore lying along the western side of town 58-17. This idea has been several times advanced to the editor of the Range by explorers of good st. n. boilers and machinery connected therewith.

Mr. Boggs introduced a bill which went to the judiciary committee, a bill for an act to regulate the salaries of assistant county attorneys. It provides for assistant county attorneys shall have from $1500 to $2500 annually. This act does not apply to cities having over 150,000 people. THE DISCHARGE OF LITTLE

Will be the Subject of an Investigation This Afternoon.

The investigation of the action of the fire commissioners in discharging Assistant Chief Little and other actions connected with the middle was postponed yesterday because it was inconvenient for Chief of Police Horgan to attend.

The investigation was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon. A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed and a nice little matinee will likely be enjoyed by all. J. D. Holmes will conduct the examination of witnesses. Alderman Nelson is the presiding officer of the committees.

Social Happenings of Interest, and Movements of Duluth People and Visitors to the City.

The social world has moved along during the past week with very little prominent stir, but quite a showing of minor social happenings. There have been a number of club events, quite a lot of card parties, and several small private dances. Cupid has not been very busy during the week, at least he has not completed many matrimonial knots. The weather has been a trifle too cold for sleighing and we really need a little more snow to make the going first class.

The young people have been putting in a busy week at the various skating rinks, and skating parties of fifteen or twenty young society people are quite frequent at the covered rink. It is understood that a private masquerade on the ice and on skates is booked for the Lake avenue rink in about ten days. The common horde of sightseers will be kept out and entrance will be strictly "by card."

The following letter from St. Paul, addressed to the sporting editor of The Herald, has been received:

Sir: I will be in Duluth shortly, and if any of the Duluth or West Superior wrestlers are anxious for a match I will wrestle any of them for any amount of money.

I will give Curtis his own style as he is lighter than I, and will wrestle Andy Danaher, Lewis or anyone else straight catch-as-catch-can for any reasonable purse.

I am on the way East to get in condition for the Scotch games in Chicago at the World's fair, and would like to hear from some of the above named wrestlers while in Duluth.

After an encounter between the plaintiff and this woman on one of Inman's tugs the couple separated, and the wife has since resided in Cleveland. The court gave her a divorce, custody of the children and $12,000 cash, also an allowance of $1200 a year during the minority of her children. Capt. Inman was not present.

GILL IS HEARD FROM

The Missing Duluthian Writes to The Herald From Chicago on the Work He is Doing.

His Remarks Are Mainly in Reply to Criticisms on His Letter to a Minneapolis Man.

He Believes the Country is in Danger and He Has Found the Cause and Remedy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—To the editor of The Herald: It having come to my knowledge that the people of Duluth are being entertained to a love-feast by my bosom friend, the Honorable Judge Ozora P. Stearns, and the Northwestern Witness over the downfall of your humble servant. I deem it but just to make an explanation. I shall not take the trouble to deny a single false statement that has been made from that would only be an effort to belittle others in the eyes of their townsmen, while a falsehood by others can do me no harm.

I beg leave to also be excused from making any comments on the remarks of the honorable judge and shall only endeavor to aid my good friends in their feeble efforts to get at the truth.

Fair-minded and intelligent people will notice that all of this belittling is over a private letter to a man, who professed to be a true Protestant and was written for the express and only purpose of inducing that devoted apostle to do his professed duty and to help to get all of the people in this country to search and to study for the truth so as to better enable them to make good citizens and to dwell in peace and harmony with one another.

Ought I to be held responsible, by my friends, because it was necessary to write such a strong plea to excite John T. Knox, of Minneapolis, to do his duty to his God? Ought I to be held responsible because Mr. Knox first induced and then betrayed a man who professed to be a disciple of the truth to get him to practice his profession?

I will state my position. Every man, who labors knows that there is something wrong somewhere. Every Protestant and every Catholic knows that there is something wrong, but they cannot tell just what it is or where.

If this were not true there would not be so much unrest, disorder and crime as there is in this country.

It is the increase to such an alarming extent, nor would each craft and social body of men and women be petitioning and working for the correction of some wrong.

If the people will but stop and think they will find their true republicanism in an awful condition and that it is for the good of all parties to study for the truth and find out where the wrong lies and then apply the remedy.

If both Protestants and Catholics would go to studying there would soon be no differences to speak of but as it is and the Catholics don't study for the truth, the Protestants don't study for the truth, and the iron trade of this country will be made a special study by Mr. Gridley. His trip in all will cover several months.

stores in this country, books that would start the people to thinking in the right direction. Surely good people will respond quickly to help inform all of the great mass of the people.

Since I got at the bottom facts most Catholics now seem to me to be honest and most Protestants dishonest, but both alike seem to be so ignorant, so bigoted and so selfish that they will not sacrifice or even temporarily suspend their desire and plans to make money, or their other personal interests and devote all of their time and their thought and their mind to study and to ascertain the causes that do produce the trouble and to ascertain the elements that are necessary to nourish each root, under which they claim personal freedom of speech and act, but each alike seem to only study, not for the causes of the trouble, but for the means to do so, to excite hatred, enmity, discord, unrest, anarchy and which do invite monarchy and despotism, and each seem to be so set in their own plans that they are glib counselors and each alike seem to be adverse to helping in any way to get the people of this country to studying to learn the true status of their personal safety, which now means their personal danger.

I do now see the danger, the cause and the remedy, and I will never violate nor will I divert my attention one moment for any purpose so long as the present condition of things does exist, unless I first die in the attempt to do my duty to my countrymen; to incite them to study, and to study in the right direction, the cases of their carnal disorders, which is the only hope of perpetuating their personal liberty.

Since that famous letter was written I have learned many valuable things, the least of which is that no language can be written strong enough to persuade a Minneapolis man to prove true to his profession.

The people of Duluth should also learn one lesson that no good can possibly come from satisfaction or approval of the conduct of their judges and their press in publishing ungentlemanly comments on a private letter written to inquire a Minneapolis man to do his duty to his God.

The Creation of the Columbian Exposition Grounds and Buildings.

In the line of its illustrated descriptions of the organization and equipment of the offices of architects and engineers, which have been a prominent and widely-appreciated feature of its columns during the past two years, The Engineering Record in its issue of January 7, 1893, presents a comprehensive account of the manner in which the vast details of the creation of the Columbian exposition buildings and grounds have been ordered.

The engineers and architects found Jackson park a morass, a place to be shunned.

In two years' time they have transformed the bleak site into a dream of picturesqueness which seems almost magical, so quickly has it been accomplished, and have erected there such a number of gigantic and sturdy, yet graceful and harmonious, structures as to far surpass the housing of any other of the world's great expositions.

The manner in which drawings for the building were worked up and the methods by which construction was hastened are fully set forth.

Of wider and more general interest, however, than the professional details is a comprehensive historical sketch of the organization of the vital forces for the creation of the buildings and grounds.

The designation of the general plan of the numerous buildings, each of which must bear a relation to its fellows, and the selection of the architects to whom should be committed this hurried and most important work were matters of the greatest concern. The manner in which these problems were solved, the organization, and labors of the board of architects, the assembling of a working corps and the progress of the undertaking directed through these channels are all elaborately described in this carefully prepared article.

WHAT SHALL BE DONE

Is it Advisable to Carry Only a Small Amount of Insurance on the High School?

Interviews With Property Owners on the Subject Mostly Favor Carrying a Good Amount on It.

The Insurance Companies Have Offered to Give $150,000 for Five Years at $900 a Year.

Should the school board reduce the insurance on the High school building to a nominal amount? The insurance companies offer to insure it for $150,000 for five years at the rate of $900 a year. The following interviews with property owners were obtained by a Herald reporter, in reply to the above question:

Mayor d'Autremont—This question of insurance is one for the school board to settle. The members are better posted than I, they have good judgment, are good business men and have the good of the schools in view. I am willing to leave any interests I may have in these matters in their hands.

Fire Commissioner Hart—The members of the school board are the men who control this matter and who are responsible. I believe that they should be the ones to choose the methods and policy for disposing of the insurance question.

Frank Burke, Jr.—The board is very foolish if the buildings are not kept insured. It is proper and right that the high school should have ample protection of that kind. I do not consider it fire proof and with its laboratory there is liable to be an explosion at any time. I call it a hazardous risk.

R. A. Taussig—If the board does not carry adequate insurance on the High school building, but reduces the amount to 5 or 10 per cent of the value of the structure, as is said to be done about Feb. 1, I am sure every company doing business will cancel its policies. As an agent I should consider myself derelict to allow my companies to be represented under those circumstances. As a citizen, I consider that the board has tackled something the members don't understand. They will be held accountable by the people. In my opinion, the insurance should be raised to 80 per cent instead of reduced from the present 50 per cent.

D. G. Cash—When the district gets forty or fifty school buildings, possibly the district can afford to carry its own insurance. At present the number of buildings is not sufficient to make that a safe and wise plan. I favor keeping that High school building insured, at least until the bonds are pretty well paid off.

H. W. Pearson—If the companies had given a liberal rate, a liberal insurance would have been given by the board. We corresponded with about twenty cities in the country and found the rate too high in proportion to the protection afforded by the High school. It would be almost impossible to damage that building over $50,000. The walls are brick lined, there are ample lines of hose in the building, standpipes, an organized fire department among the High school pupils and an engine house near by.

W. M. Prindle—The amount of insurance that I understand it is proposed to carry on the High school building is ridiculously low. It's greatly imagination about the structure being fireproof. That hardwood flooring and the finishings are particularly combustible. Then there is a planing mill in the basement. The Atheneum at Chicago, a so-called fireproof structure, was recently burned to the ground. If that building should have a fire, the people could not jump on to the board hard enough. I don't believe that the members of the board run their own business in that way. That action on insurance is a short-sighted policy. The district is poor at present and if ample insurance is not carried the taxpayers will rise up and demand it.

A. T. Crossley—If that High school were the private property of the members of the board they would insure it. If it were mine, I would insure it. I believe in using the property of the district just the same as we would our own. On general principles, I see no excuse for not amply insuring the High school building.

E. C. Gridley—So far as high rates are concerned, the insurance companies in Duluth are losers up to date. I would not complain if the rate was doubled until the protection against fire is what it should be. An ample insurance would protect the school treasury and would lead all parties to see that facilities for fighting and escaping from fire were of the best at all times. That would afford increased protection to the property and to human life.

THE DULUTH & WINNIPEG.

The Attachment Proceedings Really Instigated by the Mill.

Regarding the attachment proceedings against the North Star Construction company, a St. Paul dispatch says that the $60,000 in question came not from Governor Merriam but from James J. Hill, acting through the loan and trust company. Recently the Hill faction in the Duluth & Winnipeg seem to have been outgeneraled by the Van Hornes.

The supposition is, therefore, that in order to prevent the Duluth & Winnipeg from being transferred to or merged with the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Hill instigated the attachment proceedings now in the courts at St. Paul.

James Bardon, who is a stockholder in the Duluth & Winnipeg, was asked in reference to the foregoing dispatch and said: "As far as I know that is about my understanding of the case. I think, however, there is nothing dangerous in these attachment proceedings. It is a sort of bluff, I guess, to tangle up the Duluth & Winnipeg and prevent it from dropping at once into the hands of the Canadian Pacific. My understanding of the loan is just about as it is stated in your dispatch."

CARLISLE ACCEPTS IT

The Kentucky Senator Has Agreed to Take the Portfolio of the Treasury For Cleveland.

Made the Condition He Should Get Solid Administration Support For President Four Years Hence.

McCreary Is a Candidate For Carlisle's Seat in the Senate and Other Candidates Certain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A special dispatch to the Sun from Washington says: Before leaving Washington for Kentucky Mr. Carlisle mailed Mr. Cleveland a letter accepting the secretaryship of the treasury. It is said that Mr. Carlisle accepted the portfolio on the condition that he should have the solid support of the administration in his candidacy for the presidential nomination in 1896.

Mr. Carlisle is said to have received assurances of good will from Tammany. He strongly favored Mr. Murphy for senator and urged Mr. Cleveland not to oppose the latter's candidacy.

Mr. Carlisle will have a consultation with Mr. Cleveland in New York next week.

AFTER CARLISLE'S SEAT.

Kentucky Politicians Will Now Scramble For the Senatorship.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A special dispatch to the Press from Washington says: The story going the rounds of the country that Representative Breckinridge, of Kentucky, is after the seat in the senate made vacant by Senator Carlisle does not coincide with the views expressed to the Press representative by Mr. Breckinridge.

Whether or not the Kentucky congressman will contest for the speaker'ship with Mr. Crisp in the next congress remains to be seen, but as regards the senatorial question Mr. Breckinridge has decided views.

"I am in no sense a senatorial candidate," said he, "and all talk to that effect is simply absurd. I represent my own little Kentucky district in the house and am content to remain where I am. There are a dozen or more of my friends who are in the senatorial race, and it would not be very chivalrous for me to contest with them. You can count me out."

Representative McCreary was quite outspoken on the subject of this candidacy for the senate. Said he: "I have always been a warm Cleveland man, first, last and all the time. It is too early yet to do much and it would be delicate before Senator Carlisle formally resigns. But I feel that I shall have the support of Mr. Cleveland's friends."

SLAUGHTER IN CHINA.

Nearly 2,000 Celestials Suffocated in a Fire Set by Robbers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A local paper has the following from San Francisco:

A Canton correspondent sends this account of a terrible disaster in a country town about fifteen miles from Canton, which occurred early last month, resulting in the loss of nearly 2,000 lives. A band of robbers came on the village of Kam Li. They first levied a tribute of several thousand taels on the priests of the temple. The latter had just received large offerings from the people, who were celebrating a holiday with a dramatic entertainment under a big shed temporarily erected in front of the temple. The angry robbers applied the torch to the shed, and the people in a panic rushed into the temple for refuge. The main entrance of the temple caught fire from the fierce heat of the burning shed, and over 1,000 men, women and children were either burned, smothered or trampled under foot. Most of the fatalities resulted from suffocation, as a strong wind drove the smoke into the temple.

At the time of writing the roll of missing numbered 1,940, and it may be that some of these were burned beyond recognition. The disaster is the worst that has occurred in South China for several years.

A Plucky Railroad Agent.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Jan. 14.—An attempt was made Thursday night to hold up C. E. Sawyer, agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, at Portland, Sawyer asked to finish a dispatch he was receiving, and the moment he clicked Sawyer quicker than a flash jumped to his feet and dealt the robber a heavy blow square in the mouth which felled him. Sawyer then took the revolver from him, summoned assistance and the fellow was bound and brought to this city.

Hagen and McCormick.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 14.—Darléd Hagen, the Norwegian skater, who claims the championship of Europe, and Hugh McCormick, of Canada, have been matched to skate a series of three races in this city Jan. 21, 23 and 24 at Schlitz Park. The races will be five miles each and for a stake of $1,000 a side and 75 per cent of the gate receipts. There is also to be a cash prize of $150 offered by the management, if either man beats the American five-mile record.

Murder at Menominee.

MENOMINEE, Mich., Jan. 14.—Richard's saloon on Main street, in this city, was the scene of a shooting affray Thursday evening, terminating in the fatal shooting of Wolfgang Stuber, proprietor of the Northwestern hotel here, and the arrest of H. Schöber for the crime.

Object to English Lloyds.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 14.—A committee of the Lake Carriers' association is in conference at the Russell house with representatives of the marine underwriters, trying to arrange a new system for the classification and registration of vessels for insurance purposes. The English Lloyds company are seeking to get a contract with the underwriters for the exclusive privilege of classing and registering vessels for them. The vesselmen do not want the Englishmen to come in.

NEARLY SUFFOCATED BY GAS.

A Leak in a Gas Main Almost Caused Several Deaths.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—A leak in an illuminating gas main in front of the residence of C. J. Dennis on Ferrysville avenue, Allegheny City, came near ending the lives of six members of his family yesterday morning. Their condition was discovered barely in time to save their lives.

Mr. Dennis awoke at 6 o'clock and realized the situation. Although unable to speak and barely able to crawl, he broke open a window. The cold air revived him. After opening all the windows, he visited the sleeping rooms of his wife and children and succeeded in restoring them to consciousness.

Two daughters are yet in a precarious condition and may not recover. The families of Mr. McKnight and James Duffnagle, neighbors of Dennis, were also affected but less seriously. The residences Nos. 114, 116, 118 and 119 Erin street filled up with illuminating gas from a broken street main at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, compelling the thirty occupants to hastily remove to the open air. The families of William Arnot, Mrs. Jackson and David Garner were the most seriously affected. Mrs. Jackson, her brother and one of Garner's children were completely overcome and were taken to a hospital. All will recover.

THE ROYALIST PLOTTERS.

Great Interest Taken by Spain in the French Troubles.

MADRID, Jan. 14.—The greatest anxiety is exhibited here in the trial of the Panama directors and the disclosures affecting high officials in France. Seldom have Spanish monarchists in the daily articles of their press shown so clearly their antipathy for French republicanism and their desire to see the Orleanist restoration in France.

In court and aristocratic circles, well known friends of the Orleanist cause openly say that as far back as September the Austrian and Spanish governments and court were informed of the coming assault on the republic and knew that a coalition had been agreed upon by which the Boulangerists would lead the attack, while the Orleanists would provide the necessary funds.

The aim was to bring on a crisis and to force M. Carnot to resign before the general election, when the adversaries of the republic hoped to sweep the course.

REALLY AN ASSIGNMENT.

A Detroit Firm Forced to Give a Large Mortgage.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 14.—W. H. and John M. Eberly have given a mortgage for $37,000 to the Peninsular Savings bank on several pieces of real estate and their roofing plant in the city. Two years ago Eberly Bros. became interested in the Powerlight Roofing company, a new concern having branches in Minnesota, Illinois and Texas. When the company went into the hands of receivers the Eberlys were given a confession of judgment from the Illinois branch for $31,000. An attempt to reorganize the company failed, and things came upon the Detroit firm so rapidly that the mortgage amounts to an assignment.

SHIP CANAL TO THE SEA.

A Series of Resolutions Calling Upon Congress for a Survey.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—At yesterday's session of the waterway convention, a plan of permanent organization to carry forward the work of the convention was adopted. The working power of the organization is to be located in an executive committee of five, of which the president of the organization shall be ex-officio chairman, and a board of control composed ex-officio of the present organizations in states and territories. Individuals may be members on payment of an annual fee of $2, and commercial bodies on payment of $35.

Mr. Irwin, chairman of the committee on resolutions, reported the following as the expression of the views of the convention, which were adopted:

Whereas, economy of transportation is the chief corner stone of national prosperity and the experience of the past has shown that deep waterways not only furnish the cheapest form of transportation and of the most economical method of moving goods and passengers, but also furnish the most potent regulator of railway rates; and whereas, the proposed canal between the Atlantic ocean, which channel will be available for all purposes of peace or war, and

Resolved, That this convention respectfully but earnestly requests the national congress to promptly pass house bill 283, which has already been favorably reported by the committee on railroads and canals, and which authorizes the secretary of war to lay out, survey, excavate and estimate of the cost of the various practicable routes for such waterway with a view to determining the one which is most desirable.

A committee of five was appointed to present the resolutions to congress. During the session efforts were made to secure specific endorsements of the Hennepin canal and the Ohio river and Lake Erie canal. They all met more or less opposition, which aroused the indignation of the Pittsburgh delegation, one of whom retired from the hall. Finally the following was adopted in the nature of a compromise resolution:

Resolved, That this convention, while endorsing the construction of national security, national prosperity and national honor demand the construction of a waterway not less than twenty feet deep connecting the great lakes with the sea through a deep waterway, a continuation of the deep waterway through the great lakes which has already been inaugurated.

TWENTY DEGREES BELOW.

That Was the Temperature in Duluth This Morning.

It was 20.8° below zero this morning at 7 o'clock, according to figures given out by the local signal service office. It grew only a few degrees warmer before 9 o'clock and then the mercury began to sink again. Assistant Observer Johnson says it was cold throughout the Northwest, and that there is no immediate prospect of it becoming warmer. Tonight will be fully as cold as last night. It was 25° below at Moorhead this morning, 26° below at Winnipeg and St. Vincent, and 16° above at Helena. All winds were from the northwest. They were not heavy.

A Washington dispatch says: The storm has moved southeastward from the southern Saskatchewan valley and is central this morning over southwestern Missouri. This storm has been attended by light snow in the Missouri, middle Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys. The area of high barometer central Friday morning over Northwestern Arkansas has advanced to the South Atlantic coast, carrying the line of freezing weather to the central part of the Florida peninsula.

This morning the temperature was 54 degrees below zero at White River, Ont.; it was 20 degrees to 30 degrees below zero over the greater part of Minnesota and central Wisconsin, and the line of zero temperature reached central Ohio. At Washington, D. C., the minimum temperature was 5° below zero, the lowest recorded since Jan. 1, 1881, when a reading of 14 degrees below was recorded.

THE EASTERN STAR.

Annual Installation of Officers By the Duluth Ladies.

The ladies of the order of the Eastern Star held their annual installation of officers last evening at the Masonic Temple, Mrs. Taylor, the worthy grand matron of Minnesota, being the installing officer. The officers installed were: Mrs. T. W. Hugo, W. M.; G. T. Johns, W. P.; Mrs. F. D. Day, A. M.; Mrs. N. A. Gearhart, secretary; Mrs. J. C. Misher, treasurer; Mrs. H. Van Brunt, Cond.; Mrs. B. F. Hough, assistant Cond.; Mrs. Ford, chaplain; Mrs. M. J. Davis, marshal; Miss Addie Van Brunt, Adah; Miss Edna Ash, Ruth; Mrs. W. B. Patten, Esther; Mrs. G. T. Johns, Martha; Miss Mary Carey, Electa; Miss Agnes Cooley, warder; Miss Mable Smith, organist; Henry Van Brunt, sentinel.

Methodist Social.
The parlors of the new First Methodist church were formally opened for use last evening. Three or four hundred people were present and with refreshments, a musical and literary program, and social intercourse, a most pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Miss Zella Hurd, a popular and cultured elocutionist, most popular with a Duluth audience, rendered several selections. Mrs. Thwing pleased all so much with De Koven's "O Promise Me," that an encore was demanded and given. Signor Sala with the piano and Sydney Brown with the violin gave some music that more than satisfied their hearers.

Election Blanks.
City Clerk Burke yesterday received notice from the state auditor that blanks would not be furnished for the municipal election. This was indeed a surprise and one given at a very late day, for the state has in the past always provided everything in that line. Arrangements were at once made with a local printing company to get out registration blanks and polling lists. The former will be required Monday and a promise of them has been made for Monday noon.

TWO LIVES WERE LOST

H. J. Baudry and E. C. Preston, Two Railroad Men, Perished in the St. Louis Hotel Fire Yesterday.

Preston Might Have Saved Himself, Had He Promptly Responded to Chester D. Wright's Call.

Mr. Wright Talked With Him in the Dense Smoke and He Said He Was Safe.

Two lives are known now to have been lost in the burning of the Hotel St. Louis yesterday. They were H. J. Baudry and E. C. Preston, of Marquette. They were baggage men and brakemen respectively of the passenger train that came up from Marquette during Thursday night, arriving here Friday morning. Baudry and Preston retired together after taking breakfast at the hotel. It was feared all day yesterday by all who knew that they had taken a room at the hotel that they might have been sacrificed in the flames, but not until they failed to report for duty last night when the time arrived for their train to pull out was the horrible truth fully realized. They were burned to death, after first being suffocated.

Preston was 26 years of age. His parents live at Macomb, in Lower Michigan. His young wife lives at Marquette. Baudry was 21 years of age and unmarried.

Chester D. Wright, of Gill & Wright, tells a story in connection with the loss of these lives that shows that Preston was awake and conscious of his danger before being suffocated and burned. Mr. Wright told of heroic service in aiding the bewildered occupants to escape. He was on the floor where these men roomed, and had just succeeded getting a large man named Bondy to the first escape and out of the burning building when he went back to see if there was possibly one more person in the building. He called out repeatedly:

"Here's the fire escape. This way to the fire escape."

"All right," came a voice from way down the hallway.

Mr. Wright then started in the direction from whence came the voice. The hall was filled with thick smoke. It was impossible to stand in it. He crawled along the floor on his hands and knees, with his face close to the floor. After proceeding some distance, he called out again:

"This way to the fire escape. Hurry up. Are you all right?"

The answer came back very calmly, Mr. Wright says: "Yes, I'm all right, in just a minute."

"What's your name?" called Mr. Wright.

"Preston," was the answer. Mr. Wright thought it was "Parsons" until it was announced this morning that a man named Preston had been lost. By this time it became very evident to Mr. Wright that he must make his way to the fire escape if he would save himself. He reached it in safety and climbed down. He says the voice seemed quite a distance down the hall way, but was remarkably cool. Had Preston given him the least encouragement that he was not all right Mr. Wright is sure he could have saved him. Wright dared not proceed too far down the hall without having some incentive for if once he lost his moorings in that dense smoke, all would be over with him.

Contrary to the apparent coolness of Preston, he says the man, Bondy, was directly the other way. He seemed dazed and was unwilling to try and effect his escape. Every time Wright would call him to come toward him he would reply: "I can't, I can't." "For God's sake, man, make one more effort," cried Wright, and he finally got him to the fire escape down which he passed in safety.

Great clouds of smoke and steam still roll up from the ruins of the hotel. There yet remains considerable fire down beneath the coating of solid ice that has been formed over the debris. Several streams of water are kept constantly playing upon the ruins. Not until the fire is put out entirely can any attempt be made to recover the remains of the dead men. It may then be impossible to prosecute a search for the debris of the one seen to be frozen into one solid mass. It was 12 degrees below zero when the fire broke out, and it has not become any milder since. It was twenty degrees below this morning. The fire destroyed everything combustible about the building, and unless the bodies were measurably protected by the falling brick walls not a vestige of them will probably ever be found.

The help of the hotel lost all their personal effects. Some of them are left quite destitute, having nothing left but the clothing worn at the time the fire broke out. Many of them are in need of assistance at once. Arrangements have been made to receive old clothing, cash, or other contributions for them at the Spaulding.

F. W. Tensdale, general passenger agent of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road, arrived here this morning to view the debris of the hotel fire and assist in making arrangements for opening an office. This was done early, and by 10 o'clock the Omaha general freight and ticket offices were ready for business in the same room of the Spaulding with the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway company. The ticket cases from the Union depot were brought up. A new outfit will be obtained as soon as possible.

Alex. Michaud, of Butchart & Michaud, was kept busy yesterday writing out checks for the help of the hotel that had wages due them. He has opened his books at 507 Chamber of Commerce building where he will remain until a location is secured for opening a new hotel, or until the business of the old firm is settled.

A subscription list for the help left destitute by the fire was started Friday evening in the lobby of the Spaulding by ex-Lieutenant Governor C. A. Gilman, and in a short time nearly $300 was raised. The amount was considerably increased by new subscriptions today.

SUPERIOR'S GOOD AID.

The Great Run Made By the Firemen From Wisconsin.

Much satisfaction is felt in the city by the prompt manner in which the West Superior department volunteered assistance and bravely hazarded a trip across the ice with an engine and hose cart. The landing was made on Rice's Point and the run made up Garfield avenue. It was from the time the engine pulled up to duty. Twelve men, including the assistant chief, made up the party, sickness preventing the chief's attendance.

Mayor d'Auremont has been advising with different aldermen and it is likely that $250 will be presented to the fire ladders across the bay as a slight appreciation of their promptness in volunteering assistance and the good work they put in fighting the flames.

OFF TO THE GOLD MINES.

A. E. Humphreys and Party Started to Inspect the Ophir Properties Last Night.

A. E. Humphreys and Geo. H. Milligan, with their party of Chicago, Ohio and Western capitalists, returned from the iron ranges last night and after a short stay for supper, started out for the properties of the International Development company, in their own special car, return Tuesday morning.

They will arrive at Bruce station, fifty miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, this evening about 7 o'clock. They will then proceed toward the Mississippi river to the Ophir and International properties. They will return Tuesday morning. Among the experts accompanying the party are Professors Falcho and Blake, who are familiar with people in gold and silver mining circles. Professor Blake represents the Chicago capitalists and is probably the highest living scientific authority on gold-bearing properties.

Two expert reports have been recently received at the company's offices here of such a character as to create quite a little excitement at Chicago and other places where it was immediately wired to the stockholders. It is now estimated that there is enough ore in sight to cover the value of the stock, $3,000,000. The mine has been crosstuck from wall to wall, about twelve feet in depth, showing a continuous face of pay ore between forty and fifty feet wide. Shafts have also been sunk in several places a little over fifty feet deep, all of which reveal that the character of the ore is much richer as the greater depth is reached.

This, with the several hundred feet of vein already exposed, forms a basis for the estimate of value of ore in sight. The Ophir company are now considering the various makes of machinery for working the ore and will have their selections made and machinery on the ground ready to be operated by early spring. The Canadian settlers near the mine are very much excited and jubilant over what they regard as a sure forerunner of the development of their mining interests.
